FIGHT IN MARYLAND

Pre-Election Forecast Finds the Leaders of Both Parties Confident of Victory.

SOME NEWS OF OTHER STATES

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

New York, Nov. 2.—With election only a few hours away both sides are claiming victory in New York City by big majorities. Charles F. Murphy, the leader of Tammany, declares that McClellan will be elected by not less than 86,000, and the plurality may, he says, go to 125,000. Senator McCarren, who succeeded Hugh McLaughlin as leader of the Brooklyn Democracy, figures on a plurality for McClellan in that borough of 5,000, perhaps more. These are the extreme Democratic claims.

On the other hand, the managers of the fusion campaign claim they will carry Brooklyn by 40,000 for Low over McClellan and that the vote in the other four boroughs will be about a standoff.

It is not believed that Devery will cut much figure in the voting. Twenty thousand votes is the highest estimate of his strength and these will, it is believed, be drawn almost equally from Low and McClellan.

The usual reports of "colonization" on a large scale are still industriously circulated and the campaign of State Superintendent Morgan to check illegal voting which was concluded today by the summoning of several hundred witnesses to station houses to testify in regard to the cases of illegal registration, has been the most complete inquisition of the kind ever undertaken in the city.

Looking for Repeaters.

No less than 30,000 suspicious cases have been investigated out of a total registration of 628,868, and it is probable that many arrests will be made tomorrow when every polling place will be under the close scrutiny of the superintendent's deputies. With these precautions it is predicted that illegal voting will be reduced to a minimum. Tammany made its final preparations for the struggle tonight by the distribution of sinews of war to the amount of between $150,000 and $200,000 to the district leaders for election expenses.

An interesting minor feature of the situation was the declaration today by Deputy Attorney General T. C. T. Crain that the destruction of the houses of 500 voters in the fire at Coney Island yesterday, being "an act of God," could not be used as a pretext for depriving them of the right to vote.

The polls open tomorrow at 6 a. m., and close at 5 p. m. The indications are for fine weather, a heavy vote and a close finish.

LINCOLN, NEB., Nov. 2.—The last day of the campaign was spent by the chairmen of the respective parties in sending out instructions to the workers in the state. Chairman Lindsay of the Republican committee, insists that with an average vote the ticket will win by 15,000. Chairman Weber of the fusion committee had no figures to offer, but expressed confidence in the result.

Both Sides Claim Victory.

BOSTON, Nov. 2.—With good weather tomorrow the party managers all agree that there will be a heavy vote cast in Massachusetts, not only for the entire state ticket, but for minor offices and members of the legislature.

The Republicans are confident, while the Democrats are hopeful.

Col. M. Edward McSweeney, the campaign manager of William A. Gaston, leader of the Democratic ticket, said today: "We are perfectly satisfied. The voters will tell our story."

Maj. Thomas Talbot, chairman of the Republican state committee, said of the prospects of Republican success: "Issues have passed away, but the people of this state can be depended on tomorrow to recognize honesty and fidelity such as Gov. Bates has shown."

DENVER, COL., Nov. 2.—The chairmen of the political parties have been doing all in their power today to bring out their full strength in tomorrow's election of a judge of the state supreme court. Republican Chairman Fairley says Judge Campbell will be re-elected by 8,000 to 10,000 plurality.

The Democratic chairman said: "Wilson's plurality in Denver will be from 6,000 to 10,000. We expect to carry the rest of the state by a small plurality."

Use of Money Does Not Worry Republicans and They Are Confident.

SOME NEW FIGURES

FULTON HAD TO BACK DOWN

Even though the Citizens dumped large sums of money into certain districts yesterday, and despite the fact that fraud will be attempted today, the Republicans are confident of electing their entire county ticket.

The rush for money at Citizens headquarters yesterday was so great that two paymasters had to be put on duty in different parts of the building to accommodate the men who swarmed about the barrel. They were the same ones who had to be settled with in the last "reform" campaign. None of them was connected with the Republican organization and not a break in the line could be found last night. Chairman Thomas J. Ford was not the least disturbed by the tapping of a fresh barrel.

The Republican organization is not composed of the class of men who sell out. Offers of money and jobs will not change them. Today the Citizens will find from eight to ten of these loyal workers at every polling place. They all know how to fight to win.

Verner's Remarkable Prediction.

Chairman M. A. Verner of the Citizens county committee, yesterday indulged in some more figures. He carries the county by 12,696, but no one takes him seriously on this estimate. One statement, however, is startling. He predicts that the first four Pittsburgh wards will give the fusion ticket a majority of 1,500. It would require the grossest sort of fraud to make good this claim, as these facts will show:

Voting population	1,643
Combined vote in February for Haymaker and Hays	1,604

It will be seen that in February almost every vote was cast. It would require an enormous amount of illegal work to swell the poll to a sufficient point to give 1,500 majority. Verner probably did not know the voting capacity of these wards when he made this calculation.

The Citizens will carry the First ward, but if the number of fraudulent voters can be held down the majority will not be over 50. In one little hotel 80 voters are registered. By actual count there are 17. One man is registered five times. Alderman S. J. Toole said last night that tax receipts were being distributed like hand bills. They are dated October 4, 1903. Toole has evidence that they were illegally issued and the man who attempts to vote them today will have to prove certain things or go to the workhouse. A Citizens worker last night gave out 27 in one boarding house. The men receiving them had never given an order for them.

Greeks Will Be Watched.

The Citizens expect to vote a large number of Greeks in the First ward. They may discover considerable trouble in this. Alderman Toole is prepared to look after all attempts at fraud and has a band of men back of him that will not be bluffed. The Second and Fourth wards will no doubt be carried by the Citizens, but their combined majorities will not be large. The Third ward will return a small Republican majority.

Another amusing statement of Verner's is the prediction of 2,500 majority for the Citizens in the Fifth, Seventh, Eighth, Eleventh and Thirteenth wards. In the February fight this territory was raked from one end to the other for votes. The majority for Hays was 1,111. To come up to Verner's estimate, 1,389 votes must be put on top of Hays' majority. The Republicans are satisfied that the Eleventh and Thirteenth wards will be carried by them with an excellent chance for victory in the Seventh and Eighth. The Citizens will have a lead of about 250 in the Fifth. Verner gives no other ward figures, but

INDIAN BATTLE

BODIES BROUGHT IN

MORE TROUBLE IS EXPECTED

Cheyenne, Wyo., Nov. 2.—A late report from Lusk says that a battle occurred this morning between a large body of Indians, including the survivors of the first battle, and a posse from that place near the Horseshoe ranch. Nine Indians were killed, 10 captured and the remainder fled in the direction of the reservation.

The Indians at Rosebud are excited and are reported to be leaving for Wyoming. Other hunting bands, incited by couriers, may cause trouble. Posses are out in all the neighboring towns and the ranch men are prepared for trouble.

Great excitement prevails throughout the threatened district. A posse arrived in Newcastle from the first battlefield this morning with 16 wounded and five unhurt prisoners, also 20 captured horses. The bodies of Sheriff Miller and Deputy Faulkenburg, slain in the first fight, were brought in by Deputies Hackney and Davis in advance.

The posse came on the Indians under Eagle Feather and Black Kettle at nightfall Saturday near Beaver Dam, on Lightning creek. Eagle Feather refused to surrender and Black Kettle opened fire, wounding Sheriff Miller, high in the thigh, inflicting an injury from which he died to death in an hour with the words, "Tell my wife and babies" on his lips. Black Kettle was shot down and a general fight ensued, continuing after dark.

Indians Are Routed.

Faulkenburg was struck in the neck, the bullet almost severing his head. At the end of an hour Eagle Feather was shot through both legs and the Indians broke. Five were captured unhurt, ten were wounded and six killed. About half a dozen escaped. Eagle Feather and the others lay on the ground all night and were started for jail in the morning.

Immediately on receipt of the news John Owen, the great Indian fighter, and a posse of cowboys left Newcastle in pursuit of the retreat of the fugitives to the reservation. Posses left Lusk in [illegible] places. Excitement is high in N[illegible] and there is danger that the [illegible] loads of squaws caught a few [illegible] will meet with violence.

Eagle Feather is a graduate [illegible] Hale and member of the football [illegible] He is very intelligent but trouble[some]. He sent word to Sheriff Miller a few [days] ago that he would not surrender [if] tacked.

Black Kettle is the noted warrior [illegible] a bad man. Sheriff Miller is the [first] Central Wyoming sheriff murdered in [many] years. Ricker of Nation county [was] killed by Charles Woodward, and Hi[ram] of Converse county was killed by the robbers. Miller leaves a widow and two children. Faulkenburg is a celebrated wolf trapper.

Washington is Notified.

The situation involves legal complications. The killing of Miller and Faulkenburg was in the First judicial district. The second battle was in the Second judicial district, the fugitives heading for Nebraska.

Governor Chatterton, in a communication to the commissioner of Indian affairs Washington, requests that all Indians be ordered to return to their reservations at once. The commissioner was not aware of the trouble and is investigating. The governor requests the return of the murderers to Wyoming.

A message from the agent at Rosebud says that he is using every effort to prevent other Indians from leaving the reservation. A later message from Douglas says four Indians were killed in the first battle and three more were wounded. The dead were buried on the field and the wounded and the prisoners were taken to Lusk. Among the wounded is one squaw. The Douglas posse is still on the trail of the fugitives.

FARMER MURDERS HIS TWO BROTHERS IN FATHER'S HOME

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

Pottsville, Pa., Nov. 2.—A double tragedy was committed this evening on the farm of L. W. Weisenger at Fairview, about two miles south of this city. His sons, Frederick and Louis Weisenger, were shot in cold blood by their older brother, Benjamin, who is in jail here. The bloody deed was committed with a Winchester rifle, which he secured in the house of his father. Frederick and Benjamin were at work in the barn when they got into an altercation about the cleaning of a horse, which the former wanted to drive out. Benjamin persisted that he should not take the animal out of the stall without cleaning, and to enforce his demands drew a revolver and fired four shots at his brother at close range, the trigger having caught on the fifth shot. None of the bullets took effect. Frederick fled and sought refuge in the house of his father about 200 yards away.

Benjamin pursued him closely and both reached the door at almost the same time. Frederick, however, succeeded in escaping from his infuriated brother by seeking refuge in the third story of the building. The other secured the Winchester and a quantity of ammunition. At the entrance to the kitchen he encountered Louis, whom he shot in the left side, the unfortunate brother dropping mortally wounded. He lived but half an hour.

After Louis was weltering in his blood, the murderer coolly stepped out upon the walk. Here he saw Frederick, who was looking out of the attic window. Without a word he raised the rifle and fired, the bullet entering his brother's left cheek and penetrating to the brain. He was killed instantly.

Frederick's wife, who had followed him to the attic, made several attempts to pull in the body until she finally succeeded, the murderer firing several shots at her.

Finding no one else in sight and fearing the result of his bloody work, Benjamin armed himself with a gun and several revolvers, with plenty of ammunition and then took his station behind the basement door window in the barn where he defied arrest. The news of the crime soon reached Pottsville, and after warrants had been sworn against the murderer before Justice Conrad, Constables Yedinsky and Jenkins repaired to the scene of the crime.

After holding the sheriff's posse and the constables in check for several hours, Weisinger was captured tonight by a very clever ruse. Sheriff Shilth arranged that Messrs. Wertz and Lovett, the farm hands, who had been entrusted by the murderer to work about the stable earlier in the evening, should carry his supper in to him and then there would be a rush of the posse when the men would signal that they had seized the desperate man. This was carried out and Weisinger did not discover the trick until the men grasped his rifle and yelled for help.

The sheriff and his men then broke in, and in the tussle the weapon was discharged, the bullet grazing the face of Deputy Henry Ruppert. Weisinger fought like a tiger and even when disarmed, tossed the policemen about. He was finally overpowered and his hands and feet tied, and he was brought to Pottsville by a circuitous route secretly, for fear that an attempt would be made to lynch him. He was lodged safely in jail and will not be given a hearing until after the funeral of his victims which will be within the next three days.

As next week is a term of the criminal court, it is expected that his trial will be railroaded and justice meted out to him. Weisinger had no other words to say after he was arrested than these: "I am bewitched."

FAMILY QUARREL IS RENEWED OVER CORPSE OF SISTER

Refusal of Booth-Tucker to Allow Ballington Booth to Speak at Funeral Services Causes Further Widening of Unfortunate Breach.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

New York, Nov. 2.—From 10 o'clock this morning until 10 o'clock tonight a constant procession of men and women passed through the hall at national headquarters of the Salvation Army in West Fourteenth street, where the body of Consul Mrs. Booth-Tucker was lying in state. Many who visited the hall came in carriages, but the greater portion of the crowd was composed of workingmen and soldiers of the Salvation Army. Over the coffin a large American flag had been placed as a canopy.

The body will remain in state until 11 o'clock tomorrow forenoon, when the hall will be closed to all except immediate members of the family. At 1:45 o'clock a cortege of 3,000 Salvationists will follow the body to the Grand Central station, where a special train will proceed to Woodlawn cemetery for the burial service.

The unpleasant controversy which started at the Carnegie hall service Sunday when Ballington Booth was denied the privilege of speaking at his sister's funeral or of having a private family service before the public service was continued today.

Col. Higgins, representative of Commander Booth-Tucker and the Salvation Army, stated that Ballington Booth was denied the privilege of speaking at the funeral because it was understood that he had intended to explain why he left the Salvation Army and organized the Volunteers of America and in a general way to revive the old family feud.

Col. James Morrill, representative of Ballington Booth, and his brother Herbert and his wife had merely requested the privilege of a family gathering at Carnegie hall before the public service and that neither had intended to introduce any controversial matter on that occasion.

George Ballington Booth, later received a letter from Col. Higgins of the Salvation Army in explanation thereof, together with an invitation to view the remains privately at the Salvation Army national headquarters today. In reply the National Secretary of Volunteers of America forward a leter to Col. Higgins which is as follows:

Four letter to Gen. Ballington Booth has been received, in which you say that if he wishes to privately view the body of his sister today (Monday) you will exclude the public from the lying-in-state, as his doing so was "impossible" at Carnegie. After the inconsiderate and indifferent way in which Gen. Ballington Booth was treated at the Carnegie Music hall, it would not be wise for him to subject himself to further misunderstanding. During the three-quarters of an hour he waited there it would have been quite possible for you to have acceded to his, as also Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Booth's, request for a family gathering. He was at the hall with the understanding that you had been fully consulted, as also Commander Booth-Tucker and Miss Eva Booth. His request was one perfectly natural to any brother—simply to pray with the members of the family for a brief time around the coffin. He came purely in the spirit of sympathy, and unofficially, as also did Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Booth.

It was furthest from their thoughts to allude to any difference between the movements, and they felt that when the public was being allowed to participate in the obsequies of their sister, they, as members of the family, had some rights. He would never have gone to the Carnegie Music hall had he not been assured over the wire by your representative that his request would be respected. Ballington Booth was told in the hear-

BIG INCREASE IN P. R. R. DIVIDENDS THIS QUARTER

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 2.—The Pennsylvania Company will pay $2,527,957 more in dividends this month than it did in last May. This big increase is due to the fact that there is at present $84,261,950 more of outstanding stock than there was six months ago.

These facts developed today at a meeting of the board of directors, when the usual 3 per cent semi-annual dividend was declared, payable on and after November 30 to stockholders of record at close of business November 5. This payment will be on $288,642,850 of stock and will mean a disbursement of $8,659,285, as against $6,131,428, which was the amount of the dividend declared last May on stock worth $204,380,900. The company has been paying dividends amounting to 6 per cent annually for some time past.

The holdings of shares per capita increased from 114.61 in May, 1900, to 153.53 in November, 1901, but since that time they have fallen slightly. Last May they were 132.55 and October 1 148.20. The latest increase followed the 33 1-3 per cent allotment of stock this year and it resulted from the fact that many shareholders took their allotments promptly. CHESTER D. POTTER.

HOTTENTOTS ANNIHILATE A GERMAN GARRISON

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

BEAUFORT, WEST CAPE COLONY, Nov. 2.—It is reported here that the German garrison at Warmbad in Southwest Africa has been annihilated by the Hottentots.

CAPETOWN, Nov. 2.—The German consul here confirms the rumor of a native rebellion in Damanaraid, a country of Southwest Africa, forming a part of the German possessions there. A German non-commissioned officer commanding at Warmbad has been killed and the chief of the rebels has been shot down. Other rumors to the effect that a commanding officer and another body of troops have been killed indicate a greater disaster.

WAR ONLY SOLUTION OF MACEDONIAN PROBLEM

Bulgarian Diplomatic Agent in London Says Conditions Are Deplorable.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

LONDON, Nov. 2.—M. Tzokoff, the new Belgian diplomatic agent, who has just arrived here, regards war between Turkey and Bulgaria as being practically inevitable in the coming spring. He declares there is not the slightest improvement in the situation in Macedonia, that the Austro-Russian reform scheme is futile, and that in consequence of the treatment of Bulgarians in Macedonia and the strain on the principality's resources arising from the necessity of supporting 160,000 refugees Bulgaria will be forced to have recourse to war.

Trade with Bulgaria has ceased and the European banks have stopped the credit of the Bulgarian banks, which in turn have stopped the credit of the Bulgarian people.

THE STATE'S PLURALITY AS FIGURED BY LEADERS

Chairman Penrose Says Republicans Will Pile Up 175,000 Votes.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 2.—"In my opinion the Republican plurality in the state tomorrow will range between 150,000 and 175,000, and the latter figure is probably the safest estimate."

State Chairman Boies Penrose made this prediction tonight. Insurance Commissioner Israel W. Durham agreed with Mr. Penrose. Durham said:

"The Republican plurality of Philadelphia will be about 100,000."

The weather will be a big factor. If tomorrow is as clear as today the Republican leaders say their margin will probably reach 200,000.

JAPANESE AND RUSSIAN BLUE JACKETS IN BATTLE

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

LONDON, Nov. 3.—The Tokio correspondent of the Daily Mail reports a serious affray at Chemulpo, Korea, between Russian blue jackets belonging to the gunboat Bohr and Japanese blue jackets from the cruiser Chiyoda and a number of Japanese residents of Chemulpo. Ten Japanese and several Russians were injured.

The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Daily Mail says the Russian government has decided to expel all of the Japanese living along the route of the Manchurian railroad, having discovered, it is alleged, that many of them were spies.

PIG IRON CUT TO BE CONTINUED

OUTPUT REDUCED 20 PER CENT

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 2.—Realizing that a further curtailment of their product is necessary to restore the pig iron market to its normal condition representatives of nearly all the big pig iron producers in the eastern district held a meeting here today and adopted a resolution to continue the same ratio of reduction for November as during October.

This means that all the merchant blast furnaces in eastern and Southern New York, eastern Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland will reduce their output for the current month at least 20 per cent. The production for October showed that the total output of the furnaces involved had been reduced to 68,500 tons. The average monthly output is 112,000 tons.

This large reduction was caused by the action of the Lackawanna Iron & Steel company, blowing out all its furnaces in the Cornwall district in Pennsylvania, and by a restriction in the output of the Pennsylvania Steel company and the Maryland Steel company of over 25 per cent. As the Lackawanna furnaces will not resume during November it was calculated that the month's output would be reduced at least 30 per cent.

It was stated at the meeting that the surplus of iron accumulated by steel producers during the past few years was rapidly diminishing under the curtailing process.

KIDNAPED HIS CHILD FROM HER STEPMOTHER

SPRINGFIELD, O., Nov. 2.—(Special.)—Oliver Gilson, the wealthy real estate man from Pasadena, Cal., who came here in search of his 12-year-old daughter, successfully kidnaped her last night at the home of his young wife. The child was taken amidst the screams and protestations of Mrs. Gilson and conveyed to the Arcade hotel. Gilson says he married Miss Florence McGuire, a young insurance agent in California last August and because he would not deed over his property to her she deserted him and returned here with his child.

Lindsey yesterday, on charges of conspiracy and with seeking to obtain naturalization papers by false representation. The Italians, it is alleged by using assumed names, tried to take out final citizens papers. In default of $1,000 bail they were committed to jail.

REPUBLICANS EXPECT BIG VICTORY IN OHIO

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 2.—On the eve of the election the estimates of the two parties continue to represent the two extremes. The Democrats give no figures on the state ticket and claim only a bare majority in the legislature, while the Republicans claim a larger plurality with a single exception than ever before on the state ticket and almost twice as large a majority in the legislature than ever before.

In the event of a close contest, no definite result would be known tomorrow night, but such conditions are not now expected. The vote will be compared with that of last year, when the Republicans carried the state by over 90,000 plurality. At that time the Rev. H. S. Bigelow, of Cincinnati, recognized as the representative of the Johnson element in his party was defeated for secretary of state by Louis C. Laylin.

The Republicans claim that Johnson Johnson will be defeated for governor by a larger plurality than was his representative last year, and they have even gone so far as to say that anything less than a plurality of 100,000 under existing conditions would not be considered a Republican victory. On all of these calculations Republicans have been expecting the total vote to be no less than 900,000.

It has been raining all day today in most of the state and rain is predicted for Ohio again tomorrow.

Charles Salen, chairman of the Democratic state executive committee, and Mayor Tom L. Johnson's campaign manager, tonight conceded the election of Myron Herrick, Republican. He claims that John H. Clarke will have a majority of two in the legislature and will therefore defeat Hanna.

THE SMALLPOX RECORD.

Four Deaths in Pittsburgh and One in Allegheny—One Very Bad Case.

Four deaths occurred from smallpox in Pittsburgh yesterday. The patients were: Martha Bostick, colored, 28 years old, of McKee place and Bates street, ill 12 days; Walter Irwin, 25 years old, of 9 Arch street, ill eight days; John Vasey, 28 years old, of 161 Forty-fourth street, ill eight days; Henry Jackson, 36 years old, of 616 Gazzam street, ill eight days.

Carmini Aiello, an Italian, 18 years old, walked into the bureau of health offices yesterday and asked to be sent to a hospital. It was seen he had the smallpox and all efforts to learn where he lived were futile. He said he came from the country, and pretending he could not understand English, said he did not know the name of the town. Chief Sanitary Officer Shannon detailed six quarantine guards to learn something about the man and they finally found that while he is but 18 years old, he had been working in the bureau of highways and sewers for six months and lives at No. 9 Wheeler street. He had been sick there for four days, and as there are 36 boarders in the house, going in and out, it is presumed that they have already spread the infection in the neighborhood. A rigid quarantine was placed on the premises.

The other smallpox cases found yesterday were: Frank Mertz of No. 2108½ Wylie avenue, Alfred Peaks of No. 3905 Penn avenue and Robert Rafferty of No. 2924 Penn avenue.

The Allegheny bureau of health yesterday reported one death from smallpox, that of Josephine Weisenea, aged 4 years, of No. 12 Elbow street. The bureau also reported that no new cases had developed in the city and that there are now 37 cases under treatment, 21 in the municipal hospital and 16 quarantined on the outside.

SHARPSBURG MAN MISSING.

Put on New Clothes Saturday Night and Left Old Ones on River Bank.

August McCloskey of Butler street, Sharpsburg, disappeared from his home Saturday night, and no trace has been found of him since. The matter was reported to the police last night by his wife.

Mrs. McCloskey said her husband left her early Saturday night, saying that he was going out to purchase a suit of clothes. Captain Welsh found that McCloskey had left his old clothes on the bank of the Allegheny river. The woman has four children and is without support.

These concerts have been arranged: For December 22, Baltimore; December 23, Washington, D. C.; December 24, Charleston, W. Va.; December 25, Cincinnati; December 28, Louisville; December 28, Indianapolis; December 29, Columbus; December 30, Cleveland; December 31, Youngstown. Although final arrangements have not been made, it is expected a concert will also be given in Pittsburgh, where the club will disband.

PURDUE COLLEGE PLANS MEMORIAL

CITIZENS GIVE ASSISTANCE

Several Substantial Contributions Have Already Been Received—Four of the Injured Are in Critical Condition—W. R. Butler of Pittsburgh Will Recover.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

LAFAYETTE, IND., Nov. 2.—Students at Purdue university and the citizens of Lafayette have started a movement to erect a fitting monument to preserve the memory of the Purdue football players who met their death in the wreck on the Big Four road in Indianapolis Saturday.

A handsome gymnasium has been suggested by the citizens of Lafayette and by prominent people throughout Indiana as being the most suitable and desirable memorial that could be erected to the members of the athletic association. Purdue has long been in need of a modern gymnasium in which to develop its athletes. The building would be one that could be used by the baseball, football and track athletes.

The $8,000 worth of tickets purchased Saturday will be applied to the building, and large gifts have already been received from prominent Lafayette citizens. L. M. Grant was today elected temporary manager of the Purdue Athletic association to take the place of Manager Leslie, who was seriously injured in the wreck.

INDIANOLIS, IND., Nov. 2.—Four of the 34 injured lying in the hospitals as the result of the Big Four wreck Saturday morning are in a critical condition today. They are John C. Taylor of Lafayette, Hendricks Johnson of Evansville, H. C. Wright of Pendleton, Ind., and L. G. Smith of Lafayette.

Of the others who were hurt, W. R. Butler of Pittsburgh will probably recover though his skull is fractured. A. L. Helter of Oberlin, O., and Sim Miller of Ninevah, Ind., are slightly better, though in a serious condition. C. O. Tangeman of Cincinnati and Joseph Knapp of Evansville are improving though not out of danger.

The 16th dead body was shipped away today. Official investigation as to the cause of the wreck are being made by Coroner Fatsweiler and the Big Four officials.

After an official investigation by the Big Four officials into the cause of the wreck Saturday morning which lasted until late tonight, Gen. Supt. Van Winkle of the company said the crew in charge of the football special was responsible for the wreck because they failed to exercise the required precaution. "All switching crews in the yards," said he, "are given right of way and are not required to watch for specials. The collision was between a special passenger train and a switch engine with coal cars."

Mr. Van Winkle said the engineer, W. H. Schumacher, of the special was to blame because he did not have his train under control. He said all engineers of passenger trains should run inside city limits with their trains under control in case they find switching engines ahead and in this case the engineer was running 25 miles an hour with a heavy train and a light engine which did not have control of the train, and it was impossible to stop in time.

BAG OF GOLD TOSSED OVERBOARD BY A BOY

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Thirteen fishermen sat on the Barge office pier for an hour this afternoon frantically whipping the water in an effort to land by hook or crook a bag containing $6,000 in gold which had fallen over the side. Twelve of them brought up from the muck a rare collection of old shoes and tin cans, but the thirteenth, who was armed with a cotton hook on a light of rope, brought the treasure up. The 12 received the thanks of the banker who owned the gold. The thirteenth, George Pinkerton, received as his reward a $20 gold piece.

The presence of the gold at the bottom of the river was due, strange to relate, to a reform policeman's surprise at seeing so much coming his way. A 16-year old messenger for the banking firm of Hartfield & Co., of No. 29 Wall street, had carelessly tossed the bag of gold from the deck of the Ellis Island ferryboat to Policeman Meier, who was on the pier to escort the lad to his employer's office. Either the policeman's reach was too short or the messenger's aim was bad, but anyway the $6,000 disappeared in a trice, leaving only a trail of bubles and a loud "chug" to indicate what had happened.

AN EARTHQUAKE KILLS 350 PERSONS IN PERSIA

LONDON, Nov. 3.—A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Simla, says terrible earthquakes have occurred at Turshiz, near Torbati-Haidari, in Persia, in which 350 persons were killed and numbers were injured. One hundred and eighty-four carpet factories were destroyed and only 32 stalls were left standing in the great bazar. The entire town was practically demolished.

ing of Mrs. Booth that his arrangements were conceded, all but that one point, and he immediately waived that wish in deference to the request of Miss Eva Booth and Commander Booth-Tucker.

In your letter of this morning you overlook the express purpose of Gen. Ballington Booth's and Mr. Herbert Booth's visit to the Carnegie Music hall. It was for a family gathering around the body, and not merely to view the remains.

We regret this deplorable exhibition of Salvation Army spirit, and we cannot advise Gen. Ballington Booth to be exposed to the probable repetition of disrespect that would be shown him were he to visit the Salvation Army's headquarters.

LONDON, Nov. 2.—There was an immense gathering of Salvationists at Congress hall, Clapton, tonight at a memorial service for Consul Booth-Tucker.

Gen. Booth, commander-in-chief of the Salvationists throughout the world and father of Mrs. Booth-Tucker, made a touching address in which he reviewed the active and effective life work of his daughter in connection with the Salvation Army. He urged that a greater devotion to the purposes of the army would be the best memorial to Mrs. Booth-Tucker.

Gen. Booth read a message from Commander Booth-Tucker, chief of the Salvation Army in the United States and also messages of condolence from all parts of the world, including a large number from prominent persons in the United States.

COURT ASKED TO ADVANCE NORTHERN SECURITIES CASE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—(Special.)—Advancement of the hearing of the case of the state of Minnesota against the Northern Securities Company was sought today in the United States supreme court by Assistant Attorney General Somerby, who filed a motion asking that the case be heard on December 15, the day following the hearing in the case of the United States against the Northern Securities Company. Counsel for the defendants urge that there is no reason to advance the hearing as the cases are dissimilar. The court took the motion under advisement.

EMPLOYERS PROPOSE AMICABLE SETTLEMENT

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—(Special.)—A call was issued here today for a national convention of building contractors and building trades unions to be held in Chicago, December 10. The purpose of the proposed association is to devise means of averting strikes and lockouts, to reach amicable conclusions about wages and hours of labor and to promote the principle of arbitration when disputes arise. The call is signed by the contractors' councils of seven cities.

TWO LAKE STEAMERS RAN ASHORE IN ERIE

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

BUFFALO, Nov. 2.—In a dense fog that prevailed over Lake Erie at dusk tonight two big lake boats ran ashore on the Canadian side near Point Abino. They are the Maranta and the G. W. Watson. The former is owned by the United States Steel Corporation and has on board the largest cargo of grain ever carried by one boat between Chicago and Buffalo. The cargo approximates 280,000 bushels. The Watson is owned by J. C. Gilchrist, of Cleveland.

The fog was so dense that it was impossible to see 20 feet away from the bridge. Each could hear the other's whistle and both boats had slowed down to avoid a collision. The Watson struck the beach first and sounded a warning. It was too late to save the Maranta, however, and in a few moments she was also hard aground.

Boats were lowered and sent ashore. An officer walked to Ridgeway and telephoned to Buffalo for assistance. He reported that the lake was calm and that the boats were in no immediate danger. Tugs were sent from here tonight.

CAR RAN AWAY ON THE FEDERAL STREET HILL

Car No. 239 of the Perrysville avenue line ran away shortly before 6 o'clock last night and several passengers were slightly injured. The motorman lost control of the car at the intersection of Federal street and Federal street extension. On its flight down the hill it collided with a furniture wagon owned by Bernard White, the furniture dealer, and the driver of the wagon, E. C. Kreppe, was thrown out and painfully injured. The car was stopped at Sampson street. Several who jumped from the rapidly moving car were cut and bruised.

JEWS AND SOLDIERS IN MORTAL COMBAT

BERLIN, Nov. 2.—A dispatch to the Tageblatt from Posen says that a bloody conflict between 500 Jews and a force of Russian gendarmerie took place at Warsaw Saturday, during the enlisting of recruits. The wounded on both sides numbered over 40 persons. Several of them sustaining mortal injury.

ELECTIONS IN MANY STATES

close of the state campaign was announced on Saturday night, dispatches received from the various counties show that the campaign workers did not relax their efforts until tonight. At the respective party headquarters the day was spent by the party leaders sending out final instructions to ward, precinct and county executives, among whom there was a distribution of the customary "campaign expenses" to be used tomorrow. It was a notable circumstance that both sides announced that they had "enough money for practical purposes." It is agreed on all sides that the closing contest has been one of the most stubbornly fought campaigns in the history of Maryland. The predominant feeling with voters and leaders is that the struggle is not merely of state importance, but that it is to have a bearing on the national contest next year. The respective leaders continue to declare their confidence in tomorrow's result.

LOUISVILLE, KY., Nov. 2.—The Democrats claim the state for Beckham by a majority of 20,000, and to this they add 5,000, which they expect the city of Louisville and Jefferson county to give their ticket.

Chairman J. H. Newman of the Republican state campaign committee, says: "We are confident of the election of Col. Bulkmap and the entire Republican ticket. We have received careful estimates from all the counties and without entering into details, from the estimates received, we place the majority for our ticket in round numbers at 12,000."

The Socialist and the Socialist-Labor parties have full tickets in the field, but they cut absolutely no figure. Mayor Grainger of Louisville in acknowledgment to the board of safety tonight urged the strict enforcement by the police department of the law prohibiting the carrying of concealed deadly weapons. Those who go to the polls with concealed weapons tomorrow are liable to arrest.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 2.—The last rally of the campaign was held by the Democrats in this city tonight and it ended the liveliest campaign since 1860. The Democratic leaders expect to win by 2,000 plurality which is a loss of 5,000 from last year's victory, while the Republicans express their belief that Colt will win by from 500 to 7,000 votes. The registration list this year embraces 82,000 names, which is the largest in the history of the state.

Some Minor Fights.

DES MOINES, IA., Nov. 2.—Everything points to a light vote throughout the state. The Republicans finished their campaign with a speech by Governor Cummins in Clinton tonight. J. E. Sullivan, the Democratic candidate, closed his fight at his home in Creston. Estimates regarding Cummins' plurality run from 35,000 by the Democrats to 60,000 by the Republicans. There are five state tickets in the field.

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 2.—Except in the cities where there mayoralty contests, it is expected a light vote will be cast in New Jersey tomorrow. Six state senators and 7 full house of assembly are to be chosen. The Democrats will have to elect all their candidates to get control of the senate and such a result is generally considered improbable.

SALT LAKE, UTAH, Nov. 2.—Both Democratic and Republican party leaders claim everything in tomorrow's election. Indications point to the heaviest vote ever polled here, with the outcome in doubt. Socialists claim their vote will show a heavy increase over previous elections.

JACKSON, MISS., Nov. 2.—The day before the general state election finds the voters apathetic. There is little or no interest in the contest as the Democratic ticket has no opposition. In the August primary nearly 90,000 votes were cast but it is doubtful if there will be 25,000 polled tomorrow.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—On the eve of election in this city, it is generally conceded that the contest for mayor between Lane, Democrat; Crocker, Republican, and Schmitz, Union Labor, will be close. There is a feeling, however, among politicians that unless the Democrats and Republicans unite to a large extent on one candidate, Schmitz, who is the present mayor, stands a good chance for re-election.

SCHOOL TEACHER DROPS DEAD THE FIRST DAY

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—(Special.)—Frank A. Burns, a teacher in public school No. 31, died suddenly in his class room this afternoon. He was about to dismiss his pupils for the day when he was stricken. He was 21 years old and it was his first day as a public school teacher. He received his appointment on Saturday.

Seven Hurt in Wabash Wreck.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 2.—While running at a high rate of speed an inbound Wabash fast freight crashed into a freight ahead in a dense fog 50 miles west of here injuring seven men, two of whom may die and killing seven carloads of stock. The caboose of the train ahead was split open and seven stockmen were buried through the debris.

CITIZENS TAP NEW BARREL

claims the city of Pittsburgh by 8,000. This is 600 to 700 more than the plurality for Hays and since then 10,000 applicants for city jobs have been disappointed.

In the Country District.

Verner carries the Sixth and Eighth districts by 1,000 each. In the Seventh he says the Republican majority of last year, 1,500, will be reduced to 600. The three country districts will give a Republican majority of at least 7,500. Verner now carries Allegheny by 3,000. Charles W. Simon is so confident that the Republicans will win over there that he yesterday wagered $1,500 on the result.

Delinquent Tax Collector Andrew Fulton yesterday offered to make a wager of $1,000 with Republican City Chairman M. G. Leslie that the Citizens would have 6,000 majority in the county. Leslie accepted and went with Fulton to a downtown bank, where he left a deposit. Fulton was to cover the money by 3 o'clock. After a consultation with John A. Staley, the delinquent tax collector decided that he would not make the wager. This is a sample of the way the Citizens are making bets. There were a number of small wagers made yesterday, but all the big bets exist only in the columns of the newspapers supporting the Bigelow machine. There was no activity at Newell's last night and the other places where wagers are usually posted.

Democratic Vote Split.

There are many Democrats who will not vote the Citizens ticket today. There is no denying the fact that Controller John R. Larkin has a large personal following. Many Democrats are content to follow his lead. His declaration that the Citizens party management is no longer worthy of the confidence or support of the people will have the effect of keeping many Democrats at home today. James A. Clark's claim that 35,000 voters will be polled by the Democrats is ridiculous.

At Democratic headquarters yesterday tax receipts were being dispensed in large numbers. Watcher's certificates were also being freely doled out. Books of them had been obtained at the commissioners' office. The names of the commissioners were put on with a rubber stamp.

Alderman C. F. Oyer of the Eleventh ward, who has been with the Citizens, yesterday made this statement:

"I am for the Republican ticket from top to bottom and will do all I can for it tomorrow. I am, like many other people, completely disgusted with the Citizens party. I suppose I will be heartily abused, but I will not mind that. When I get ready I will have a few things to reveal that will be little relished by certain people now posing in the ward as 'reformers.'"

Special Officers Named.

Special officers will be on duty today at the following places where it is anticipated that fraud will be attempted. Every man violating the law will be arrested.

Reports continue to come in about attempts to "rough" the polls in the Twenty-third ward. A new story was in circulation last night. It was to the effect that the "reformers" intend to dispense "doped" whisky. The Twenty-third ward will return a magnificent Republican majority. The — — — are going to do about it."

Republicans will receive returns tonight at the county headquarters in Smithfield street and at the city headquarters in Sixth avenue. The feminists will hold forth at Old City hall.

The American Republican club has arranged to receive all the election returns at the clubhouse, Penn avenue and fourth street, tonight. Special wires were put in yesterday for both telegraph and telephone service. Particular attention will be paid to getting news from Ohio, as the club members are more than ordinarily interested in the fight there.

The Rev. Dr. T. H. Lee, pastor of the Bethel African Methodist Episcopal church, Wylie avenue and Elm street, has been claimed by the Citizens as a supporter. Sunday he made this statement to his congregation:

"I desire to state to my congregation, and to the public that I am not in politics and never have been. Seeing my cut in a paper in this city with the inscription 'Citizens Party Leader,' beneath it, prompts me to make a statement at this time. The placing of my cut in the paper was not authorized by me and I had no knowledge of the same until I saw it there. I would further state that I am not in politics, and I defy any man to say that I am."

McClellan for President.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—(Special.)—"If George B. McClellan be elected mayor of New York I predict he will be the next Democratic nominee for the presidency," said Senator Albert J. Hopkins today.

VOTE TO EXCLUDE TWO MINISTERS

LONG STATEMENT IS ISSUED

Final Action Is Unanimous After Charges Were Heard at Three Meetings—Mr. Wilkinson Appeared in Behalf of Himself and Mr. McFall.

The membership committee of the Baptist Ministers' Conference of Pittsburgh, Allegheny and vicinity, yesterday voted unanimously in favor of excluding the Rev. C. A. McFall, formerly pastor of the Sewickley Baptist church, and the Rev. J. C. Wilkinson, pastor of the Mt. Washington Baptist church, from membership in the conference. The action decided upon is told succinctly in the following summary of the conclusion reached after an investigation if charges made:

Whereas, evidence has come into the possession of your committee seriously damaging to the characters of Revs. C. A. McFall and J. C. Wilkinson; and,

Whereas, Mr. Wilkinson, though present before your committee, failed to refute the evidence, and Mr. McFall, though notified to appear, failed to do so, or even to communicate with the committee, though notice has been in his possession fully 17 days before this action; therefore, be it

Resolved, that it is the sense of this committee that Messrs. C. A. McFall and J. C. Wilkinson should be excluded from membership in this conference, and we so recommend.

Entire Committee Signs.

This summary is signed by the Rev. J. V. Stratton (chairman), of the Fourth avenue Baptist church; the Rev. George W. Taft, Oakmont; the Rev. J. M. Patterson, New Kensington; the Rev. B. S. Woodburn, pastor of the Sandusky Street Baptist church, Allegheny; the Rev. Dr. William A. Stanton pastor of the Shady Avenue church; the Rev. Dr. J. S. Huston, pastor of the Beth-Eden Baptist church, Allegheny, and the Rev. J. A. Maxwell, McKeesport. These ministers constitute the conference membership committee.

In a statement issued by the committee after the meeting yesterday at the Fourth Avenue Baptist church, the charges made and the action of those under the allegations are gone into with considerable detail. Three meetings have been held to consider the cases, it is said. Members of the two churches over which the pastors had charge were present and two other outside members of the Baptist faith. The evidence against Messrs McFall and Wilkinson was contained in four letters. How these letters came into possession of outsiders is not fully explained. Mr. Wilkinson appeared in his own behalf and in that of Mr. McFall, and four other persons appeared in Mr. McFall's behalf.

Mr Wilkinson Not Talking.

Mr. Wilkinson when seen at his home No. 127 Bigham street, Mt. Washington last evening, was not inclined to discuss the matter although an opportunity was offered him to make a statement in his own behalf. "I suppose the ministers did what they thought was best," was all he would say as to the action taken.

As to his future plans he said: "They are for the future to decide. I preached to the largest congregation yesterday that I have since coming to Pittsburgh, a little over a year ago. Whether I shall locate is yet to be decided. My congregation has taken no action on the matter."

In regard to his relations with Mr. McFall, all he would say was: "Mr. McFall and I are friends, and when others are through kicking up this rumpus, I shall be there in the last round." He has heard recently from Mr. McFall who is now at Checotah, Indian Territory. Mr. Wilkinson said he believed Mr. McFall would return to attend the habeas corpus proceedings begun against him by his wife for the possession of their baby.

The two pastors are both from Alabama and have been friends since boyhood, attending the same school and college together and the attacks made on Mr. McFall have always been resented by Mr. Wilkinson. It is said by some that Mr. McFall is a half-breed Indian. He has threatened to return and prosecute those who have spread rumors affecting his character. He is about five years older than Mr. Wilkinson, who is but 23 years of age.

It can be stated on that authority of a deacon of the Mt. Washington Baptist church that no action has been taken or planned in regard to the church's future relations with Mr. Wilkinson. "He has been a good pastor and is well thought of," said this deacon. "Rumors of trouble have reached a few of us, but most of the congregation is ignorant of any disturbance."

SENATOR FLINN HEADS GAS AND OIL COMPANY

Operations Underground Will Be Conducted in West Virginia and Ohio.

The Freehold Oil & Gas company of Pittsburgh was incorporated at Charleston, W. Va., yesterday. The incorporators are Ex-senator William Flinn, Ralph Flinn, W. J. Wiseman and D. O. Jones all of this city. The company will develop valuable gas and oil territory in Ohio and West Virginia. Its capital is $200,000.

This is the second oil company in which Senator Flinn has become interested lately. The Columbia Oil & Gas company was formed recently to take over the interests of the American Window Glass company in Indiana.

A charter was granted at Charleston yesterday to the Schmidt Brothers Company of Pittsburgh, which proposes to do a stock commission business. Its capital is $25,000. The incorporators are E. C. Hand, G. P. Schmidt, C. L. Seibert and Robert Torrence, all of Pittsburgh, and H. F. Schmidt of Avalon.

FIREMAN'S NARROW ESCAPE.

Shocked and Fell 20 Feet from Wagon, but Will Recover.

Ralph Williams, aged 20, of No. 554 California avenue, Allegheny, a lineman of the Pittsburgh Railways Company, while at work on the platform of a repair wagon at East street and Perrysville avenue, about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, had a narrow escape from death.

He was repairing a broken trolley when his hands came in contact with a live wire. The shock threw him on his face to the street, 20 feet. He was picked up unconscious and taken to the Allegheny General hospital. His face is badly cut and bruised and he has a number of bad bruises about the body, but he will recover.

Looking for a Diamond Thief.

A diamond stud, valued at $500, was stolen from J. M. Arbola, of No. 1122 Penn avenue Saturday afternoon. The victim identified a photograph in the Police's gallery at Central station as that of the man who had jostled against him in a crowd and relieved him of the stud. The local detectives hope to arrest the man.

Arrested for Preaching a Sermon.

Charles Holley, 27 years old, of Bingham and South Tenth streets, was arrested at Smithfield street and Sixth avenue yesterday afternoon, for preaching a sermon there. It is thought he is deranged.

Below we give quotations in a series of special sales the reduced prices in which constitute as a whole the most remarkable event this store ever had the pleasure of calling attention to. This is particularly noticeable in the special sales in the Millinery Department and the China and Bric-a-Brac Department, the former now occupying the largest portion of the third floor, West Store, the latter taking to itself all of the third floor, East Store. The news of reduced prices on China, Bric-a-Brac and Cut Glass having been given yesterday afternoon we look for a large attendance in this department today. We are free to say that it is not at all probable that such underprices will again be mentioned for these wares this season, not even in the cleaning up time. The list is again given this morning, and it behooves every person interested in such wares to take advantage of the saving clause as mentioned in each of the paragraphs.

The reduced prices quoted on the Millinery are so far below what such fine Hats and Toques usually sell for as to merit immediate attention. Incidentally this will introduce you to the newly arranged department—largest in the city.

Simply because these two sections of the store are broadly featured this morning, do not conclude that they have the only unrivaled bargains. There are many more of like import.

Millinery Prices Specially Reduced.

Untrimmed Hats.

50c each for Zibeline Scratch Felt Hats that are always considered low in price at their regular quotation of $1.00. Mostly black, because that is the most popular; but there is a good selection of such colors as brown, navy, gray, etc.

$1.00 each for Untrimmed Hats of Zibeline Scratch Felt, worth $2.00. Color range same as foregoing.

Neatly Trimmed Hats.

Many of these are made on frames, and many of them are fit to grace any occasion, notably the $5.00 Hat, the former price of which was $9.00. A woman must indeed be whimsical who will not say it is the neatest and most charming hat she ever saw for the price of $5.00.

$2.50 Trimmed Hats for $1.00 each.
$3.75 Trimmed Hats for $1.50 each.
$5.00 Trimmed Hats for $2.25 each.
$6.00 Trimmed Hats for $3.50 each.
$9.00 Trimmed Hats for $5.00 each.

Trimmed Hats, 50c.

This department has a number of trimmed hats that show too much handling. Their former prices were from $2.25 up to $3.50. About 100 of them, and as the price has been put down to 50c, about enough for two or three hours' hasty selling.

P. & A. Sample Hats.

What remains of the large purchase of Phipps & Atchison Sample Hats, which created such enthusiasm last week, will be sold at these reduced prices:

$1.00 each for P. & A. $2.50 Hats.
$2.50 each for P. & A. $5.00 Hats.
$5.00 each for P. & A. $10.00 Hats.

Children's Hats.

Quite a large number of Children's Broad Brim Hats, fixed up as such hats usually are, 50c each; regular price $1.00. Another line, somewhat finer, for $1.00 each; regular price, $2.00.

Oriental Rugs for Reduced Prices.

While we sell Oriental Rugs—selected rugs from the far east—for less price than anywhere else in the Greater City, the advantage in buying here is not alone along the lines of low prices—there is that other advantage: The most complete stock, the largest variety, and the history of each rug known before it comes in to the department.

$175.00 each, reduced from $285.00—genuine Muskabad Rugs, in sizes averaging 14 ft. x 11 ft. The grounds are in red, blue, and light color effects, and the designs are both medallion and all-over.

$150.00 each, reduced from $245.00—India Punjaub Rugs, averaging in size 14 ft. x 11 feet. These rugs have blue grounds and are admirable either for dining room or library. They are the choicest specimens of the India Rug.

$25.00 each, reduced from $36.00 and $42.00, choice Persian Rugs, either Kazak or Guendji, averaging in size 8 ft. x 4 ft. There is a large collection from which to choose.

$25.00 each—reduced from $48.00—a collection of handsome Daghistan Rugs, in hearth size. These present a neat hint for the practical wedding present.

Inexpensive Walking Skirts.

We haven't said much about our Women's Ready-Made Clothing Department, second floor, for the last three or four days, because it is in the hands of the carpenters, who are putting up new cases. We ask your indulgence for a short time longer. After the improvements are finished we shall have a good deal to say. This morning attention to several numbers of inexpensive Walking Skirts.

$6.50. For this price we have two styles of Walking Skirts, one made seven-gore flare, lap seams, two tabs of broadcloth finished with two small buttons at flare; the other, Walking Skirts of brown, gray and blue men's cloth, made seven-gore flare, habit back, three straps over hip.

$10.00. Walking Skirts made of rainproof covert cloth, blue and tan, five gores, side pleated flare, trimmed with stitched bands at yoke and back.

The La Fleur Corset.

Women who like to indulge in the highest type of corset making need not be told that the La Fleur Corset is a leader among the highest grades of corsets. The model was designed by a noted French Corsetier, and French ideas were not employed exclusively. It might be called a composite corset, for it comprises the most advanced conceptions of noted French makers as well as American makers.

We accepted the exclusive agency for this corset because it is really in a class by itself. It is not an expensive corset, as we understand the term. We are ready to show all the new models, as recently brought out.

Give-Up Patterns in China—Greatly Reduced Prices.

To the uninitiated we have to say that a Give-Up pattern means a pattern that will be discontinued. It may be that we will not have the same pattern again, or it may be that the manufacturer has discontinued it. Aside from these remarkable reductions visitors today will be interested in looking over our new importations which have arrived, presenting the latest specimens in art wares both from Occident and Orient. Referring again to the Give-Up patterns it will be noted that two are in French China, sold as open stock, and one in blue English Porcelain.

This is an extra good French China, and the decorations are in delicate pink border arrangement. It is a good sign on Wall street when the market does not decline before a holiday. The market yesterday ruled firm and on most stocks a little higher, indicating the absence of that fear which causes men to hesitate about keeping property over night. Apparently the timid class are no longer holders. This does not mean a stock boom, but is an encouraging symptom that the liquidation is over.

Petroleum continues a live topic for discussion in relation to the increased price and decreased production. Unfortunately this discussion is participated in by sensation mongers who do not permit their lack of knowledge to interfere with their assumption of wisdom. The facts are plain enough. Production of high-grade oil is smaller than consumption. The price has advanced, which will induce greater efforts to maintain production, and these will have some measure of success. An oil famine will not occur this year, or next, or the year after.

Norway, Sweden and Denmark have taken kindly to the Louisiana Purchase exposition at St. Louis and have made provision to be properly represented there. The American commissioner reports that one part of their representation will be a club house for the use of Scandinavians in America who attend the exposition. There will be many of them, no doubt, for several states contain large numbers of thrifty, frugal citizens from the Scandinavian peninsula. Pennsylvania among others of the states is proud to harbor many thousands of Swedes and Norwegians.

Though the treasury statement shows a deficiency of nearly $5,000,000 for the month of October and an increase of nearly $2,000,000 in the floating debt of the country, there is no indication that the nation is hard up. Aside from reserve and trust funds there was a net cash balance at the close of business last Saturday of $78,000,000. A pretty snug sum, more than half of which is kept in the channels of trade by the device of deposits in national banks. It is in striking contrast with conditions under the last Democratic administration.

Maintenance of white supremacy in Africa is a more difficult problem than in Maryland and needs no magnifying by German oratory. An entire German army has just been annihilated in southeast Africa by Hottentots. The incident will afford a vent for the war lord's military wrath, no doubt, and if the Hottentots do not regret their work at Warmbad it will not be the fault of the kaiser. True, he cannot seize a province as he did for the death of two missionaries in China, the adjacent territory being under British dominion, but he may make the foolish Hottentots wish they had never been born.

A good move has been made by the war department in preparing a uniform law for the regulation of the militia organizations of the several states. The object is to have the militia conform to the standard of the regular army in equipment and general practice. In order to have the states pass laws that shall be uniform it is proposed that any that do not shall be debarred from participation in the appropriations made by congress for the support of the militia. Some states now have nearly adequate laws. Pennsylvania is a leader in this respect, as it is in the matter of efficiency, but there are other states which have extremely lax laws and very little enforcement of such as they have.

Telegraphic communication was well nigh paralyzed throughout Europe yesterday by magnetic disturbances attributed to the chain of sun-spots recently discussed in The Gazette by Prof. Brashear. The Paris savants were actively interested. The connection between solar storms and magnetic disturbances on the earth has been well established, but the exact manner of communication continues surrounded by much mystery. Among the properties made of the marvelous mineral radium is that of increasing the conductivity of the air within the influence of its rays. It operates so powerfully in this way as to break a telephone or telegraph circuit. Possibly this may afford a clue to the manner in which sun storms affect earth's magnetic currents, that is by the projection of mysterious rays which increase the conductivity of the atmosphere to such a degree that wires are robbed of their current. Electricity, of course, follows the lines of least resistance. Under ordinary conditions these are metal conductors, but under the influence of radium rays—and possibly under sun storm rays—the air becomes a better medium.

Sham Exposed.

In putting forth a cartoon, a leading feature of which is a lady holding a banner containing a record of the alleged achievements of the Democratic-Citizens machine, their evening organ wastes space in displaying in terms of glittering generality things claimed that have not been accomplished. All that is mentioned on the banner is mere sounding brass. Graft, instead of having been abolished, is being industriously worked. Expenses have not been reduced, but are greater than ever, and the blanket ordinance is yet on the program to be passed by councils after the election, so that the public works payroll may be padded and padded and again padded. If the contract system has been purified it has been done so quietly that no one has found it out, and it is entirely untrue that "ring abuses" have been "generally remedied." All that has been done along that line is to provide new and hungrier beneficiaries, and as for "franchises taxed," that is a mere joke. Franchises are yet to yield any revenue to reduce the burden of the people.

The Orphans, who have helped the proprietors of the Citizens organization to what they have and hold, declared long enough in advance of the election of today to have it sink deep into the minds of the people that "the leaders of the Citizens party have not only failed to keep their promises in respect to ordinances demanded by the people, but they have prevented enactments intended to reasonably tax corporations, and to that extent lift the burden from the home."

Let the people remember this as they go to the polls today. It disposes of all the sham claims blazoned in general terms on the banner referred to. The proprietors of the Citizens organization have not merely failed to keep their promises with regard to enactments, but they have prevented enactments designed to give effect to their promises. In other words, their promises have been a sham. The parade by the evening organ of the alleged achievements of the owners of the Citizens organization is also a sham, designed to help them in their effort to fool the people. They have done nothing for the people and the Orphans, who ought to know them as well as any one not party to their schemes can know them, declare belief that there is no intention to do anything, but that instead "the leaders of that once glorious Citizens party" intend after the election "to revive political methods and promote political practices upon which the seal of public condemnation has been set." Furthermore, the Orphans assert their belief that soon after the election "the ungrateful, intriguing leaders will perfect the plan of uniting the objectionable element of the Citizens party with the dregs of the 'old ring' to further selfish political motives and practices which the people have strongly denounced."

Men who have worked for reform measures as members of the Citizens organization, and who even now refuse to unite themselves with the Republican party for reform, know what they have encountered in their attempts to have promises, solemnly made to the people, kept, and they have told that these promises were not kept because ordinances to give them force were blocked by the men in control, who intend after the election to cut loose and get all there is in it for them while they can.

If the voters of Pittsburgh read the intentions of the owners of the Citizens organization in the light that is turned on by the Orphans they must conclude that the program agreed upon is to give graft full play, "lose" even the pretense of taxation of corporations that, as the Orphans say, was "literally wrung" from them; increase expenses by blanket ordinance and otherwise, place contracts where they will do the most good and revive "methods and practices upon which the seal of public condemnation has been stamped."

It is up to the people now to vote against this program.

Election Prospects.

There has been little or no campaign of oratory in Pennsylvania this year, but notwithstanding this there is confidence at Republican headquarters that there will be a large off-year vote, and that the Republican majority will be much larger than usual in an election at which no important issues, state or national, are an immediate subject of controversy. It is, however, the year before the national election, and as United States Senator Penrose, chairman of the Republican state committee, has said, the state elections of 1903 are the skirmish line of the battle of 1904. Pennsylvania Republicans are alive to this fact, and their interest has been further stimulated by the noise of conflict in Ohio and Maryland, where there is much at stake in a local way and where national issues have fanned party enthusiasm to a white heat.

National issues have been especially prominent in Ohio because of the strenuous efforts of Tom L. Johnson to "take Mark Hanna's scalp," as he declared. This made the United States senatorship the real prize to be won or lost, and the circumstance that the United States senator is the chairman of the Republican national committee gave the contest for the prize national importance. All eyes have been on Ohio and all ears have been open to the news from that quarter. Senator Hanna on the stump has not hesitated to say that his success or defeat involved indorsement or rejection of Republican national policies, and it has been generally agreed that he stated the issue as it is. As Ohio and Pennsylvania touch borders from the lake to the West Virginia Panhandle, Pennsylvanians have been interested and aroused by the contest, so that Ohio has been influential in arousing party enthusiasm in this state, thereby insuring that there will be fewer stay-at-home Pennsylvanians than usual in this off-year.

Similarly the contest in Maryland has attracted attention in Pennsylvania. In the election there the future of Senator Gorman as an aspirant for the Democratic nomination for the presidency is involved. He has raised the false issue of negro domination and has attacked President Roosevelt so virulently and so coarsely in that connection as to arouse the resentment of Pennsylvanians and determine them to swell Pennsylvania's majority by way of rebuke. Indeed, Gorman is even condemned by Democrats of his own state for raising an issue that is only a man of straw, and for his unwarranted attacks on the president. It is no wonder, therefore, that Pennsylvania Republicans are stirred and that they intend to show it in the one way that they can.

Added to the outside influences that insure a large vote for the Republican ticket is the fact that there are no Republican divisions in Pennsylvania this year. There is no such opposition as existed in campaigns previous to last year. There are no bolters. There is no opposition to the ticket organized or unorganized, and the heart has been taken out of the Democratic campaign by this fact. The reunion of factions accomplished in the nomination and election of Pennypacker not only continues, but the union is as thorough as if factionalism had never existed. The success of the Republican ticket was conceded before it was nominated, and the certainty of a large majority for it has grown brighter since the state convention. All signs indicate that the expectations of the leaders with regard to the majority will be justified.

China in Distress.

Sir Chentung Liang Cheng, Chinese ambassador at Washington, is anxious to have the United States take an active hand in loosening the Russian grip upon Manchuria. The reoccupation of Mukden by Russian troops, because the Chinese military commander there had executed a Chinaman, who served the Russians during their previous occupation, for crimes committed prior to the Russian occupation is the cause of much worry to the Chinese ambassador and his home government. This is quite natural, because it indicates how slight a pretext is necessary for the maintenance of Russian military authority over Chinese territory.

It is not possible, however, for the United States to interfere unless American rights are trampled upon. The Russian occupation of Mukden, which is one of the new treaty ports, is irritating to American sensibilities, but is no cause for active representations by this government unless it be used to interfere with American trade. The United States will insist upon having the Chinese concession respected. That concession opened Mukden to the commerce of the world. Russia understands that and is not likely to invite American interference by making any attempt to obstruct commerce, directly. It may be suspected that the real purpose of Russia in reoccupying the town is to indirectly discourage foreign commerce, but even if that suspicion could be reduced to certainty it would not be sufficient cause for the United States to warn Russia off the promises. Open disregard of American treaty rights only would justify such a step.

Japan is more willing to hunt trouble. The reoccupation of Mukden has created a sensation in the island empire and renewed the clamor for something to be done to stop the Russian advance. But even Japan cannot find in the event any direct challenge to combat. Mukden is Chinese territory, not Japanese, and if there is any fighting to be done it is up to China. If the bear should put one of his paws on Corea it would be different, but the bear carefully refrains from doing what would provoke immediate hostilities. In short, the Russian diplomacy is too clever to give direct offense to any of the powers, and it would probably be glad to have China alone fly to arms in defense of its territory, as that would afford a sufficient excuse for seizing as much of it as Russia desires.

An American Architecture.

Probably no industry in this country has had as rapid a rise as that of cement making. In 1890 the entire domestic production was less than 400,000 barrels and the imports were a little less than 2,000,000 barrels. The domestic production reached 17,000,000 barrels in 1902, while the imports for that year were slightly greater than in 1890. Where 20 years ago cement was specified for cellar floors, it is now specified as the principal material for entire structures. It is, so to speak, used as the flesh for covering steel skeletons.

This fact has led to the suggestion that Portland cement may become the structural basis of a distinctly American architecture. This idea is advanced by Walter L. Rice in an article in the "cement number" of the Western Miner and Financier of Denver. Mr. Rice adverts to the ancient ruins of Mexico and Central America and the newer Mexican architecture, which is a combination of the Spanish and Moorish, with the semi-barbaric style of the Toltecs. This style he regards as wholly artistic and thoroughly adapted to cement or concrete as the chief structural material, the two combining into a distinctive American architecture. The idea is worth considering. Undoubtedly steel skeletons covered by concrete are of the most enduring character. Such buildings are capable of withstanding fire, flood, tornado and earthquake—qualities of the highest value in various localities. To the action of the ordinary elements they are practically impervious, the concrete dome of the Parthenon at Athens affording an example of durability that can hardly be excelled anywhere.

In engineering cement has multiple uses. It is superior to cut stone for walls in some situations, and with a steel core is infinitely superior to wood for piling in marshy ground. It is even used for railroad ties. How much of its rapid rise in popularity may be due to the decrease in the timber resources of the country it would be hard to say, but it certainly comes timely to relieve the excessive demand upon our diminishing forests. It is better than wood in being fireproof and in its greater durability, though it cannot be given as handsome a polish without the addition of glazed tile.

The Orphans publicly charge the Democratic-Citizens leaders with reviving forbidden political methods and promoting political practices "upon which the seal of public condemnation has been stamped." Therefore, stamp it again today, and stamp it hard.

The outbreak of matrimony among United States Senators lines them up with the president on the question of race suicide in time to be of use in the election of 1904.

The voters of Allegheny county don't want a man in the sheriff's office who can't make up his own mind on public questions.

How can there be white supremacy in Maryland if Gorman wins, when the victory would be for the yellow streak?

Make it snow at the ballot box today, so that the owners of the Democratic-Citizens machine will be buried deep.

Of course, it is to be expected that some of the Orphans would go back to the flesh pots. No need to name them.

Dowie has given up New York, and everybody hopes that Tammany will be compelled to do the same.

Today the voters of Pittsburgh will answer the question that Mr. McCleave says Mr. Verner asked him.

Don't let the men who own the police bureaus of the two cities have the district attorney's office.

Do the work at the ballot box so well that there will be additional reason to give thanks.

Can't the difference between Canada and Algy Sartoris be referred to The Hague?

Vote the whole Republican ticket, and you will be sure that you have voted right.

Voters have made up their minds and will now vote as they think.

Tomorrow will be a great day for the man who told you so.

President Roosevelt has passed sentence on the turkey.

Begin a good work today and continue it in February.

They are glad in Ohio that it is all over but the voting.

This is the day when political predictions come true.

Now, everybody, What ARE you going to do about it?

The people are no fools; they know what they want.

The November fog doesn't conceal the issues.

Smash the ring and send it to the scrap heap.

It's up to the people to do the right thing.

These summer days will soon be past.

Tell your friends to vote early, also.

IN THE EYE OF FAME.

The Rev. Joseph Mangin of Lowell, Mass., has just celebrated his half century as a priest of the local provincial of the Oblate Order.

The Rev. John J. Glennon, archbishop of St. Louis, has started a crusade among the Catholic churches of that city and vicinity against euchre parties and festivals for the raising of church funds.

Capt. Horace Fox, a member of the famous Ringgold battery of light artillery, in the Mexican war, is about to leave St. Louis, after a residence of 40 years, to spend the remainder of his days in his native home in Franklin county, Massachusetts.

Senor Archilagas, the Colombian diplomat, is a linguist of notable attainment. He has mastered nearly all the European tongues, so far as to read them is concerned, his object being to study the literature of the various countries, but he has never learned to speak any of them with ease.

Hawaiian Appointments.

President Roosevelt has done Hawaii two good turns in his latest appointments, that of Governor Dole to succeed the late Judge Estee and that of Mr. Carter to succeed Governor Dole, says the Washington Star. Governor Dole is a man of absolute integrity, and he moreover possesses a judicial mind and has a thorough legal training. He is familiar with the insular conditions and customs, and especially does he appreciate the emphatic need of Hawaii for uprightness on its bench, which has been degraded more or less during recent years by unfortunate appointments. He will serve the territory well on the bench as in the governor's chair. Governor Carter will prove a thoroughly acceptable successor to Judge Dole, unless all signs fail. He is a known quantity. He has been tried in office and has proved his capacity. Younger than his predecessor, he is more vigorous, and physically better qualified to withstand the stress of office under the hard conditions which prevail from time to time at Honolulu. He knows Hawaii thoroughly and is in close touch both with the retiring governor and with the president. Hawaii is assured of prompt and sympathetic consideration at Washington with this link of intimate relationship established between the two capitals.

Where Responsibility Rests.

The President is right; the people themselves are responsible for the political dishonesty which flagrantly, insolently despoils them of their substance, and which seeks to control the very fountain head of the safeguards of our liberties, prosperity, and happiness—the courts of justice. If the people would reform the situation they must act—do something—not impotently rail.—Philadelphia Ledger.

GIVING IT UP.

When summer days is brollin' you is hankerin' foh snow,
An' when de winter's chilly you is pinin' foh de sun,
De rich man is complainin' 'cause he ate too much today
His life is like a riddle an' I might as well confess
I doesn't know de answer an' I isn't gwine to guess.

As long as I mus' work by day, I wants to sleep at night.
If you's got a little money you is fohced to let it go
An' when you hasn't got it de collections will be slow.
De white man runs de gov'ment an' tries to make it pay,
An I speck he's bown' to do it in his own peculiar way.
Dar ain't no good at figgerin' an' losin' of my res',
I doesn't know de answer do' I isn't gwine to guess.

The Quiet Observer.

By ERASMUS WILSON.

Once as I toiled along the world's rough road,
I longed to lift each fellow pilgrim's load.

I yearned to smooth all obstacles away,
And make the journey one glad holiday.

Now that so much of life's long path is trod,
I better know the purposes of God.

As I come nearer to the final goal,
I grasp the meaning of the Over-Soul.

This is the message as it comes to me—
Do well the task thy Maker set for thee.

Or teach him how he best may carry it.

But do not lift it wholly, lest at length

Wake thou the sleeping Angel in each heart;

Inspire the doubting soul to search and find.
Then go thy way, nor wait for those behind.

Who tries, may follow, and the goal attain;
Perpetual effort is the price of gain.

The gods make room upon the heights sublime
Only for those who have the will to climb.
—Ella Wheeler Wilcox.

Do you believe it?

Would you think a fellow mortal was wronging you as well as himself, were he to turn in and do your work for you, allowing you to galivant around and have a good time generally?

Would you consider it a great wrong for some wealthy man to give you enough money to enable you to live without working a tick if you didn't want to?

In short, do you believe that "he wrongs his brother who performs his part"?

Think a bit before you answer, or even before you formulate an opinion, for the question is not as simple as it seems. In fact it includes one of the essential elements of the great social problem which the people are called upon to solve—which they must solve that the nation may live and prosper and round out its magnificent mission.

* * * * *

There are a whole lot of people who seem to think somebody ought to do their allotted work and allow them to draw the pay and wear the honors. And these same people will allow them to do it, and thus go splurging around as though they had done it themselves. Indeed they are likely to put on more airs than if they had done it themselves.

You may know those who are rich through no effort of their own, and yet put on more airs, and seem to be more important than if they had earned every dollar they control and won every honor they boast.

And you know also that these are not regarded as practical, useful business men, and that they rarely prove themselves capable of taking care of that which they fell afoul of, or rather that fell afoul of them. The finish of their careers usually proves there was foul work going on somewhere.

It is unfortunate for any man or woman to become possessed of that which they do not deserve, as the best of us deserve but little more than what we get by honest, industrious effort. It may not be as much as we would like to have, but if it is all we deserve we ought to be contented.

As you may have observed there are a great many people who are struggling to get along without work. And, as you may have observed also, some seem to succeed very well if their prosperity may be judged from appearances, for they appear to live fat and full, are well clad and have money to spend.

How do they get it?

They may be able to tell, but they won't, no more than you would if you had a money value somewhere to which you could go and get all you needed for expenses.

An honest, fair and full autobiography of one of these would be mighty interesting reading.

Or, if one of the more successful among them were to offer to give the snap away at so much per snap, what a rush there would be, and how he would be overwhelmed with money—money honestly and hardly earned, even by men who are rated among the more prosperous.

And yet, have you ever known anyone of these to attain distinction—honorable distinction—or leave a record to which his kith or kin could point with pride? Is there a home anywhere that is brighter, or is society better, or the world any the richer for their having lived?

Is the world any richer, or society any the better for any idler having lived, or the whole lot of them from Adam down?

* * * * *

Industry does not mean slavishness, nor does honest toil suggest a dog's life.

On the contrary industry means sanity, and sanity means normal health of body as well as of mind. There are sanitary and unsanitary conditions of morals the same as of body—consequently moral infection, likewise disinfection. You may know of some cases of moral infection; and you may know how difficult it is to successfully disinfect them.

Moral infection rarely, or at least less frequently, affects the industrious than the idle, just as gout and other most undesirable physical disorders are more likely to attack those who are idle, well fed and well kept, than those who are industrious, temperate and moral.

Honest toilers, as you know, need not and do not lead dog's lives. Some there may be who do, but it is due to insanity, that is to a lack of saneness, or physical and moral health.

One of these notions is that they do not get enough pay for the amount of toil they give. This notion is apt to grow and grow until the infected toiler comes to believe that he is being cheated, robbed, and treated like a dog. As this notion spreads it tends to blind him, and to that extent reduces his usefulness, which is the measure of his value to his employer, also to himself and family.

This species of infection spreads rapidly in the camps of labor, and is more difficult to control than smallpox infection.

* * * * *

What do you know about labor anyway?

What were you taught concerning it when in school, and what was your training concerning it?

Much has been written about it, and a million times more said about it; but what do you know about it—that is, what do you know about it practically?

Were you taught and do you believe that money is the sole reward of labor?

If so, you naturally look upon toil as a curse, consequently regard yourself as accursed. A most unpleasant condition, surely! How anyone in this condition can enjoy moral health is past comprehension.

Those who understand the ethics of labor and toil and trial never feel accursed, and are therefore contented and comparatively happy. Nor are the ethics—the spirit and the truth—of these difficult to comprehend if looked at from the right side and viewed in the light of reason.

The boy who is rightly taught in school concerning labor, and rightly trained in its performance will not feel accursed when he grows up, not even if he is compelled to work, "day's work" for a living. He will be able to realize the fact that men must toil and labor to live. And he will also be able to understand how it is that each must find his own particular field, and why it is that some will be found in one field and some in another, according to their fitness for the work peculiar to the several fields.

* * * * *

The discontented toiler still has one argument left, and it is a regular brick, a sockdolager, as it were. He points to the statement set down in the Book to the effect that as a punishment for his disobedience God cursed Adam and made him go to work, and in order to give him plenty of work to do He cursed the earth, causing it to bring forth thorns an thistles and all sorts of weeds.

Admit it, and what of it?

Before this Adam was as the animals, not being conscious of his own nakedness, nor having knowledge above that of the beasts around him. The curse that fell upon him was superior knowledge, which enabled him to live intelligently and not merely instinctively, as do the brutes. With this knowledge he was able to cause corn to grow, to destroy thorns and weeds and raise articles of food in their stead.

All of which every son of Adam may do and live in comfort, or not do, and live in distress.

Would you prefer the conditions of Adam before being cursed—changed—to your present conditions?

Talked of in New York

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Weather is always an important factor in an election. That a rainy day will keep away from the polls many citizens who would vote if it were fair is a proved assertion, and the possibility of rain tomorrow is discussed generally in its bearing on the result of the election. It is an old opinion that bad weather favors Tammany. The loyalty of the Tiger followers is not to be dampened by water and mud, while the "silk stockings," popularly supposed to constitute the Fusion forces will be likely to stay indoors, trusting to the strength of their cause to achieve victory without them. That is the argument, at least. If it should be wet tomorrow then it will mean a decided advantage for Tammany hall, while "Big Bill" will also have less opposition to face. So erratic are weather conditions of late that it is by no means certain that it will be fair, but so enthusiastic are the majority of decent citizens for a continuance of reform in the municipal government that the Fusion managers believe even rainy weather will not injure Low's cause to any marked extent. All the same, it is a self-evident fact that Tammany adherents are hoping for rain for the election, while the Fusionists are praying earnestly that the day may be as beautiful as has every day for the last two weeks. A fair day will mean a fight on its merits and that is what Father Knickerbocker, as the representative of all Greater New York, would like to see.

Old Coney Comes Up Smiling.

If there is any place on the face of the earth with the irrepressible instinct phenomenally developed it is Coney Island. There was a fire there yesterday—a little matter of 400 buildings annihilated. The money loss is placed at about $250,000. Is the average Coney Islander disheartened? Not a bit of it. He has collectively cleared away most of the debris and before next Sunday there will be shanties in existence in which all the entertainments of last Sunday before the fire were to be enjoyed. Neither flood, fire, wind or the Raines law can disturb Old Coney seriously.

Fate of a Devery Partisan.

A Harlem man was so enthusiastic over the candidacy of W. S. Devery for the mayoralty of Greater New York that he went out of his mind. He smashed the furniture in his apartments, drove his wife and children into the street and made a stump speech from the top of his dining room table until a policeman appeared and adjourned the meeting. The man is in Bellevue. The doctors are wondering whether their patient has assimilated a Devery "bug."

Brutal Instincts Manifested.

When there was a serious fire with much loss of life in Paris a few years ago much edifying was expressed in this country because men fought their way to safety and trampled women and children on their way out. There was a panic in an "L" train on a bridge over the Harlem river this morning. One car was leaning against a guard rail and might have fallen into the river had the railing broke. Did the men in the car try to get the women and children out first? Indeed they did not. They ramped and tore, and thrust fainting women and terrified little ones aside, in the determination to save their own precious carcases, and only the fact that the car did not fall prevented a tale of death in which would have been very few masculine victims. It does not look as if New Yorkers have any license to be disgusted with Parisians on the score of cowardly selfishness, after all, judging by the proceedings of this morning.

Eagles Afflicted With Swelled Heads.

Eagles in the menagerie in Central park are suffering from swelled head. It is not the same kind of complaint that affects actors and similar folk, but the true scientific megalomania, which often ends in death. It is thought by the keepers that the eagles have been affected by the north wind and their cages are to be made airtight on the side exposed to the dangerous breezes. It is feared that it may be necessary to kill the birds affected to save the rest. Swelled head is catching among birds just as it is with human beings.

Sothern Opens the New Lyceum.

The fourth new theater in New York to open this season threw its doors wide this evening. It is the new Lyceum in West Forty-fifth street, just off Broadway at Longacre Square. E. H. Sothern in "The Proud Prince," was the attraction. There was a large audience and everyone is praising the beauty and comfort of the house. Although other theaters have been promised for this winter, including one on Broadway, between Thirty-ninth and Fortieth streets, it is believed the Lyceum completes the tale at present. There is much discussion of the question whether there are not too many theaters already, in view of the period of poor business which has set in and theatre builders may hold their hands until they see how the question is to be answered.

An Ante-Election Supposition.

If it is true that there have been 18,500 illegal registrations in Greater New York it is reasonable to suppose that there will be a great many "floaters" besieging the polls tomorrow. The department of elections is on the qui vive and there will be every possible precaution to find the "floaters" and put them in prison before they have an opportunity of doing mischief. It is expected that many repeaters will do their foil work, but whether they will be as large a factor as might have been the case if less vigilance had been employed is a question generally answered in the negative.

Speculation About Blanche Chessbrough.

Now that Blanche Chessbrough has departed from New York it is the conviction of the gossips here that she is on her way to Sioux Falls to become the bride of the attorney with whom her name has been associated since she returned to New York. It is really not the public's business what she means to do, but it is impossible to keep the general tongue still, and her only refuge must be found in a new name.

Sermons Didn't Suit Tammany.

In spite of the rebuke Dr. Abbott administered to clergymen who mix politics with religion it is notable that several prominent ministers in this city yesterday had something to say about the election. The Fusion party did not mind it, because nearly all the ministerial opinions were that it would be well for Low to succeed himself, but Tammany is boiling over with indignation against the pulpit.

Boys Will Be in Clover.

Boys are busy getting material for the bonfires which will be used tomorrow night. It matters nothing to the boys which side gets on top so long as there is an opportunity for celebrating, and there will be a big time tomorrow unless the police interfere. Boxes and barrels are already piled in vacant lots, and there will be a harrowing time for the fire department. Conservative citizens are afraid, but conservative citizens are not considered on an election night.

Republican Tricks.

Six million dollars of the public debt have been paid within the last month. The Republican party is at its old trick again.—Kansas City Journal.

Army Canteen.

The American Public Health associ... made up of physicians and sanitarians, ... to be accepted as impartial authority ... canteen question. A special committee ... association has studied the statistics of th... ject and reported them to the association ... a strong recommendation in favor of the ... teen. As is pointed out in this report, ... ism in the army, as shown by the hospital ... missions, has actually increased from 17... 1,000 to 24.62 since the canteen was ... And it has brought along a whole train ... —evils of disease and evils of vice ... moralization.

Unless the opponents of the canteen ... ing to confess that they would rather ... more soldiers die or go insane from alcoh... more soldiers become poisoned by disease, ... vice, more soldiers desert the colors, more ... diers shoot and stab their comrades, than ... abate their opposition under this expert ... ment. As matters stand, they seem to be ... posing the canteen not from moral reasons, ... because the soldiers get a little of comparatively ... innocent pleasure out of the canteen with the ... beer. Their position, in fact, is like that ... the Puritans who opposed bear-baiting "not be... cause it gave pain to the bear, but because ... gave pleasure to the spectators."—New York ... Mail and Express.

Statistics as to drunkenness, trial by court ... martial and hospital records of diseases attributable to the loose living of the soldiers ... off the reservations all indicate clearly the beneficial effects of the system of selling to ... men, within the limits of the posts, such ... paratively harmless beverages as beer and ... wines, under such restrictions that no ... could get too much. The status of the ... since the change in the canteen arrangements ... show conclusively that the statute has reduced ... the old bad conditions. The men, obtaining ... leave, go straight to the low groggeries which ... have been established just outside of the reservations and from there to gambling dens and ... brothels. They lose their money, they are degraded, they are incited to desert, and they are ... demoralized in every way. The problem has ... grown of late because the army is larger. An ... evil condition is magnified.

Sentiment may clamor against the restoration of the old order, which made for temperance and clean living, but it cannot successfully confute the statistics. The opponents of the canteen can only challenge the accuracy of the figures, and to do this means to charge the whole army system with fraud and falsification of the official records. The antagonist of the canteen sometimes accuses the military authorities of advocating the restoration of the canteen for selfish reasons. The logic of the charge is not clear. The common sense of the case points unmistakably to the repeal of the act of 1901 and the return to the conditions which experience has demonstrated to be the most practically wholesome and moral for the army and society at large.—Washington Star.

Additional weighty testimony to the folly of abolishing the army canteen was furnished in the report to the American Public Health association, which urges congress to rescind its action. Substantially the report recapitulates what officers are almost unanimous in declaring, that drunkenness and disorderly conduct have increased in the army since the soldiers were driven to outside saloons and resorts for their drink.

Among the most significant of these figures are those showing not only that cases of alcoholism have gone up from 22.43 per 1,000 in 1901, when the canteens were permitted, to 24.62 in 1902, when they were closed, but that the savings deposits of the enlisted men have fallen in the same period from $49.49 a man to $43.56. When one remembers that the 96 regulated canteens have been replaced by 341 additional unrestricted saloons within a mile of army posts in this country and by 571 in the Philippine islands, the failing off in the men's savings and morals is easily accounted for. Besides facts of this sort and earnest appeals of officers of experience and judgment there stand opposed against the re-establishment of the canteen only theories of men and women who have no practical knowledge of the subject.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

Surgeon General O'Reilly of the army in the Philippines adds to his testimony to that of nearly every other officer who has spoken on the subject, in favor of the restoration of the army canteen. The experience of Surgeon General O'Reilly is the experience of others. Light wines and beer were sold in the canteen, and the profit on the same was devoted to supplying reading matter and other comforts to the regiments. There was no one who had ever tasted in inducing a soldier to spend his money on liquor because another wanted one needed, and he spent his leisure there in an innocent and harmless way. With the abolition of the canteen, army camps everywhere become infested by the wretches who care nothing for the soldier except as an easy victim of their wiles.—Brooklyn Citizen.

The re-establishment of the army canteen is a subject that gives rise to so much difference of opinion that congress will probably not take it up at the coming session. But the war department is said to be prepared to submit an "overwhelming mass of evidence in favor of such a move." The American Public Health association adopted a resolution in favor of this legislation, but there is such a vigorous opposition that congress will hardly do anything at present. Certain officers assert that the use of whisky by the men has greatly increased since the canteen was abolished. Desertions have greatly increased, but that may have nothing to do with the abolition of the canteen.—Philadelphia Press.

Business on a More Even Basis.

The last four years have been a period of unexampled prosperity in the United States. The demand for all kinds of products has been great, the average prices of commodities have risen although not on the average so much as is commonly supposed, the profit in manufacturing has been great, and labor has received its full share of the benefits in the form of a greatly increased scale of wages. There have been, and are today, various branches of industry, certainly in the metallurgical industry, which have yielded 100 per cent profit on the actual cost of plant at recent enhanced cost of construction. It is not to be expected that things will remain forever on such a basis. There is ample evidence that the tide has already begun to recede. But there is no evidence, so far as we can perceive, of any crisis, commercial catastrophe, or inauguration of a period of business depression. On the contrary, we are of the opinion that business will be more satisfying upon a new basis, that will be more even and more substantial than the previous one.—Engineering and Mining Journal.

Journalistic.

The Daily Hotel Reporter, the latest venture in Pittsburgh journalism, made its initial appearance yesterday. It is a four-page paper given up largely to a list of arrivals at the local hotels, which list, by the way, shows that the transient population of the city is no small one. Liberal advertising patronage is in evidence, and from all indications the paper starts out with bright prospects. The Post Fifth Publishing Company, Hamilton building, is the publisher.

"L" COACH HOVERS ON AWFUL BRINK

SURE DEATH YAWNED BELOW

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—A light locomotive of the New York, New Haven & Hartford road ran into the rear car of a crowded "L" train on the Second avenue bridge at One Hundred and Twenty-ninth street and Harlem river and threw it from the track. The "L" car, with seats, aisles and platforms packed with men and women on their way to work, was lifted and dumped over on the footrail of the bridge. Fortunately the weight of the forward cars kept the car and its hundred passengers from toppling over into the Harlem river.

Two dozen men crowded on the forward platform of the rear car were tossed into the air and strewn about the tracks and the footpath of the bridge. The man in the switch tower on the bridge, who had seen the accident, turned off the power from the third rail and prevented serious results.

Inside the car the passengers were jammed together. The car settled down at an angle of 45 degrees and that tossed all the passengers from the east to the west side of the car. Arms, legs, heads, knees, hats, bundles and wraps were bunched together in an indescribable mass and out of it rose the terrified shrieks of panic-stricken women and maddened men, all of whom thought that they were about to be plunged headlong to death in the river.

The moment the cars stopped a terrible scramble for the doors ensued. Men pushed and wrestled in the struggle to escape, grinding down the women beneath them. Women in the car—and there were fully two dozen—fainted and when the police and firemen arrived had to be lifted from the car. It was thought that many of them had been seriously injured but the ambulance surgeons quickly revived them.

STRIKE AT REES WORKS OF SHORT DURATION

All But Two or Three Men Working Again—Walking Delegate's Part.

D. A. Rees, representing the James Rees & Sons Co., steamboat builders and general contractors, said yesterday that all but two or three of the men composing the three "gangs" which quit work last week following the declaring of a strike at the Rees works by Smoky City Lodge No. 164, Brotherhood of Boilermakers and Iron Ship Builders, had returned to work and that all except one man would be permitted to return. This one man, who has been in the firm's employ for many years, is suspected of having aimed to create trouble and for that reason he is excluded.

It was alleged, as a reason for ordering the strike, that the company had violated an agreement made last July and terminating in January, 1905. Mr. Rees says the firm never signed any such agreement as is referred to, with the Brotherhood. Mr. Rees said further:

In regard to our boilermakers, it has been our custom in the past to work them on Saturdays, when we were short of steel boiler work, thereby keeping them steadily employed. Notwithstanding their wages are much higher than is paid riveters on steamboat work. The comparative difference between steamboat riveting and boiler making is plain to those familiar with the same. We make a specialty of marine boiler work, and cannot complete a contract of that kind without doing some to be classified on plate work, and which, up to the present time, has never been questioned in any way.

The advent of the "walking delegate" who notified some weeks ago that there was an objection to our working boilermakers on steamboat hulls is doubtless responsible for the present trouble. We are pleased to say, however, that action only affects about one-half dozen men. These same boilermakers, who have seen fit to make an unreasonable demand for piecework wages, have averaged about $25 a week while in our employ. The wages paid our riveters on the boats is 20 per cent higher than was paid last year, and there is no place in the country today that pays them for the same class of work.

The question of "union" and "non-union" men has never been an issue in the employment of men by our firm; we have always worked under the "open shop" policy, and we propose to continue doing so, feeling assured of the support and assistance of our other faithful employes to that end.

Our present contracts consist of three steel hull steamboats and three steel hull barges, all for foreign countries.

GRAVE RESULTS FEARED.

Daughter of New York Publisher Undergoes Second Operation for Appendicitis.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—(Special.)—Grave fear is felt for Miss Hazel Blanchard, the youngest of the three daughters of the New York publisher, all of whom were recently operated on for appendicitis. Miss Hazel had to submit to a second operation and her condition is more critical than the others.

There was a second operation on Saturday after an abscess had appeared over the wound of the first operation. All the girls are at the Blanchard home in Orange, N. J., which has been turned into a hospital.

A few months ago Mrs. Blanchard contracted smallpox in Pittsburgh and was treated at the Orange Isolated Hospital, after the health authorities had refused Mr. Blanchard permission to erect a temporary hospital on the grounds surrounding his residence. Mr. Blanchard is the head of the publishing and printing firm of James H. Blanchard & Co., this city, and is a school commissioner of Orange.

The wreckers had undone the rail spikes at a bridge near Manzanola, and several cars were ditched. The purpose evidently was to get a large amount of booty from the express car.

CHARGES MADE AGAINST MADDEN

Third Assistant Postmaster General Alleged to Have Sold Specimens.

INVESTIGATION IS ORDERED

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Postmaster General Payne admitted today that an investigation is being made of charges involving the office of Third Assistant Postmaster General Madden in connection with the speculation of philatelists in certain valuable specimens postage stamps. The charges were made in a philatelic organ in April, 1902, but were only brought to the attention of the president and postmaster general, it is stated, last Friday, when an investigation of the matter was immediately ordered. The investigation is still in progress. Mr. Madden today gave out a statement in which he says:

"I court the fullest and most searching investigation. It will show the absolute falsity of such charges. There has not during my administration a single stamp sold, or a single proof of a stamp sold by me to any collector or to any other person whatsoever. Any statement to the contrary is false."

Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Bristow, who has charge of the postal investigation, was closeted with Mr. Madden today presumably in connection with the published statement but he declined to discuss the matter. Postmaster General Payne said today that while the charges made in the philatelic organ were not directed against Mr. Madden, the allegations involved his office.

It was stated tonight by a member of the cabinet that for years it had been the custom for parties having the contracts for printing the stamps to furnish the third assistant postmaster general with what are known as proof sets of series printed. Contrary to the general impression these proofs are printed on cardboard and are of no commercial value, being simply specimens. In this instance the contractor was the government printing office and it is stated on the highest authority that fewer sets were called for than ever before.

General Bristow, under instructions from the postmaster general, has the matter in hand, but the statement was made by the member of the cabinet referred to that the custom of permitting persons to have proof sets was a long established one.

BEAVERS COMMITTED.

Later Released on Bail, Which Is Reduced from $22,000 to $8,000.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—George W. Beavers, the indicted former postal official, was formally committed by Commissioner Hitchcock today to the custody of the United States martial pending the action of Circuit Judge Holt on the warrant for the removal of Beavers to the jurisdiction of the eastern circuit of New York for trial on the Brooklyn indictment. He was admitted by Judge Holt to $5,000 bail pending the court's action.

Action was taken by Beavers' counsel to vacate the warrants for his removal to Washington on the third of the last three Washington indictments. Beavers being surrendered and applications for writs of habeas corpus being made for his releases on the ground that simultaneous proceedings for his removal to different districts are illegal. On these applications Beavers was admitted to $3,000 bail by Judge Holt, the total bail on which he is held being reduced from $22,000 to $8,000.

Application by Beavers' counsel for additional subpoenas directing United States District Attorney Young of Brooklyn and his stenographer to produce certain records of the grand jury in Brooklyn which returned the indictment against Beavers was refused by Commissioner Hitchcock.

MILITIA PUT ON GUARD.

Strikers at Niagara Falls, Ont., Use Violence Against Men Wanting to Work.

NIAGARA FALLS, ONT., Nov. 2.—A strike occurred today affecting the whole work of construction of the three big Canadian power companies, employing about 1,500 men. It was the result of an order issued by the contractors taking effect yesterday reducing the wages of the men 25 cents per day.

About 800 men refused to go to work and drove off the men who were at work. Stones and huge pieces of wood were thrown down the shaft, but so far as known no person was seriously injured. The contractors applied for military aid which was sent them.

ANOTHER EFFORT TO STOP TICKERS

WINDY CITY GAMBLING MAD

Clerks in Stores and Even the Suburbanites on Their Trains Followed by Bookmakers Who Solicit Bets—Herculean Effort to Stamp Out Hand Book.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—In an effort to stamp out the handbook evil, a system of betting on horse races which has existed in Chicago for several years, Mayor Carter Harrison tonight sent an ordinance to the city council, providing for the licensing of all telegraph "tickers" in use in the city. The purpose sought to be obtained by the ordinance is the preventing of the use of "ticker" for the transmission of racing news, betting odds or other information for making bets or wagers on horse races, or any other intelligence for the purpose of gambling.

Every license fee for each ticker required by the ordinance is one dollar a year, in addition to a bond of $1,000, conditioned that the applicant shall faithfully observe and keep all city ordinances. In explanation of the necessity for such a stringent ordinance, Mayor Harrison, in a communication to the council, said:

Many years ago the evils resulting from the gambling engaged in through the instrumentality of various lottery companies become so far-reaching and demoralizing that general prohibitive legislation by the federal congress was called for and secured. The evils attendant upon the prevalent craze for gambling on horse races certainly demand as vigorous measures as were resorted to when the united sentiment of the nation existed from congress the stamping out of lottery gambling.

How general is the tendency of the day to risk money on the outcome of horse races may be learned from the recent reports in the local press of notices being posted by the managements of large business houses prohibiting their employes from making wagers on horse races, or frequenting places where wagers may be made.

Handbooks today are made in a large number of saloons, in billiard rooms, barber shops and cigar stores. Indeed, it is asserted the suburban trains on various railroads are systematically worked by handbook makers, who also employ emissaries to make daily rounds of office buildings for the soliciting of bets and the increase of patronage.

The revocation of licenses of all licensed institutions proven guilty of harboring handbook makers has only resulted in driving the harbor of bookmakers to places which cannot be reached by this means. For that reason I have had the ordinance prepared, and if it is passed by the city council I feel confident it will put a stop to this sort of gambling. The ordinance will cut off all information as to odds, riders, starters, etc., now given general currency through the medium of the "tickers."

NATURE'S GREATEST CURE FOR MEN AND WOMEN

SWAMP-ROOT SAVED MY LIFE.

I had an awful pain in my back, over the kidneys, and had to urinate from four to seven times a night often with smarting and burning. Brick dust would settle in the urine. I lost twenty pounds in two weeks, and thought I would soon die. I took the first dose of your Swamp-Root in the evening at bed time, and was very much surprised; I had to urinate but once that night, and the second night I did not get up until morning. I have used three bottles of Swamp-Root, and today am as well as ever.

I am a farmer, and am working every day, and weigh 190 pounds, the same that I weighed before I was taken sick.

Gratefully yours,
Sec. F. A. & I. U. 594. T. S. APKER,
April 9th, 1903. Marsh Hill, Pa.

There comes a time to both men and women when sickness and poor health bring anxiety and trouble hard to bear, disappointment seems to follow every effort of physicians in our behalf, and remedies we try have little or no effect. In many such cases serious mistakes are made in doctoring, and not knowing what the disease is or what makes us sick. Kind nature warns us by certain symptoms, which are unmistakable evidence of danger, such as too frequent desire to urinate, scanty supply, scalding irritation, pain or dull ache in the back—they tell us in silence that our kidneys need doctoring. If neglected now, the disease advances until the face looks pale or sallow, puffy or dark circles under the eyes, feet swell, and sometimes the heart acts badly.

There is comfort in knowing that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, fulfills every wish in quickly relieving such troubles. It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to get up many times during the night to urinate.

Swamp-Root a Blessing to Women.

My kidneys and bladder gave me great trouble for over two months and I suffered untold misery. I became weak, emaciated and very much run down. I had great difficulty in retaining my urine, and was obliged to pass water very often night and day. After I had used a sample bottle of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, sent me on my request, I experienced relief and I immediately bought of my druggist two large bottles and continued taking it regularly. I am pleased to say that Swamp-Root cured me entirely. I can now stand on my feet all day without any bad symptoms whatever. Swamp-Root has proved a blessing to me.

Gratefully yours,

AWOKE ON SHIP AND WENT CRAZY

SENT TO AN INSANE ASYLUM

Dementia Was Only Temporary and He Is Now Clothed in His Right Mind. Gave Father's Address and Will Be Brought Home.

If the latest experience of Edward Dougherty does not cure him of the love of roving, his father is afraid he will never be cured. Edward left home last August and was next heard of as being in London; yesterday it was learned that he was in the Bayview insane asylum in Baltimore, sane enough now, but with a record of temporary dementia that kept a ship's captain and crew and the Baltimore police on the edge of anxiety for awhile. Dougherty is the 18-year-old son of Daniel Dougherty of No. 156 South Seventeenth street, a glass packer. The boy has run away before, but the disclosure of his identity did not come before surrounded by the same agonizing details. This time he fell into the hands of Baltimore crimps.

After having been committed to Bayview asylum, while suffering from temporary mental aberration, a young man who could give neither his name nor his address when arraigned before Justice Garland at the Eastern police station, Baltimore, Sunday morning, yesterday turned out to be Edward Dougherty of Pittsburgh, who left home last July.

Dougherty was taken in charge of the police of the Eastern District on Saturday upon the request of Noah B. Sinclair of the bark Sea King. Capt. Sinclair told the police that he had shipped the young man on Friday night at a shipping office in Bratt street, Baltimore, and that he then appeared to be in full possession of his mind, that on Saturday his mind became deranged and that he tore his flesh with his nails and fought everybody that came in his way.

Fought the Policeman.

When he was carried to the Baltimore police station Dougherty scratched and fought the policemen who attempted to overpower him, and when locked in a cell he was so violent that it was necessary to handcuff him. Justice Garland committed him to Bayview for two months, and he was transferred to that place later in the day. He could not speak a word.

Yesterday morning his condition had greatly improved, and, although still unable to speak, he appeared sane. Not being able to utter a word, he took a pencil and wrote upon a piece of paper that he was Edward Dougherty, a son of Daniel Dougherty of 156 South Seventeenth street, Pittsburgh, and that he could remember nothing that had occurred since last Friday night, when he was accosted by a man on Bratt street, who gave him a glass of beer, and that his mind after that became blank.

Capt. Sinclair said the young man had fallen and injured his neck while raving on the boat, and the authorities at Bayview believe that this caused a temporary loss of speech.

Dougherty's father and mother had not heard from the Baltimore police last night and were first apprised of their son's whereabouts by a Gazette reporter. While grieved at the condition in which their son is, they were overjoyed to hear that he was safe. The father later telegraphed to the Baltimore police asking them to detain the boy until he can go to Baltimore to bring him home.

Good Boy, but Liked to Rove.

"Edward has always been a good boy about the house," said Mr. Dougherty, "but ever since he was a little fellow he has had an insatiable desire to rove. A little more than a year ago he disappeared and when we heard of him through a letter he wrote to a young friend, he was in Baltimore, having signed articles as cabin boy on a ship. We had the chief of police detain him and brought him home. I cannot believe that he has taken to drink, for he never drank at home. He is 18 years old. Of course I shall go to Baltimore to bring him back, and I only hope that this experience will serve as a salutary lesson to him."

When young Dougherty was a baby an amateur phrenologist on the South Side "called the turn" on his predilection for running away from home. He was six weeks old when the old man called at the house, felt the back of his head and then remarked that the boy would be a rover. He walked when he was 18 months old and on the first trip he made outside the house he wandered as far as the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston railroad tracks and was almost struck by a train.

After he disappeared last August, his mother did not hear from him until September 12, when she received a letter dated London. He said that he was cabin boy on a vessel and had shipped for the return voyage. It is supposed that when he was discharged from the ship in Baltimore he was drugged by a crimp and awaking to find himself shanghaied aboard another ship, bound outward, he was driven into a frenzy.

SHOP TALK BEGUILED LIFE INSURANCE MEN

Life insurance men got together and talked "shop" last night at the Hotel Henry. They forgot their rivalries and ignored mortality tables while eating stuffed squab and all the dainties that accompany the dish. They related experiences and told their troubles confidentially and good naturally. One enthusiastic solicitor flashed a certified check for $50,000 for the premium on a policy he had just written. He represented a local company and was roundly cheered.

The occasion was the regular monthly meeting of the Pittsburgh Life Underwriters' association. Covers were laid for 75. The guests were Hubert H. Ward, president of the National Association of Life Underwriters; Ex-Gov. William A. Stone, Richard Wightman, New York representatives for the Reliance Life, and the Rev. S. Edward Young. All the guests were on the speakers' list and Mr. Wightman made a hit in his address, "How to Get Business Without Being Bounced." R. A. Clarke gave a report of the national meeting in Baltimore.

A short business session was held prior to the banquet. It has been decided to hold the national meeting at Indianapolis next year, and the Pittsburgh membership will be represented by a large delegation. The executive committee having charge of the arrangements is composed of the following local underwriters: Graham C. Wells, L. C. Robene, C. B. Knight, R. A. Clarke, J. C. Biggert, S. L. Fleishman, J. J. Tillinghast, W. M. Wood and William C. Baldwin.

Henceforth meetings of the association will be called to order with a sacred gavel. Mr. Clarke on his return from Baltimore brought home a mysterious stick of wood and last night surprised his fellow members by presenting a gavel carved from a tree in the Old Dumpion which is reputed to have been cut down by George Washington.

RIOT CALL TO SUBDUE CITIZENS PARTY ROWDIES

Shameful Acts in McKeesport Last Night Proved to Be Good Vote-Getters for the Republican Party—Three Arrests Made.

The Citizens party did some tricks in McKeesport last night that lost it a lot of votes, turned luke-warm persons to choose the Republican fold, and made respectable persons of all parties ashamed that such things would be done in this country. A riot call had to be sent in to quiet the Citizens party rowdies.

After a rousing parade the Republicans marched to White's Opera house, where several speakers were billed to make addresses. The Citizens, who were holding a smoker a half block away, received word of the enthusiasm shown by the crowd at the Republican meeting, and the word was at once given out to make attempts to break up the Republican gathering.

A delegation of Citizens men was sent to the front of the opera house with large dynamite caps to place on the car tracks so that the noise of their explosion as cars passed over them would bother the speakers and the listeners in the building. A band was also put in front of the opera house to add its noise to the rest of the din. Two men were sent into the place to try to break up the meeting by starting fights and making cat-calls at the speakers.

Detective Fred Lamp arrested a man who gave his name at the police station as George Robinson. He had been in only a few minutes when County Recorder J. Denny O'Neil with a large roll of bills put up a forfeit of $25 for the man's appearance.

When the noise in the opera house became almost intolerable Detective George Schlesinger was called and took two more men into custody and attempted to take them to the patrol wagon, which was called to the door. While a crowd of Citizens followers tried to take the man from the detective, emissaries were sent to Citizens headquarters and came back with a crowd of 500, who helped in the effort to thwart the officer in the discharge of his duty. It became so warm that Chief of Police Louis E. Rotzch, who was summoned, sent in a riot call. This was responded to by a squad of policemen.

By the use of their clubs the policemen finally got the men in the wagon, and, followed by a crowd, the drive was taken to the police station. Efforts to stop the wagon were of no use, and finally the men were landed in the station house. R. A. Hitchens and O'Neil again produced the bugs roll, and the accused were released on $25 forfeits. The men gave the names of J. W. Horne and G. W. Taylor.

The crowd at the opera house, which was a record-breaking one for McKeesport, was addressed by John P. Cox, who was formerly with the Citizens party; Mayor George J. F. Falkenstein; City Treasurer Samuel Milliken; William Coleman, and the Rev. John Puller, colored.

VICTORY SURE IN ALLEGHENY

Republican Majority Will Be at Least 4,500 and Citizens Lose Hope.

MACHINE MEN WILL NOT BET

Every District Shows Republican Gains and Chairman Henderson Increases Estimate of Last Saturday—Fifth Ward Conceded by Bigelow Machine.

"Allegheny will give a good majority for the Republican ticket. The result out side of the river has never been in doubt and all we hope for is good weather. The size of the Republican majority depends largely on the condition of the weather. In the event of a bright day our majority will not be less than 4,500. This may be cut down to 3,500 if there is rain. We are sure to get the majority of those who usually stay at home. But we want good weather to bring this vote out.

"Today I had reports from every district in the city and it looks better now than ever before. Outside of Allegheny I feel sure the Republican ticket will win. If our majority in Pittsburgh is small, the plurality in the country districts will off-set this. I expect Allegheny county to go 10,000 majority for the Republican ticket."

The above is the opinion of Chairman John H. Henderson of the Allegheny city Republican executive board.

During the entire day yesterday workers were reporting to Republican headquarters for final orders and the estimate of Mr. Henderson is based on what he heard from district and ward chairmen.

The Citizens are not so confident as they were last week and last night it was said at Bigelow headquarters, in Kenyon hall, that the fight is a standoff—that it's anyone's victory. The claim of the Citizens that they would beat Dr. Dickson in his own ward was not heard yesterday. There was all kind of money to bet among the Republicans on this ward but none of it was taken. One well-known politician placed $3,500 at Ilenberger's cafe in East Diamond street to be wagered on the Republican victory in Allegheny, but none of it was covered last night.

Returns to Be Received by Elks.

A stag social session will be held tonight at the clubhouse of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, No. 11, Jumonville street and Fifth avenue. An elaborate vaudeville program has been arranged which will be interspersed with euchre and music. Election returns from New York and Ohio, as well as local returns, will be received by special wire. The affair will be in charge of Frank H. McCarthy, Saul Susman, W. W. Robinson, J. W. Morrow and E. J. Joyce. The affair will be for Elks only.

Charged With Fraud.

Justice of the Peace James L. McConnell of Leetsdale, committed Jacob Burrie to jail yesterday on a charge of fraud made by A. Rosenson, a merchant of Leetsdale. Burrie, it is alleged, started a boarding house at Leetsdale and secured large orders of household goods and supplies. He left the place and, it is said, took the goods with him. Burrie was traced to Rochester, Pa.

Failed to Get a Quorum.

The Allegheny board of school controllers failed to meet last night for want of a quorum.

NOW IS THE TIME.

Take Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil now. Not next week or next month, but now. You need it to put fat on your bones and strength in your body to stand the cold and trying weather of the next few months.

Nine-tenths of the population would be benefited by taking Scott's Emulsion regularly three times a day for a month or more every fall to fortify and strengthen the system against the cold and constant changes that occur through the winter. The benefit is particularly marked with young, delicate children. No food that they can take begins to compare with Scott's Emulsion.

Pure cod liver oil is scarce but if you get Scott's Emulsion you'll be sure to get only the purest and best oil.

TOOK A BETTING JUDGE TO COURT

Question Raised as to Eligibility of G. W. McCartney to Serve on Election Board.

JUDGE FRAZER IS PUZZLED

New Point of Law Is Raised and McCartney, Although Advised to Resign, Vows He Will Serve Today, Despite Possible Criminal Suit.

Eligibility of bettors on election results serving as judges of election, came up in common pleas court No. 2 yesterday before Judge Robert S. Frazer. G. W. McCartney of the Third district of the Seventh ward, was the judge in question, the allegation being that he had wagered $20 that the result in the district would be in favor of the Citizens party. He was elected as a Republican, but is said to have switched to the Citizens party.

The case nonplussed Judge Frazer, who was of the opinion that McCartney should resign lest his action should lead to the suspicion that he had unduly influenced the election. McCartney refused to resign, however, and the case may go further. It is a new one in the local courts.

The petition asking for McCartney's removal was presented by Attorneys Charles A. O'Brien and S. A. Hunter and stated that McCartney had been elected on the Republican ticket in February, but had since gone to the Citizens party and had, on October 31 last, made a bet of $20 a side with George Adams, McCartney taking the end that the Citizens party would have the larger number of votes in the district.

Quick Action on Hearing.

Adams' affidavit setting forth that the bet had been made and that McCartney had put up the money was attacked. A rule to show cause why he should not be removed was made on McCartney and it was made returnable at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Service was had on him at 1 o'clock and shortly after 3 o'clock he was in court with his counsel, L. S. Levin.

Mr. Levin stated he had had no time to prepare an answer, but he admitted that his client had made the bet; he added, however, that McCartney had rescinded it a few minutes later, when he realized that his course was wrong. He said a demand had been made on the stakeholder and when he refused to return the money it had been assigned to another person. Mr. Levin contended that the making of a bet did not disqualify a voter nor could it disqualify an election officer.

Claimed Evident Prejudice.

He cited an act wherein it was provided that any person bringing suit to recover an election bet was to be penalized by having judgment for thrice the amount of the bet entered against him to be paid to the overseer of the poor.

Mr. O'Brien insisted that the man had demonstrated prejudice in the enthusiastic manner shown in betting on the result, and therefore was not a fit person to serve as a judge of election matters.

Judge Frazer asked Mr. Levin if since the bet had been made hastily and without much thought, it would not be better for his client to resign, for, the court explained, if he serves it will cause some persons to say he influenced the result, and in this way injure him.

Mr. O'Brien then asked for the resignation, adding he would demand an order for removal. Mr. Levin asked McCartney if he would resign and the latter replied: "I will no, sir."

Looked Deeply into Law.

Judge Frazer then began looking into the law and presently read a portion of an act which empowered election officers to refuse the privilege of voting to any one interested in a election bet.

"According to this," said the court, "McCartney would not be entitled to vote at all."

"But that act has been declared unconstitutional on several occasions," replied Attorney Levin, and the court looked into the law further. Fifteen minutes later he took his eyes off the book and said he "did not know what to do about this." He added: "The question in my mind is whether we have the right to remove or if the course is to proceed against him criminally. I have my doubts about having the right to remove, had I the law I would remove him, for I do not believe it is right that a man interested in a bet should serve on an election board."

McCartney Warned.

The court then told McCartney that he believed that if information was made against him for serving a conviction would result in criminal court.

McCartney, however, went out of court determined to serve today, but it is possible information will be made against him.

In common pleas court No. 1 William T. Oskin was appointed judge and Thomas Sheenan inspector of the Second ward, Braddock, in place of William C. Madden, Jr., and John Donavan, who were removed for ineligibility owing to having paid positions on the city fire department.

VERNER DID NOT SIGN THE LETTER

Anonymous Communication Read at Citizens Party Rally in Twenty-Third Ward.

COUNCILMEN WERE ABSENT

Shaffer Spoke to Slim Audience—Fruitless Effort to Counteract Effect of Johns McCleave's Speech—Rousing Meeting in Glenwood Railroad Shops.

An eleventh-hour demonstration in the Twenty-third ward, planned by the Citizens party leaders to counteract the effect of the speech of Johns McCleave the previous week, was held last night at the Hazelwood school house, but proved to be a bitter disappointment to both its promoters and the hundred or few more persons who attended the meeting. The Citizens party workers had industriously circulated through the ward the report that a sensational letter from Murry A. Verner, county chairman of the Citizens party organization, would be read at the meeting.

Instead a communication, purporting to come from Mr. Verner, but bearing no signature, was read to the audience by Theodore J. Shaffer. The communication contained nothing more than a general denial of the charges that Chairman Verner was responsible for the hold-up of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad ordinances in select council. It stated that on the day of the meeting of select council, when an attempt was made to pass the ordinances, President Loree of the Baltimore & Ohio and Chairman Verner held a conference, at which it was agreed that no immediate action should be taken and that the ordinances should be amended before passage.

Finney Called It Rubbish.

General Agent Robert Finney, after the meeting last night, declared that the statement that President Loree had agreed to the postponement of the ordinances was an absolute falsehood. He described the anonymous document attributed to Verner as "nothing but rubbish."

Shaffer, after reading the anonymous letter, went into ancient history. He said that Mr. McCleave, as attorney for the Baltimore & Ohio railroad in 1885, had prosecuted eight strikers who were accused of destroying railroad property. He heaped abuse upon Mr. McCleave and General Agent Finney.

Not a single Citizens councilman of the Twenty-third ward made a speech last night in defense of their party nor were they even present at the meeting. Select Councilman W. D. O'Brien, who has denounced the Citizens party leaders for the hold-up of the Baltimore & Ohio ordinances, had been urged to attend the meeting, but refused. His colleagues from the ward in the lower branch of councils followed his example.

County Chairman Verner sent to the Thirty-fifth ward, on the South Side, to get Select Councilman John Costello to take Dr. O'Brien's place, but Mr. Costello arrived toward the close of the meeting and asked to be excused from speaking.

Reformer Jere Doherty, city assessor, made a few remarks in which he followed Shaffer's example and abused Mr. McCleave. Robert T. McIlroy, who is known on the stump as the "Bowery orator," expressed a few thoughts which were not exactly printable.

The meeting was held on the steps of the school house, although the basement of the building could have held a crowd of twice the size. It was in decided contrast to the meeting of the previous week, addressed by Mr. McIlvaine, when the basement of the school house was filled to its utmost capacity and an overflow meeting was held on the outside.

Big Meeting of Railroad Men.

The Baltimore & Ohio railroad employes living in the Twenty-third ward held a rousing meeting in the Glenwood shops last night, which was attended by between 500 and 800 men. There were no officials present, the meeting being conducted exclusively by the employes themselves, and they were enthusiastic to the extreme.

A number of speeches were made and it was unanimously agreed that every man who could be spared from work today would turn out at the polls and aid in the defeat of the corrupt machine that is retarding improvements in their ward. P. T. Ellery presided. C. A. Richardson and W. T. Leatlider were among those who spoke.

Aged Woman Charges Assault.

Mrs. Catherine Spyre, aged 74 years, of Irishtown road, Twenty-seventh ward, yesterday made information before Magistrate Joseph H. Vichestain charging Neal Rodgers, also of Irishtown road, with assault. She alleges on Saturday morning at 4 o'clock he broke into her home and assaulted her, striking her on the head with a stone and twisting her wrists.

Debate Tonight on a Labor Question.

The Men's Club of the Pittsburgh Baptist Conference will meet in the Fourth Avenue church tonight. A debate on the question "Resolved, that Capital should recognize Labor Unions" will be discussed. John Williams, and Ben L. Davis, labor leaders, will uphold the affirmative and J. Bond and Herbert M. Brooks will take the negative. A lively debate is expected.

Arrested on Trunk-Robbing Charge.

Joseph Assad, a Syrian of No. 1912 Grant boulevard, was arrested yesterday morning by Detectives Harry Hutchison and Richard Keily, on information made by a fellow countryman, Moses Cory, who charges Assad with taking $200 from his trunk in his boarding house. The robbery is said to have occurred the evening of October 16.

Bank Earns Big Dividend.

WASHINGTON, PA., Nov. 2.—(Special.)—At a meeting of the board of directors of the First National bank of Washington this morning Colin M. Reed was elected president, S. M. Templeton, vice president and D. M. Donehoo cashier. The board also declared a semi-annual dividend of 8 per cent, and added $100,000 to the surplus fund.

LIKED HIS "NIP."

Not a Whiskey but a Coffee Toper.

Give coffee half a chance and with some people it sets its grip hard and fast. "Up to a couple of years ago" says a business man of Brooklyn, N. Y., "I was as constant a coffee drinker as it was possible to be, indeed my craving for coffee was equal to that of a drunkard for his regular "nip" and the effect of the coffee drug upon my system was indeed deplorable.

"My skin lacked its natural color, my features were pinched and my nerves were shattered to such an extent as to render me very irritable. I also suffered from palpitation of the heart.

"It was while in this condition I read a article about Postum Food Coffee and concluded to try it. It was not long before Postum had entirely destroyed my raging passion for coffee and in a short time I had entirely given up coffee for delicious Postum.

"The change that followed was so extraordinary I am unable to describe it. Suffice it to say, however that all my troubles have disappeared. I am my original happy self again and on the whole the soothing and pleasant effects produced by my cup of Postum make me feel as though I have been landed at another station."

"Not long ago I converted one of my friends to Postum and he is now as loud in his praise as I am." Name furnished by Postum Co. Battle Creek, Mich.

VAIN FIGHT FOR LIFE WITH CRAZY HUSBAND

Louis Mortfeld of Washington, D. C., Kills Himself and His Wife.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Louis Mortfeld today shot and killed his wife and then committed suicide at their boarding house here. Mortfeld was a paroled patient from St. Elizabeth's hospital for the insane, and it is believed the deed was committed because of his fear of being returned to the asylum, as arrangements had been made to send Mortfeld to the Washington asylum hospital today or tomorrow.

Mrs. Mortfeld engaged in a desperate struggle with her husband before she was killed. She received a cut on her forehead and her right hand was burned by contact with the revolver. About 5 o'clock this morning Mrs. Margaret Worrell, the landlady, heard the woman's frantic appeals for help and endeavored to reach the room but the door was locked.

The landlady ran into the street and appealed to several people, one a watchman at a nearby building, but all failed to respond. Mrs. Worrell returned, telling Mrs. Mortfeld to hold out a little longer as the police were coming. Two shots were fired and Mrs. Worrell thinks they were intended for her. Three shots followed and it is believed these ended the lives of the couple.

ROPE CUT IN SMALL PIECES.

Five Men Are Charged With Stealing from a Coal Company.

Detectives Harry Jones and Oscar Seifert arrested five men at a junk shop in market street yesterday afternoon, where they were trying to sell a wagon load of rope. It was alleged the rope, worth $200, had been stolen from a loading of the Monongahela River coal and coke company. When recovered, the rope was cut in small pieces and was good only for junk and was being sold for such. The men gave their names as Thomas Boggs, of Esplen, C. W. Myers, of No. 11 Market street, John Sweeney and Thomas Davis of Allegheny, and Thomas Swager, of Sheraden. The latter, a teamster, said he was hired to haul the rope from a plenty boat at Brunot's Island.

PRANK OF STUDENTS HAS SERIOUS RESULT

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

TRENTON, N. J., Nov. 2.—Mrs. Anna Chambers, a prominent woman of this city, is suffering from serious injuries received at the hands of Princeton students last Saturday night.

Mrs. Chambers was passing the Taylor opera house early in the evening and as she was opposite the entrance a dozen students came down the sidewalk with their hands on each other's shoulders. They came with a rush. It was a sort of flying wedge movement and the citizens who crowded the sidewalk were thrown aside like straws. Mrs. Chambers who is a middle-aged woman, was in direct line with the plunging students and was fairly struck by them. She was lifted bodily from the sidewalk by the impact and thrown into the street. She fell heavily on her side. Her arm was broken and she suffered internal injuries.

When the extent of the woman's injuries was learned there was a rush for the students who separated and escaped by running into the alleys. If they had been caught there would have been serious trouble. The police have been looking for members of the party but it is not likely they will be detected.

Said He Abused a Horse.

George Reickard, of the Reickard Transfer Company, of Allegheny, will have a hearing tomorrow before Alderman H. J. Brinker, on a charge of cruelty to animals. Agent W. G. Stanley, of the Humane society, declared Reickard abused a horse because it had balked on Pennsylvania avenue, Allegheny, yesterday.

Beer Flood in Forbes Street.

Car No. 824 of the Knoxville division collided with a wagon at Forbes and Boyd streets yesterday afternoon. The wagon was driven by Thomas Murray, a beer bottler of Fourth avenue. He was thrown to the street and had his face cut, the horse was cut and a lot of beer was spilled.

Teamster Drove Into Pile of Pipe.

Benjamin Cadwick, a teamster of No. 118 Market street, Allegheny, drove into a pile of sewer pipe at Penn avenue and Scott street yesterday afternoon and was thrown off his wagon. His left ear was almost torn off and his head and face were badly cut. He was removed to the Homeopathic hospital.

Welcome to You and to Winter

The styles are set and you can buy without the first thought or fear of future regret—the styles are set and you shall see them as they are.

Winter Millinery Opening

Imported patterns and models in velvets and fancy braids and in brush or long-nap beaver, blues and browns and all endorsed shades, toques, bonnets and picture hats from Paris, London and Berlin, some exact copies of what the ocean brought New York, a worthy display reinforced and Americanized by accredited conceptions from our own workrooms—brilliant trims in flowers and coque in dahlia shades, violet and velvets.

PATTERN HATS
Imported pattern hats, bonnets, picture hats and toques ready for any occasion or function, morning, noon or night at home or abroad—opera, horse show or reception and side by side will be the products of our own workroom—you will say we have done well.

READY TO WEAR
The ready-to-wear hats, especially attractive this season, appeal more generally to all women than in any other year, and we have made special effort to gather the collection par excellence for you busy, busier and business women.

With the Cloaks and Suits

Here is a cosmopolitan gathering with not an unworthy, unaccredited, shaky-character present. Your store knows and has said that as ready-to-wear garments become more popular because more satisfactory, you become more exacting. Our stock is gathered with that knowledge and more and more exacting women are finding it out.

The Furs and Fur Fashions

The furs share with millinery the enthusiasm of the new season when every woman wants to know the styles and have spread before her all that's worth her while. Knowing furs as long and well as we have known them means doing the fur business right. That means that you will not only see no wrong styles but you will see no wrong furs.

Childrens Day

Every winter want for children ready-to-wear—jackets, coats, dresses, furs, millinery in generous abundance. And the young girl just this side of womanhood, beyond childhood and at every age and stage between her wants, too, all day Saturday will reign supreme at the store that does so much and does it well.

HALF MILLION DOLLARS TO BE SPENT ON MILLS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW CASTLE, PA., Nov. 2.—General Manager John Reis, of the New Castle and Sharon plants of the Carnegie Steel company, made official announcement today of gigantic improvements which are to be made here on the steel mill and the four local furnaces. The plants were all closed down Saturday evening, and fears were entertained that they might not resume for a long time. However, General Manager Reis' announcement puts these fears to rest.

Fully $500,000 is to be expended here. The Red Jacket furnace is to be entirely dismantled and will be replaced with another new 200-ton furnace of latest type. It will be a sister to the new McKinley furnace, now in operation, and also to the new 600 ton furnace on which work has been steadily progressing for some months. During the shutdown the McKinley and the Rosena furnaces will be re-lined and undergo other extensive repairs, which will increase their capacity. The capacity of the Shenango Valley steel mill, which is now about 1900 tons daily, will also be largely increased in order to take care of the total output of the local furnaces.

The shut-down of the plants will be of six weeks' duration. This is the first time in two years that the steel mill has closed for any length of time, and repairs have become imperative. The shutdown will not affect the city in any way, as nearly all the employes will be given work in the construction and upon the extensive repairs to be made.

WOMAN WITH A GUN DROVE BURGLARS AWAY

Men Made Second Attempt to Enter House, but Were Met by Bullets.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

MONONGAHELA, PA., Nov. 2.—Burglars attempted to enter the home of Scott Spencer in Railroad street early this morning, and after having fled before a fusillade of shots they returned and made a second attempt to gain an entrance. Bullets again frightened them away.

Spencer works at night. At about 2 o'clock Mrs. Spencer heard a noise at the kitchen window. Two men who were trying to gain entrance, fled when she fired at them. A neighbor, attracted by the shots, came to Mrs. Spencer's assistance. Upon making a search, he found the men hiding in a nearby yard. He opened fire and they ran, but in half an hour came back to the house. They were again greeted with a shower of lead. This is the fourth attempt within a few months to break into the Spencer house.

MRS. GILPIN INQUEST IS AGAIN CONTINUED

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

UNIONTOWN, PA., Nov. 2.—The inquest into the death of Mrs. L. W. Gilpin, found dead in her room at the store house near Chalk Hill, last Thursday morning with a bullet in her head, has been continued until Wednesday evening when Mr. Gilpin, who accompanied his wife's remains to Wilmington, Del., will have returned.

Charles K. McCormick, who was with Mrs. Gilpin shortly before her death was the principal witness examined today. He said Mrs. Gilpin had been melancholy and often threatened to do something desperate. He had given her the revolver with which she shot herself, some five weeks prior to the tragedy. McCormick had breakfasted with Mrs. Gilpin the morning of her death and had just left her, he testified, when he heard the shot. He said he found the woman on the floor with a bullet wound in her head.

Undertaker Guy Johnston testified that in preparing the body for burial he could distinguish scarcely any powder marks about the wound. At the session on Wednesday evening the physicians who held the autopsy will make their report.

CORONER'S VERDICT IS JUSTIFIABLE HOMICIDE

G. M. Snyder Is Exonerated from Blame in Shooting of an Unknown Slav.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

MONESSEN, PA., Nov. 2.—Coroner C. A. Wynn of Westmoreland county, went to Webster this afternoon and held an inquest into the death of the Slav, who was shot Sunday night by G. M. Snyder, a Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad operator. After hearing the testimony of several witnesses the jury returned a verdict of justifiable homicide. The body was not identified, although the dead man is supposed to have several brothers in the vicinity of Webster.

At the time of the shooting Snyder had found a box car broken open and he fired his revolver into a clump of bushes to frighten any intruder. Later, upon returning to see if the car had again been molested, Snyder and a party stumbled upon the body of the dead Slav.

STEEL MILLS TO RESUME.

Plants at Leechburg, Saltsburg and Hyde Park to Be Put in Operation.

LEECHBURG, PA., Nov. 2.—(Special.)—The mills of the American Sheet Steel Company at this place will resume operations next Wednesday morning after being shut down for 12 weeks. Official notice to this effect was received this morning by the local management and already the furnaces are lighted and the rollers have been notified to get their crews together.

The plant at Saltsburg will resume on Wednesday also and the Hyde Park plant next Monday. These three mills resume at a reduction of 20 per cent in the wages of men on tonnage, but this is offset to some degree by the fact that the limit of production has been removed. The rollers, heaters and shearmen all signed an agreement to accept the new wage arrangement.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Considerable speculation attaches to the forthcoming visit to this country of Minister Beaupre, our diplomatic representative in Colombia, who has been granted a leave of absence. In certain official circles here the opinion prevails that while Minister Beaupre is ostensibly away from his post on leave of absence, the truth of the matter is that it amounts to a temporary recall; that the president has become vexed at the Colombian government because of its attitude toward the canal treaty and has decided to be represented at Bogata by an attache of the American legation and Minister Beaupre will remain in this country until the Colombian government gives some assurance that the terms of the treaty will be acted upon favorably. Minister Beaupre will not reach the United States until the early part of December.

Dr. Herran, the Colombian charge, said tonigh that there would be some action taken looking to the success of the canal. As the matter now stands in the Colombian congress, the lower house is in favor of the treaty. In the senate there were but eight in favor of it and 19 opposed. In December there will be election of senators, when nine places would be affected. It was the intention of the party in power to manipulate the political situation that the nine senators to be selected. It was the intention of the party making at the next session, 17 for the canal, a majority of seven. This, he thought, would ultimately assure the success of the proposition, but the next congress does not meet until July, 1904.

SANTA FE NO. 6 SEEMS PURSUED BY A HOODOO

LA JUNTA, COL., Nov. 2.—(Special.)—Santa Fe passenger No. 6, east bound, again met disaster today at Taschen, where the engine left the track turned turtle and killed the fireman, W. H. Walker. This is the same train that plunged through the bridge at Apishopa Creek last Friday. The good fireman is a son of the engineer, who was probably fatally injured in the wreck at Apishopa. Spreading rails caused today's accident.

GIRL AND BURGLAR.

Miss Ferguy Shoots Twice at One and Another Beats Her Into Insensibility.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—(Special.)—As a result of being muffled by a blanket and beaten into unconsciousness by burglars Miss Mae Ferguy lies at her home, 32 Sibley street, completely prostrated today. Yet she is proud of her own prowess in facing the thieves and firing two shots at one of them.

Miss Ferguy, alone in the house, was awakened by noises in the kitchen. Arming herself with her brother's pistol she walked boldly into the room.

"Quiet, now," said a man backing to the door and turning a revolver upon her. "You've got a gun, but if you try to use it I'll shoot you."

When nearly out the burglar stumbled and Miss Ferguy, taking advantage of the moment, fired two shots at him. As she was about to fire again a second burglar threw a blanket over her from behind and beat her until she lapsed into unconsciousness.

IS NOW A FUGITIVE.

Heir to a Fortune Escapes from a Jail When Sentence Is Almost Ended.

PORTLAND, ORE., Nov. 2.—Robert Greenwald, an inmate of the county jail, who recently fell heir to a large estate in Pennsylvania, of which his share is said to be $250,000, has made his escape from the jail and no trace of him can be found.

Greenwald was convicted of stealing two cases of cartridges from a local department store, and sentenced to serve six months' imprisonment. The young man was made a trusty, and though he had but one month of his sentence to serve, took advantage of his position, and made his escape.

POSTOFFICE CASES SET FOR TRIAL NOV. 23

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—The cases of A. W. Machen, Diller B. and Samuel A. Groff and George E. and Martha Lorenz, indicted on charges of conspiracy in connection with the sale of letter box fasteners to the postoffice department, were today set for trial on November 23, by criminal court No. 1, of the District of Columbia.

TRIBUTE TO MEMORY OF TECH SCHOOL ADVISOR

Cornell Club Lauds Life-Work of Dr. R. H. Thurston, Who Died Last Week.

Pittsburgh scientists and university men last night paid tribute to the memory of Dr. R. H. Thurston of Cornell university, who was active during the closing year of his life in giving valuable suggestions regarding the plans for the Carnegie Technical school to be erected in this city. Dr. Thurston was director of the Sibley College of Engineering at Cornell and died suddenly at his Ithaca home while celebrating his 64th birthday, on October 25. The memorial meeting was held in the University club, Penn avenue, under the auspices of the Cornell Club of Western Pennsylvania.

Prof. John A. Brashear spoke of Dr. Thurston's life work and dwelt on the great interest he had shown in Mr. Carnegie's gift of a technical institution to Pittsburgh. When the committee was appointed to devise preliminary plans for the new institution Dr. Thurston's advice was sought, the speaker said, and he showed the greatest enthusiasm in the enterprise, decribing the need for the school, its scope of work and important matters in its curriculum. In the death of Dr. Thurston, Prof. Brashear declared that the Pittsburgh committee had lost a friend and earnest supporter.

W. M. McFarland, vice president of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company and a former instructor at Cornell, spoke in a reminiscent way of Dr. Thurston. About 40 alumni of Cornell attended the meeting, all in their college days having been students under the famous educator.

Was Selling Jewelry Cheap.

Detectives William Elmore and Oscar J. Seifert arrested Harry H. Rasp, of No. 213 Second street, Allegheny, in Sixth avenue, near Grant street, yesterday. Rasp had a gold watch, chain and locket, and had just made a deal to sell them for $10 when arrested. He told a flimsy story concerning the ownership of the jewelry. On the locket are engraved the initials G. R. K. and inside is the picture of a young girl.

Died at 110 Years of Age.

SOUTH BEND, IND., Nov. 2.—Joseph Hush, aged 110, died last night at the residence of his daughter here. He was born September 15, 1793 in New Jersey. He settled in this county 50 years ago. Until a few months past he was vigorous enough to walk 18 miles in a day.

HIGH PRICED STOCKS.

Share of New River Water Co. Offered in London for $590,000.

LONDON, Nov. 2.—(Special Cable.)—A share of the highest priced stock in the world was offered for sale today. Its par value is £100 and the price asked is £118,000. It is a share of New River Water Company stock. The share carries with it a salary of £600 with a seat on the board and a dividend of 3½ per cent on £118,000.

This is one of the companies which the London county council is negotiating with. At the price the water companies ask these shares would be worth more than £250,000. At the figure which will probably be set by the arbitrators the value of the stock it is expected will be considerably above the price asked for the share now on sale.

INVESTIGATION CLOSED.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—The commission appointed by President Roosevelt to investigate the condition of Ellis Island resumed its session today, going to the island for that purpose. Many of the employes of the island were examined regarding the sleeping accommodations for immigrants and attendants in charge of the dormitories testified that the immigrants were allowed as many blankets as they wanted.

Dr. John A. Weeks, a specialist, testified regarding trachoma, and after watching the examination of immigrants, he said the method employed was "sufficient." Statistician Junker gave statistics regarding deportation for the year ending July 30. After testimony regarding the finances of immigrants the board adjourned, the chairman announcing that no further testimony would be taken. An executive session was then held.

Labor Leaders Met Shaffer.

President Theodore J. Shaffer, of the Amalgamated association, held a conference yesterday afternoon with Vice Presidents William Gibson of the First district; Llwellyn Lewis of Martins Ferry, of the Second district, and Richard Fitzgerald of Greenville, Pa., of the Sixth district. The conference was to consider minor matters pertaining to their respective districts.

Take KODOL for Dyspepsia

Sour Stomach
Tired Stomach
Weak Stomach
Puffed Stomach
Nervous Stomach
Gas on Stomach
Catarrh of the Stomach and all other symptoms of Indigestion

Repeated attacks of indigestion inflames the mucous membranes lining the stomach and exposes the nerves of the stomach, thus causing the glands to secrete mucin instead of the juices of natural digestion. This is called Catarrh of the Stomach. It is caused by indigestion.

For many years it has been supposed that Catarrh of the Stomach caused indigestion and dyspepsia, but the truth is exactly the opposite. First comes slight indigestion, then repeated attacks of indigestion, and if something is not done the symptoms mentioned on the left follow in about the order named. Some of these symptoms may not be experienced, while heartburn, headache, constipation and many others may be, but chronic dyspepsia and finally Catarrh of the Stomach is certain to be the result if the proper treatment is not resorted to. KODOL relieves inflammation of the mucous membranes lining the stomach, protects the nerves, and enables the glands to secrete the natural juices of digestion. Its use enables the stomach and digestive organs to transform all of the wholesome food that may be eaten into the kind of rich, red blood that makes health, strength, tissue, brain, brawn and bone.

Douglasville, Ga., May 17, 1902.
I have been traveling for nearly two years and have suffered very badly from indigestion and dyspepsia. I tried several physicians and all kinds of patent medicines, but Kodol is the first and only remedy that has done me any good whatever; now I have only used two small bottles and to my surprise it has cured me sound and well.—B. W. WATHEN.

Recent experiments, by practical tests and examination with the aid of the X-Ray, establish it as a fact that Catarrh of the Stomach is not a disease in itself, but that it is a condition resulting from repeated attacks of indigestion.

The stomach and alimentary canal, or digestive tract, is lined or coated with a mucous membrane. Studding the surface of this mucous membrane are the gastric glands. Here, also, are the terminal branches of the pneumogastric nerves, and many branches from the sympathetic system.

NO HURRY ABOUT THE COMMITTEES

"Uncle Joe" Cannon Says Their Selection Will Require Much Consultation.

CONGRESS MEETS ON MONDAY

Because of the Death of Members of the House an Adjournment Will Be Taken Till Tuesday, When the President's Message Will Be Read.

Herald Building, Herald Square, Room 10, Postal Building. WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 2.

"Uncle Joe" Cannon, who is to be the next speaker of the house of representatives, has arrived in town and ready for the opening of the extra session. Today he called at the White House and had a talk with the president about Cuban reciprocity, which is to be the sole topic of discussion in the house until it is disposed of. The extra session will open on next Monday, but it has not yet been announced when the president's message will be read. Two members of the house have died since the adjournment last spring and it is probable that the house will adjourn on Monday immediately after its organization out of respect for these deceased members. In that event the message will not be read until Tuesday.

When asked about the appointment of committees, Mr. Cannon said he could give no information on that point as yet. Said he: "It will be impossible to make any definite plans until I get upon the ground. There are over 300 new members of the house, and I don't know whom to consult with. Party services and length of service in the house are things to be considered and we cannot make haste in such matters. Then there is the question of minority appointments. I don't know whom to consult regarding them as yet."

It is generally understood with a very few exceptions, the speaker will leave the appointment of committees until the opening of the regular session. As to the committee on mileage, he said: "The appointment of that committee goes without saying. We all need the money." The committee on accounts, ways and means and rules are the others that will likely be named at the special session.

Some one asked "Uncle Joe" where he intended to live in Washington this winter, and he replied: "Oh, I've got a house down here on Vermont avenue, half way between wealth and poverty." As a matter of fact the house leased by the new speaker is in a very desirable location, but his apt way of describing it is correct. Within a few blocks in one direction are some of the dirtiest and cheapest tenements in Washington, while within the same distance in the opposite direction is the center of the fashionable residence section of the city.

Distribution of Seeds.

Beginning today and continuing for four months will take place the annual distribution of seeds by the department of agriculture. In that time more than 1,000 tons of field and garden seeds will be sent abroad throughout the country. These seeds will be put up in 45,000,000 packages, and will represent an expenditure of $276,000. Each member of congress is allowed 12,500 packages of garden seeds in five varieties, and 500 packages of flour seeds. All that he has to do to get them to his constituents is to file the addresses with the department of agriculture and they are mailed direct from this city. In addition to this the department itself has an allowance of 700,000 packages, which it sends to its correspondents throughout the country, various state grange associations, weather bureaus, and state experiment stations coming in for shares. A feature that has been adopted this year is the exchange of seeds by congressmen. Those having entirely city constituents are permitted to trade their quota of garden seeds for flower seeds. Special selections of tobacco and cotton will be sent to those districts where they are most likely to flourish to the best advantage. 70 packages, each containing one peck of cotton seed, and 110 packages of tobacco seed of five papers each, go to the proper districts.

Jackies Received at the White House.

President and Mrs. Roosevelt this afternoon entertained the crew of the government yacht Mayflower at the White House. The president's family has enjoyed a number of trips on this yacht during the summer and the little entertainment today was to show their appreciation of the courteous service rendered by the crew. There were about 200 jackies in the party, embracing several negroes, a few Japs and sailormen of nearly every nationality, but never a commissioned officer among them. This was a function solely for the enlisted men. The president and Mrs. Roosevelt received the men in the east room, where all of the state affairs are held, the sailors being introduced by Col. Symons and Major McCawley. After all had shaken hands with the president and his wife, they filed into the state dining room where an elaborate lunch was served to them. Masters Archie and Quentin Roosevelt had charge of this part of the affair and they saw to it that not a hungry jackie left the White House. The boys were attired in sailor suits and enjoyed the event as much as anybody.

Rodey Ready for Business.

Delegate Rodey of New Mexico has arrived in Washington prepared to renew the war for statehood for his territory and Oklahoma. Mr. Rodey said today that the fight would be renewed in this congress. It is not known whether Senator Quay, who led the statehood forces in last congress, will be prevailed upon to take the leadership again. It is not likely that an omnibus bill will be presented this year and Oklahoma and New Mexico may fight the battle alone, leaving out Arizona, which was a stumbling block to the omnibus bill. Mr. Rodey declined to outline the fight but he said that it would be carried on as strenuously as before. Said he:

"We have a population now greater than many states, our wealth is as great as nearly all of the southwestern states outside of Texas, and we can see no reason why we should be kept out of the union."

President Goes Home to Vote.

President Roosevelt left here tonight for Oyster Bay to vote. He was accompanied by Secretary Cortelyou, of the department of commerce and labor, who votes at Hempstead, L. I., and by Private Secretary Loeb. They had a private car attached to the 1:10 train on the Pennsylvania. The president will be in Oyster Bay but about two hours, being scheduled to start back to Washington at 11:15 a. m., and arriving here at 8:00. A great many jokes have been cracked over the fact that the president makes this trip to vote for a Democrat. This is correct, as the Democrats nominated Judge Dennis O'Brien for another term on the court of appeals and the Republicans indorsed his nomination. Arrangements have been made to receive election returns at the White House tomorrow night.

WIFE, ASKED TO ELOPE KILLS HER TEMPTER

Conceals Revolver in Folds of Her Dress and Uses It With Deadly Effect.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Mrs. Guiseppe Denicola of West Hoboken, a good-looking woman of 35, was implored today by Domenico Bashetto, who has a wife and several children in Italy, to elope with him. Instead of doing so she drew a revolver she had hidden in the folds of her dress and shot him dead.

The tragedy, which did not occur until Bashetto urged the woman to compel her to flee with him, was witnessed by her three children. Mrs. Denicola was taken to police headquarters and placed in charge of the matron.

"I am glad it is all over," she said. "He would have killed me. He has been bothering me for many years. I could not drive him away. He said my husband had no right to me. I told him to go support his own family. He followed me wherever we went. We have moved many times to avoid him, but he always followed.

"That's why I say I am glad I shot him. It was the only way to get rid of him. He was getting worse and worse and I was afraid every day he would kill me."

The shooting occurred in the front room of the Denicola home. Mrs. Denicola's husband had been away at his work only a few minutes when Bashetto, who was in the habit of watching for his departure and laying siege to the woman's heart, walked in.

TO MEET IN PITTSBURGH.

State Board of Health to Hold No Special Session, but Regular Meeting Here.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 2.—Dr. Benjamin Lee, secretary of the state board of health, said today in regard to the smallpox situation in Allegheny that the city would not be quarantined.

Dr. Batt, who was sent to Allegheny by the state board to investigate the situation, reports that all of the regulations of the board will be complied with by the health authorities of that city. "Under these circumstances," he said, "the state board of health will not consider it necessary to hold a special meeting in Pittsburgh for the purpose of being more directly in touch with its representative in that part of the state, but it is probable that the regular meeting of the board, which is always held the third week in November, will be called for Pittsburgh this year."

SPOTS ON THE SUN CAUSED DISTURBANCES

PARIS, Nov. 2.—The almost complete paralysis of the telegraphic system on Saturday last is attracting the attention of numerous scientists, including Camille Flammarion, the astronomer, who attributes it to magnetic disturbances, caused by huge sun spots, which crossed the center meridian of the sun on Saturday. Eugene Antoniali, formerly a coworker of M. Flammarion at Juvisy, says the disturbance was due to a magnetic storm caused by a group of sun spots 128,442 miles in length. The largest sun spot, according to M. Antoniali, was 37,260 miles long.

KRATZ PAPERS WILL BE FORWARDED TO MEXICO

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—The application of the state of Missouri for the extradition of Charles Kratz, one of the fugitive St. Louis aldermen who is now held under arrest at Guadalajara, Mexico, on a charge of bribery, was received at the state department today. The papers will be forwarded at once to an agent of the state of Missouri now in the city of Mexico and it is expected that Kratz's trial will begin at once.

PUBLIC DEBT SHOWS AN INCREASE FOR OCTOBER

Falling Off in Customs Receipts and Increase in Expenditures.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—The monthly statement of the public debt shows that at the close of business, October 31, 1903, the total debt, less cash in the treasury, amounted to $920,402,501, which is an increase for the month of $2,649,966. The debt is recapitulated as follows:

Interest bearing debt	$ 905,277,060
Debt on which interest has ceased since maturity	1,196,830
Debt bearing no interest	392,585,913
Total	$1,299,059,803

This amount does not include $919,843,869 in certificates and treasury notes outstanding, which are offset by an equal amount of cash on hand, held for their redemption. The cash in the treasury is classified as follows: Gold reserve, $150,000,000; trust funds, $919,843,869; general fund, $149,222,931; in national bank depositories, $77,929,941; in Philippine islands to credit of United States disbursing officers, $4,670,205; total, $1,301,666,007, against which there are demand liabilities of $1,012,429,504, which leaves a cash balance on hand of $378,657,502.

The comparative statement of the receipts and expenditures show that for the month of October, 1903, the receipts were $46,963,218, and the expenditures, $51,910,478, leaving a deficit for the month of $4,947,260. With the exception of the month of July, when, it being the beginning of the fiscal year there are always largely increased expenditures, there has not been a monthly deficit since April, 1899. The principal falling off in revenues is in customs, where the receipts were $22,850,962, as against $26,741,709 for October, 1902. Internal revenues show total receipts of $20,813,851, an increase of about $357,000. The leading factor in the deficit, however, is the increase in the expenditures from $46,904,965 in October, 1902, to $51,910,478, for October this year. These expenditures were occasioned by a deficiency of over $3,000,000 in postal revenues and over $1,000,000 paid to the St. Louis Louisiana Purchase exposition. The expenditures on account of the war department increased over $2,000,000 on account of the navy. Both of these departments were given increased appropriations at the last session of congress. For the four months of the present fiscal year there is shown a surplus of $660,260.

The monthly circulation statement issued by the comptroller of the currency shows that on October 31, 1903, the total circulation of national bank notes was $419,610,683, an increase for the year of $89,134,849 and a decrease for the month of $515,552. The circulation based on United States bonds amounted to $380,650,821, an increase for the year of $44,567,852 and an increase for the month of $1,134,997.

The circulation secured by lawful money aggregated $38,959,862 a decrease for the year of $5,733,285, and a decrease for the month of $1,050,849. The amount of United States registered bonds on deposit to secure circulating notes was $332,726,830 and to secure public deposits, $163,260,893.

MARIE LAYTON MUST SERVE PRISON TERM

Young Woman Accused of Embezzling $50,000 Gets One to Five Years.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Marie Layton, formerly employed as cashier by the United States Playing Card Company, charged with embezzling $50,000 and who pleaded guilty to two charges of grand larceny, was sentenced today by Judge Foster to serve not less than one year and not more than five years in state prison.

Before the young woman was sentenced her counsel, Leo J. Kersburg, declared to the court that certain directors of the company had organized a club known as "The Cinch club" for the purpose of defrauding the other directors of the company, that the young woman was the secretary of that club and that she was taught to manipulate the company's books. Mr. Kersberg, addressing the court, said that large dividends had been paid to Miss Layton and to the members of the "Cinch club."

"This is an unusual case, your honor," said Mr. Kersberg. "This girl is of great intelligence and of good family. Her whole ambition has been to educate her sister. At the age of 21 she became connected with this company and was taught how to manipulate its books. It was not until improper relations with a member of the company occurred that she fell. All checks had to be indorsed by a certain officer of the company. She loaned money to this director and officer of the company and he accepted presents from her, a $25-week clerk. Living as she did in that atmosphere of corruption is it a wonder that she did wrong?

New York Pool Room Interests Unsuccessful With Commissioner Greene.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Police Commissioner Greene declared today that last June an agent of a pool room syndicate made an offer to Deputy Commissioner Piper of $300,000 to allow the pool rooms of the city to run quietly until January 1. Some person, who is as yet unknown to him, called on a friend of Capt. Piper and said that if Richard Roe would get Piper to consent to a quiet running of pool rooms until January 1, he would pay to Capt. Piper $50,000, and would pay the handsome sum of $75,000 to Richard Roe for his service.

The matter was laid before District Attorney Jerome, who said that as there were no witnesses an indictment could not be obtained.

SCHOOL TEACHERS STRIKE FOR AN INCREASED SALARY

TOLEDO, O., Nov. 2.—All the teachers in Loudon township, Seneca county, are on a strike. School term commenced today, but not a school opened. The teachers feel that they have been ill paid, and held a meeting Saturday night, deciding to keep the schools closed until larger salaries are granted them. Seven schools are closed in consequence.

PITTSBURGH GOT THE LION'S SHARE

TWO MONTHS' EXPENDITURES

Treasurer Harris Paid Out $7,179,414.16 During September and October. Nearly All of Which Went to the School Districts.

The report of State Treasurer Harris for October, shows that a large portion of the balance of $11,883,004.91 in the general fund of the treasury at the close of the month was deposited in banks and trust companies in Pittsburgh and vicinity.

Treasurer Harris paid out $7,179,411.16 during September and October, a large portion of which went to the school districts, charitable institutions to which appropriations were made by the last legislature, and on account to the contractors on the new capitol. Less than 100 of the 2,600 school districts have been paid and the others will receive their share of the fund when they file their reports. Following is a list of the state depositories in Pittsburgh and vicinity and the amount held by each:

MAKING A HOME OF THE WORKHOUSE

With a record of having been committed to the workhouse oftener than anybody else in Braddock, Mike Navlon, a name given a Slav by the Braddock police because he has an unpronounceable name and a mania for smashing saloon windows, was again sent up yesterday. Mike first appeared in Braddock six years ago, and it is alleged he has had but one day of freedom between each sentence since. Saturday he was released from the institution and on Sunday reached Braddock. He acquired a jag and in the evening smashed two windows in a saloon and was arrested.

W. & J. AND STATE ELEVENS TO PLAY

Effort Being Made to Bring Rivals Together Thanksgiving Day—Mosse Explains Rule.

PRACTICE AT PREP. SCHOOLS

The Washington and Jefferson and Pennsylvania State college elevens may be the football attraction Thanksgiving day in Pittsburgh. "Chauncy Bill" Edwards, a former State player, is trying to bring the two institutions together again on the gridiron and is very desirous of having them play at the Colosseum Thanksgiving.

State, it is claimed, has no game carded for Thanksgiving, and is willing to meet Washington and Jefferson once more. W. & J., however, is scheduled to play the East End A. C., but it is thought that the game could be cancelled without trouble and State taken on instead.

The fact that State is a college team would insure a larger turnout of graduates and former students of both colleges, with the usual quota of football followers than would attend a game with an athletic team. W. & J. and State have been on the outs for a few years past, and at last both were never on very friendly terms because of fights on the football field.

State is scheduled to play the West Virginia university team in Pittsburgh this Saturday. This game will in all probability be decided at the Colosseum. For a while it was thought that State and West Virginia would be unable to play here because of no available field, but W. U. P. has shown a friendly spirit by agreeing to play the Westminster college team at New Wilmington Saturday instead of the Colosseum, its home field. Coach Mosse of W. U. P. said yesterday that W. U. P. would make such arrangements for the good of the college sport.

W. U. P. will play the East End A. C. this afternoon at Recreation park. Mosse yesterday had a squad of his men out practicing. The squad was small, not numbering enough to get a team for signal work but in hopes to have others out today to play the game.

The trick of Dillon, the Carlisle Indian, in hiding the ball under his jersey in Saturday's game against Harvard, which got him a touchdown, is declared to be a violation of the rules by Coach Mosse. Mosse said yesterday that the rule comes under the head of unsportsmanly plays, and that he himself was responsible for having it adopted. Said he:

"Some years ago when I was coaching a normal school in Kansas we had a game with a school which was not our equal in playing strength. One of the players on the opposing side had a big leather head gear, which he would tuck under his arm and then start around the ends. My players thought he had the ball, when the man who did have it was going around the other end. As a consequence we were grabbing legs all around. I wrote to Walter Camp, explaining the action of the player, and I noticed in the book of rules the next year that there had been added a rule governing such plays."

Once again is there peace between the football players and the faculty at East Liberty academy. The players held a meeting yesterday and after some deliberation decided to get together again and finish the schedule. Kennedy Townsend Burton, who was captain, is now allowed to play because of an objection on the part of his parents. Halfback Watt Carr was appointed temporary captain and Wright will take Burton's place at quarterback.

Because of the strike which the players called it, East Liberty loses the services of Jack Moyer, the fast right-half and strategist of the team. Moyer was to have left Washington to play the Washington high school, and the following players will constitute the party: Edwards, center; Frey and McCandless, guards; Winn, Bryan and Sutton, tackles; Rowan, Taylor and Dunn, ends; Wright, quarterback; Bulger, full back; Seibert, right half, and Carr, left half.

The team will go into the game at Washington without having had the benefit of any practice since the Tiski game, and also weakened by the absence of Moyer. Moyer was looked upon as a good player in the intercholastic field and track meet next spring, and his loss will be felt.

Yesterday was a quiet day for all the local school teams. Shadyside had no practice, and the work at Pittsburgh High school was light, and the players took it easy because of the absence of Coach James, who went to Princeton yesterday to see his old team, Cornell, play Princeton.

Capt. Arch Williams gave his Shadyside team a day off, but beginning with today practice will be held every afternoon of the week preparing for Kiski, which will be played next Monday, and High school on the 14th.

Game on the Bluff.

The Pittsburgh college management secured a strong attraction for this afternoon by getting the Lyceum players to play on the Bluff. The East End Lyceum team was scheduled to play Ivy Hollow, but hedged out of the game, and the Lyceum team was taken on. The Lyceum is one of the best local athletic teams this season, and the argument between it and the college boys will be worth going to see.

THREE VARSITY MEN ARE ABSENT

SECRET WORK AT HARVARD

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Nov. 2.—All of the Yale football team that played against Columbia except Metcalf, Owsley and Soper were at work in signal practice again on Yale field this afternoon. Soper's ear which was badly torn on Saturday has been sewed, 11 stitches being necessary. Rockwell, despite his lame shoulder, ran the team today.

To develop their powers of defense and to give them practice in picking out the man with the ball in a line bucking style of game, Farmer and Mitchell were almost played off their feet today in a long scrimmage between two strong scrub teams. Both men were coached individually.

The Princeton football management has engaged the Pequot clubhouse at Morris Cove for the team from the night before the game.

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., Nov. 2.—(Special)—There was little encouragement to be derived from the Harvard football practice this afternoon, and in fact, as far as could be learned, the practice, which was to secret, was along the same lines that have been followed all the season, and which are generally believed to have achieved very poor results.

The coaches were evidently afraid of the men today, as they were given very light work. The long halves of the Indian game last Saturday and the severe struggle which they had to go through to win, undoubtedly took a good deal out of the men, and none of them were any too fresh when they reported for practice. In a 15-minute line-up between the varsity and second, the former scored one touchdown.

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 2.—(Special.)—Princeton football players were all sufficiently recovered from the effects of the game with Cornell on Saturday to indulge in light practice this afternoon. The coaches continued their policy of last week, maintaining the utmost secrecy throughout the entire afternoon's work.

The teams were put through a short interval of signal practice and after a run round the field for several of the players who are still suffering from bruises received on Saturday, were taken in charge by Trainer Robinson for the rubbing-down process. There is considerable comment as to whether or not this week will result in several changes in the make-up of Princeton's eleven.

ITHACA, N. Y., Nov. 2.—(Special.)—The Cornell varsity football team has not yet fully recovered from the defeat at the hands of the Princeton Tigers and were given a complete rest today. Not a regular player reported in togs on Percy field. The first substitutes were lined up against the scrubs, but the practice was uninteresting.

The coaches are greatly worried about the game with Lehigh Saturday, for the men are thoroughly discouraged that it will be a difficult matter to arouse their hopes and the men are physically in too poor condition to do anything.

ANNAPOLIS, MD., Nov. 2.—(Special.)—The disadvantage under which the midshipmen labored in their defeat was shown this afternoon, when, despite the defeat at the hands of Pennsylvania State college on Saturday and the urgent need of practice, the midshipmen were prevented by a drill from having a minute on the field. The coaches will begin strenuous work tomorrow.

FOUR PLAYERS INELIGIBLE.

West Virginia University Faculty Acts When They Are Weak in Class.

MORGANTOWN, W. VA., Nov. 2.—(Special.)—The athletic committees of the university today served notice on the coach and captain of the football eleven that Nulton, Ludes, Falls and Ruble have been declared ineligible to play on the team for the reason that they have not made satisfactory grades in their classes. Without Nulton and Ludes the team will be much weakened.

PLAYERS ARE SORE.

Only Light Work Given to the Wash-Jeff Team.

WASHINGTON, PA., Nov. 2.—(Special.)—Somewhat stiff from their Saturday game, the W. & J. varsity squad engaged in only light signal practice and kicking this afternoon. Sutter, whose shoulder was badly wrenched in the game with the D. C. M. C., left for a few days' rest at his home in Ohio. It is thought that he may be able to get into the game against Annapolis next Saturday.

Regular practice will be resumed tomorrow, and the work for the rest of the week will be hard. The coaches are letting up a trifle in the severity of the work, as some of the players appear slightly overtrained. W. & J. has five more stiff games, with Annapolis, Westminster, West Virginia, East End and Geneva.

AN EVEN THOUSAND.

The Iron Man Refuses a Five Hundred Increase.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—(Special.)—John McGraw, manager of the Giants, has offered Joe McGinnity an increase of $500 in salary to play with the team. McGinnity refused to accept the amount, saying that unless McGraw offered him $1,000 he would not play next season.

McGraw asked McGinnity to wait another week so that he may wire President Brush and find out from him whether he is willing to give this amount. It is thought that Brush will be willing to grant McGinnity the sum he asks.

STROBEL WANTS LONG TO MANAGE TOLEDO

TOLEDO, O., Nov. 2.—President Strobel of the Toledo American association team, is negotiating with Herman Long, last year short stop for the Detroit American league team, to become manager and captain of the Toledo American association team next season. Long is here conferring with Mr. Strobel and it is probable the deal will go through.

PHILLIPPE AND LEEVER BACK IN PITTSBURGH

Milwaukee Wants Glassburner and Ortleib, and Keefe Seeks Job in Either Big League.

Among the callers at baseball headquarters yesterday were Deacon Phillippe and Schoolmaster Sam Leever, the Pirates' star twirlers, who have been missing for the weeks, and who were spending their time at Mt. Clemens boiling out their pitching arms. Phillippe's arm was only tired from the extra work imposed on it during the world's championship series, but the Schoolmaster was a rheumatic victim and was therefore of little use to the team during the important series.

Both pitchers reported having been greatly benefited by their trip and would be ready to go in and pitch winning ball today in case it was necessary. A singular thing in connection with the trip was that although both were at St. Clemens at the same time and were living within a stone's throw of each other, they did not see each other until they met yesterday afternoon. Leever came back with a tale of woe as he had received word that a favorite hunting dog of his had been poisoned, and Fehmy, the boniface at Goodrich's, spent one night with a ballot in one hand and blood in his eye as he proposes to make it warm for the party who poisoned his dog. Deacon Phil will spend the season hunting in Indiana county, having Hans Wagner as a pointer. The pair was out last week and brought home enough game to supply all their friends.

William Glassburner and Ortleib, an Allegheny battery, is wanted by the Milwaukee Western league team for the coming season. Glassburner, who is a righthanded pitcher, and Ortleib, a catcher, were with the Niles Independent team the past season, where they both did good work.

John Keefe, the local umpire who was in the Southern league the season which just closed, will make applications to both the National and American league presidents for a place on their lists. Keefe has umpired in nearly all the minor leagues in the country, and is considered a competent official. Phillips, he has served his time in the minors and should be given a job by either President Harry Pulliam of the National or Ban Johnson of the American.

Some years ago Keefe applied to N. E. Young, then president of the National league, for a position. He sent an application that he considered worded nicely and included recommendation from persons of reputations in the sporting world, as to his ability. Young, he said, sent back an application blank, which had about 40 questions for him to answer, of which all but four were unnecessary. He was so disgusted with them that he did not return the blank filled out, and so passed up what chance he had for breaking into the league.

If he is not successful in landing a job as umpire he will likely try to get a franchise in a new league, which is to be formed in the south to be known as the Southeastern league, which will include some of the best cities in that section. One player Keefe would like to take south with him, if he goes as a manager, is "Hunky" Soffel, the former Pittsburgh High school infielder.

CRESCENTS MAKE CLAIM.

The Crescent A. C. of the East End, which was not beaten last year nor has been scored against this season, claims the championship of the teams in the 80-pound division. The Crescents claims they have defeated every team in their class who have had a show for the title. Last year they won 9 games, and already this season they have defeated the Chamberlain A. C., 28 to 0; Linewood A. C., 7 to 0; Allen A. C., 33 to 0, and W. R. Blacks, 46 to 0. November 7 is open, but they meet the Mifflin A. C. November 14; Steubenville High school, November 21, and the Suburban A. C., Thanksgiving.

JOCKEY BURNS MARRIED.

His Wife Is the Widow of a Former Jockey.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—(Special.)—The news has just leaked out that Jockey "Tommy" Burns has been a benedict since last spring, having taken "Dottie" Clawson for a wife some time last March. He did not wish it known that he was married on account of a nullification of a contract he then held with Mr. Whiting, but it been announced.

"Dottie" figured as the "goon" of "Dick" Clawson. An incident in connection with the marriage is the fact that both her husbands were jockeys for the Whitney stable. She is a daughter of James McLaughlin, one of the most noted riders this country ever knew.

Is German Golf Champion.

BERLIN, Nov. 2.—Dr. George O. Webster, an American, has won the golf championship of Germany from H. H. Dobbs, an Englishman, for the championship title. Webster also won the handicap championship.

Basketball Gossip.

There will be an important meeting of the Allegheny County Basketball league tomorrow (Wednesday) evening at Luckhart's. All teams are requested to have their representative on hand at 8:30 sharp.

The Watsons would like to hear from the Manchester Juniors, South Side Juniors and Parenthum Y. M. C. A. for games. Would like to hear from Freedom Juniors for Thanksgiving. Address C. R. Kammerer, 2508 Perrysville avenue, Allegheny.

The Allentown team has been organized. The boys constituting the team are: R. M. Russell, G. Vaughn, J. Mauser, E. Malkus, J. Johnson and O. H. Thomas. SURPRISE IN ALLEGHENY COUNTY BOWLING LEAGUE

East Pittsburgh Team Takes Two Out of Three Games—All Other Scores.

In the Drug league, the May club won three straights from the Kelleys, and in the Diocesan league the St. Vincent team took two out of three from the St. Nicholas.

SERGE IN ACCIDENT.

Goes Into Ditch With Rider and Both Escape Uninjured.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 2.—The steeplechase at Latonia, which was won by Ed. Corrigan's Serge, furnished the most exciting accident ever seen at the Latonia track. While making the last jump in the home stretch Trisco turned a complete somersault and fell into the ditch alongside the fence. From the grand stand it looked as though both horse and rider had been killed, but in a few seconds the horse was on its feet, apparently uninjured. Jockey Wilson was knocked senseless and when examined by the track physician, it was found that his hip was crushed and he was internally injured.

HAD A NOVEL SCHEME.

Penn Avenue Man Alleged to Have Worked Get-Rich-Quick Game.

In the arrest of E. Sachs, who conducts a small store at Twenty-fourth street and Penn avenue, yesterday, the police believe they have put an end to an alleged get-rich-quick game. The new scheme is a novel one, benefitting alone the one operating it. The arrest was made on two informations, one each being made by Hirsh Nrdine and Charles Markowig. The charge is false pretense.

The plaintiffs in the case, who allege they are victims of Sachs' ingenuity, say he has for sale incentive positions on the Pennsylvania railroad. For $50 Sachs is alleged to have offered a position for life and a pension; for $20, just a plain position was offered. It is alleged Sachs secured several hundred dollars from foreigners and failed to produce the situations.

A group of angry job purchasers appeared at his home yesterday and demanded their money back. Sachs assured them everything would be all right if they would but wait. They insisted upon getting their money back or else having him arrested. Sachs told the crowd to choose two of their number to make the informations, and Nrdine and Markowig were the ones chosen. Sachs is held to await a hearing.

NEW PIPE LINE IN USE.

Peoples Company Completes Its $5,000,000 West Virginia Connection.

For the first time since the completion of the Peoples Natural Gas Company's line, from the West Virginia field to Pittsburgh, the gas was turned on yesterday morning. The line was completed early Saturday evening at a total cost of $5,000,000. Two thousand men were engaged since the first of April in its construction.

Inspector F. L. Hadley is in Monongahela this week, and will remain until the main line is in perfect working order. Men are stationed all along the line, a distance of 58 miles, to report all defects to Mr. Hadley. The gas flows to Wilkinsburg, where feed pipes distribute it to Pittsburgh and suburbs.

The woman was arrested in her home in Everett street and had in her possession about 25 yards of silk which she said was purchased from Allen. The Rowe firm missed its goods several months ago.

TEBEAU PLANS FOR A CIRCUIT

Louisville Club Owner Has a Plan by Which to Revolutionize the Minor Leagues.

THE SCHEME LOOKS GOOD

BUFFALO, Nov. 2.—The effort of George Tebeau to revolutionize affairs among the minor leagues at the recent meeting in St. Louis did not meet with success, but at the same time it demonstrated that Tebeau is up to the times in baseball and knows full well that similar changes as he suggested are bound to come before there will be perfect harmony in league ranks.

Tebeau's plan to form one strong minor league organization by combining the strongest cities of the American association and Eastern league is not a new one by any means. That plan was the original idea of the old Western league (now the American league), and it would have been carried out had not the National league at that time refused to grant a few demands made by the Western league. When the National league ignored the Western league it brought about the war which has been so costly among the major organizations. The late Matt Killilea, the owner of the Milwaukee club, had planned with Ban Johnson for a combination with the Eastern league, taking in Buffalo and Toronto in place of Minneapolis and St. Paul.

Owing to the attitude of the National, the project was abandoned and was declared on the powerful National league itself. The Western had Detroit at that time and was also in Cleveland, so that, with Buffalo and Toronto in the east, and Milwaukee, Indianapolis, Louisville and either Kansas City or Chicago in the west, the circuit would be the strongest that could be formed. Among the minors.

Tebeau's idea differs somewhat from that of Matt Killilea, inasmuch that he does not count on Cleveland and Detroit at this time, but looks for them later, as they would drop to Minneapolis and Saint Paul and take in the two Eastern cities, and have Milwaukee, Indianapolis, Louisville, Kansas City, Toledo and Columbus to complete the circuit with. It would then give the Western league Minneapolis and Saint Paul and compel the Eastern league to keep closer to New York. The plan is not a bad one and may be carried out. The circuit would be an ideal one for a strong minor league and it is only a question of time when baseball men will get together and fight that way.

George Tebeau may be a bulldog when it comes to fighting in league councils, but he usually gets there in the end. He may be termed a troublesome citizen to deal with, but at the same time all of Tebeau's plans have been pretty much for the betterment of the leagues, and at the same time for the benefit of Baseball in general. When all indications are that way, only some of them have not the necessary brains to map out such deals.

RACE TRACK VICTORY.

Making Book Held Not to Be a Criminal Offense.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Magistrate Tighe in Brooklyn today dismissed the complaint against Special Policeman Robert G. Ruttle which is considered a victory for the race tracks of the locality. The charge against Ruttle was employed as a special officer at the Brighton Beach race track on Pair 8 last and was arrested on a charge of violating the section of the penal code making it a misdemeanor for a public officer wilfully to neglect the performance of his duty. He was arrested in an effort made by pool room proprietors to have betting reopened at the race tracks.

The allegation was made that Ruttle should have prevented Bookmaker Sol Lichenstein from making a book on the track. The magistrate held that Lichenstein was not engaged in acts punishable by criminal law. The acts he was engaged in had been declared not criminal by the court of appeals. Therefore, Ruttle was not called upon to arrest Lichenstein.

ICE STOCK ADVANCES.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Ice stock took a sudden jump on the stock exchange today. The buying movement was constructed as a gamble on Tammany success, it being expected that the concern would obtain a renewal of favors which it was alleged to have received under the Van Wyck administration.

With the opening of the polls only a few hours off, both Fusion and Tammany leaders are today asserting their confidence in the result. Fusion leaders predict a plurality of not less than 40,000 for Low.

At Tammany headquarters Charles F. Murphy insisted that his estimate of 85,000 for Manhattan and the Bronx was right. Senator McCarren now claims 5,000 for Tammany in Brooklyn.

George W. Morgan, superintendent of elections, said today that very few illegal votes will be cast tomorrow. If "floaters" are imported from Philadelphia and Baltimore Mr. Morgan said he would be ready to punish any of them who should vote. Betting odds which were 10 to 8 in McClellan's favor Saturday swung around today until Low ruled favorite on the curb.

AN EVENING WITH THE PLAYERS

Alvin—"A Girl from Dixie."

Mr. Harry B. Smith's name is conspicuously displayed as the author of what the program calls "a musical comedy novelty," at the Alvin this week. We refuse to believe it. While Mr. Smith has been variously and oft identified with musical comedy books of one kind or another, we positively refuse to believe him guilty in this instance. "A Girl from Dixie," so far as its book is concerned, is wholly without form and void. It is a living, palpitating example of the desperate straits to which reputable writers are driven in order to meet the demand for something in the musical comedy line. Surface indications make the supposition easily possible, that Mr. Smith wrote the libretto between his breakfast chocolate and his after dinner cigarette. The story, so far as it goes, concerns a young Maryland girl, Kitty Calvert, of course it had to be Calvert if Maryland was to be the scene. Kitty is discovered in the first act attending school at Tamarack, Md. A young New York lawyer appears suddenly and declares that there is a big fortune coming to the Calvert family. A young cousin is the real heir, but he immediately steps aside and gives Mr. Smith a chance to take the whole town of Tamarack to New York, after an English lord has blown in and declared that he is madly in love with the fair Kitty. The second act is in a big New York mansion, and when D. L. Don comes in Mr. Smith's rescue and does an exceedingly funny stunt as a burlesque piano player. Parenthetically, Mr. Don is playing the role of Kitty's German stepfather. Things finally work around to a point where Kitty and Jack believe, but by order to fail into line with Hall Caine and other distinguished dramatists, Mr. Smith makes the English lord do the wholly unusual thing of standing by his contract, fortune or no fortune, and the marriage goes gaily on. Into this jumble of farce, or burlesque, or whatever one may please to call it has been thrown a number of songs, duets, quartets and choruses from almost every imaginable source, but fortunately, to every one's credit, the melodies are popular and familiar. The usual posing and grouping of choruses is resorted to, a la "Florodora," a la "Chinese Honeymoon," and even a la Primrose and Dockstader's minstrels.

Miss Bertree Bentley, who sings and play "the girl," is an exceedingly pretty and graceful little actress. If her playing of the role was intended as a burlesque, it was hardly broad enough in places. If it was intended as the genuine article, we would hardly advise Miss Bentley to take it down in Dixie with that claim tacked on it. Indeed, the puzzle constantly is: Did Mr. Smith mean to burlesque? The preponderance of evidence is of course in favor of an affirmative answer. The free and easy mixed school would seem to settle that point; but there are times when we have a suspicion that he is seriously asking us to take his book as "local color." Besides, Miss Bentley, and this young lady is certainly very charming personally, we have D. L. Don as a burlesqued German music teacher. Arnold Daly played this role originally, but he did not quite get down to the level of Mr. Don. Mr. Don is exceedingly funny and scored a genuine hit in his piano solo. Albert Hart, who was once the legitimate successor of De Wolf Hopper, sings in a big voice and puts a lot of fun into the role of the school teacher. Chester French and Charles Sinclair do a negro team part with considerable gusto. Pretty little Diamond Dehner sparkled quite as brilliantly as her namesake, while Adelaide Sharp is amusing as a stuttering girl, a la "The Liberty Belles." Ferdinand Gottschalk is cast as the English lord, and right here our grievance against "The Girl from Dixie" breaks out afresh. For Gottschalk, the clever little artist, who has some fine dramatic work in the legitimate chalked up to his credit, one could almost weep. One of his lines declares—"I find this sort of thing different, don't you know." That is just the way we feel about it. It is difficult to see musical comedy novelties swallow up genius in that sort of way. For the loss of Mr. Smith we might have been consoled, for he is still young and indefatigably clever, but to take away from us actors like Gottschalk is a destruction of material of which we have all too little as it is.

"A Girl from Dixie" will please the people who like that sort of thing.

Grand—"A Parisian Romance."

Mr. Hugh Ward can hardly quarrel with the reception given him by his Pittsburgh friends at the Grand Opera House yesterday. After an absence of five years Mr. Ward comes back to the scenes of his earlier triumphs as a comedian, and by pleasant arrangement appears in the role in which he said goodby five years ago—that of Baron Chevrial in "A Parisian Romance." When Mr. Ward appeared yesterday the audience with characteristic Pittsburgh good nature, demanded a speech to which the actor responded giving both the speech and a well merited rebuke to the well-meaning but inartistic souls who demand that a man shall step out of character at the beginning of an act in order to say something that there is no need should be said. At the evening performance Mr. Ward balked at a speech, but in honor of a number of his club friends made a brief speech later in the performance, it was a clever beginning for the young actor. As the dissipated old roue, Baron Chevrial, Mr. Ward presents a satisfactory rather than a striking portrayal. There is a lack of force in the early scenes, an absence of the sort of individuality that one looks for in a role of this kind. In physical appearance the Ward Chevrial is intended to keep well within the age to which the part has been limited by the lines—55 years, but the evidences of moral and mental senility do not at any time impress the beholder. There is the halting step and shaking hand, but the voice is strong and steady and at times there is an openness in the facial expression which narrowly misses benevolence. These defects do not rob Mr. Ward's portrayal of interest, but they reduce its impressiveness and take away a certain repellent sense of mingled pity and shame for a character that is without a single redeeming moral quality. In the supper scene the actor redeems his lost ground to some extent and lifts the work of portrayal to a little higher ground. In the last scene of all when the miserable old sinner receives his death stroke there is an excellent moment of real dramatic power, so much so that you regret the monotone through which this high key has been reached. In the toast to Rosa, and to animate and incarnate battle with which the baron closes his career the actor vivifies the impersonation and both in voice cadence and in theatric business gives a startlingly fine denouement to a role that has lacked these individualizing features up to that time. There is no need to refer here to Mr. Mansfield's impersonation of the role in order to make comparisons. Mr. Ward is a comedian of somewhat less distinctive individuality and his work is entirely his own. These things considered, he deserves high praise for a characterization that indicates rather than expresses talent for work outside the sphere of a comedian accustomed to less tragic roles.

Mr. Robert Wayne's work as Henri deserves a cordial word of praise. It was simple, manly and direct, indicating that this actor has ability when given a role in which he can display it. Miss Eva Taylor as Marcelle also deserves praise for some excellent work in the third act, when driven to despair she decides to leave her home. Miss Taylor when forced into a situation demanding repression is sometimes exceedingly strong and dramatic. Her tendency to gurgle and lose her breath between sentences seems to desert her and the character of her work is immensely improved thereby. Such a moment she has in the scene referred to, and her work is a startling commentary upon her fine reserve force as an actress. Miss Ida Adair as Rosa shares honors with the star. Her work is capital, not wholly Parisian, possibly, but a tersely drawn character study of that type. Beyond a diversity of French pronunciation the rest of the cast gave Mr. Ward excellent support, the stage settings are handsome and elaborate, especially the supper scene, and the general effects of the production in admirable taste. Tonight the election returns will occupy the time of the entre acts.

Avenue—Refined Vaudeville.

Pittsburgh theatergoers who saw Miss Eleanor Falke in "The Chinese Honeymoon" last season, were not surprised yesterday when the dainty comedienne danced herself into the favor of two big audiences at the Avenue. Miss Falke, although she was known as one of the most capable members in the cast of the popular musical comedy, had not been billed as a top-liner. However, she needed no herald in advance. One light, airy melody with an oriental flavor, was all the singer needed as a vehicle to win the best graces of her audience. The people in the orchestra heard the "swish" of fairy skirts as a pair of tiny feet described the seemingly impossible evolutions of the bridesmaid's dance; they watched her ever-changing, but always winning smile, and for her intelligent acting and graceful posing awarded her first place in the Avenue's bill of excellent offerings this week. The Albino troupe of musical artists rendered a fine program with harp, banjo and bells. That the people are as much interested in knowing how tricks of magic are performed as in watching the mystifying movements of the magician, is shown in the applause given Martini and Max Millian, one of whom executes well-known tricks, while the other exposes him. Willfred Clarke and company yesterday produced the old English farce, "Toodles," but the humor of Britain never catches well in an American audience, and for the balance of the week this excellent company will be seen in a new sketch, "In a Biograph." Valencia, a beautiful aerialist; George C. Davis, Borani and Nevaro, comedy acrobats; the Avolos gymnasts, and other equally clever performers, have places on the bill. New interest centers in Marcel's living pictures. Reproductions of well-known works of art and sculpture were shown by trained models. The light effects and the chaste posing of the Venus-formed women, who enacted the characters in the pictures gave the performance a place far above that of the average living picture production.

Empire—Hagenbeck's Trained Animals.

Hagenbeck's trained animals are at the Empire this week, sufficient reason why the up-town theater should be crowded every night. The marvelous exhibition of wild animals in all sorts of "stunts" not only offers a pleasing and instructive variation from the season's programs of comedy, but gives the hundreds of lovers of animals a chance to see what kindness, firmness, patience and gentleness accomplish in bending the stubborn will of ferocious animals to the whims of man. The entertainment is not without its funny side for the performing pigs are sure to convulse the audience with laughter. The sea lion brass band is another feature calculated to please the most sober minded. These same seals give a wonderful exhibition of juggling. The goat congress may not include the same species of animals that belong on the barren cliffs of Pittsburgh but its members are well posted on their respective duties and cause no end of merriment. Popescu's handling of the tiger and the elephant is worthy of special mention and Herman Boger's collection of tigers, leopards and boar hounds is tamed to a degree almost incredible. The wrestling match of John Dodar and his favorite polar bear is another puzzle to the uninitiated. A valuable addition to the Empire will be interested and instructed as well as amused.

A tank drama can be awarded praise for other merits beyond the number of barrels of water which splashes the audience at the crucial moment when the hero takes his realistic plunge, although many patrons of the Bijou yesterday found one of the most interesting features of "The Shadows of a Great City" to be the amazing capacity of the tank which represented the dark depths of Harlam river. The audience reached a pitch of enthusiasm which seemed all the more remarkable when it is remembered that the piece had often been seen before. No play that is built for the edification of the patrons of exciting melodrama, is more successful than "The Shadows of a Great City." The story of life in New York on the famous East Side where the extremes of light and shadow are strikingly pronounced, and sometimes tragically emphasized, is well told and the characters, with the exception of the playwright's touch of exaggeration, exist in real life today. Humor and pathos, in humble environment, seem in perfect accord with the demands of the melodrama, which otherwise would appear grotesque. Miss Annie Ward Tiffany, who assumes the role of Biddy Ronan, is surrounded by a capable company. The stage settings and mechanical effects are of the first order.

Duquesne—Imro Fox Show.

The Imro Fox vaudeville combination is a decided improvement over the show offered here last year under the same management. Imro amuses himself with the same transparent and amateurish magic that has characterized his performance heretofore, which he punctuates with a sort of humor equally bad. Canfield and Carleton have a funny musical skit entitled "The Hoodoo," which compelled frequent applause, and Sherman and DeForrest caused 15 minutes of laughable excitement with their "rough house" absurdity. "The Battle of San Juan" and the hand balancing act of Fred Zobedie is an excellent gymnastic performance, and the singing of Lena Thurber and her bogey boys, pleased the audience. Charles Colby, the ventriloquist, presents an entertaining and finished act, and with Allie Way as his dancing doll, Reed, a large part of the audience guessing for a while. William Cahill has a fair monologue. Ricobono's trained horses are amusing and instructive. The spectacle of a horse going to bed and pulling the blankets over himself seemed to please the audience exceedingly.

Academy—"The Brigadiers."

"The Brigadiers", including a contingent of good singers and funmakers, began a week's engagement at Harry Williams' Academy of Music last night. There is little that is military in this organization, but in clever specialties and pardonable horse-play the show they give is a good, all round performance, abounding in catchy music and new dances this element of the entertainment being advantageously exploited in two side-splitting burlesques. Topliners in the olio are the five members of the Martell family of acrobats in some marvelous feats upon the bicycle. John A. West, the musical juggler, has some new tricks and manages to get music out of almost every conceivable instrument. Kennetti and Patterson are good backtalkers and Nellie Burt is a sweet singer. The Martine brothers are a pair of comedy acrobats that surprised everybody, and Hendrix and Prescott proved themselves to be wonders in soft shoe dancing. In the chorus are a number of pretty girls with good voices. While pretty Nellie Stapleton is one of the bright stars of the beauty show.

Mr. Mansfield's New Role.

Richard Mansfield as Karl Heinrich in his charming "Old Heidelberg," last night began the last week of his New York engagement which has been distinguished by crowded houses at every performance. Mr. Mansfield has not in a long time had a role or play which has given so much genuine pleasure as the present. His private car and special train are this week being put into commission for his trip to this city. The big chorus of Heidelberg students will swell his traveling list to over 100.

PERSONALS

L. Hulleman, representing Van Straten & Elenbaum, exporters of hides and skins, of The Hague, Holland, arrived in Pittsburgh yesterday in the interest of the firm and is staying at the Lincoln. This is Mr. Hulleman's first visit to this country and he is greatly interested in the sights. He says that residents of The Hague are proud of Andrew Carnegie's gift, the building donated for the purpose of holding peace conferences. Business is good in Holland and the prospects are for a continuance of flourishing times. Politics there is nothing to mar the harmony that has existed for some time. In discussing his business in hair, one of the principal exports of Holland, he said: "The United States some ago put a tariff on calf hides, and for that reason the Holland cattle raisers make a specialty in sending them to this country. A tariff of 15 per cent ad valorem is placed on cow hides, consequently but few are shipped to America. Those that are shipped are made into leather to be sent back to Holland. In returning the leather made from the exported hides a percentage of the duties charged is refunded. The cattle raisers prefer allowing their cattle to mature, thus making American calf hides scarce." Mr. Hulleman arrived in New York two weeks ago and will return to Holland some time this month.

Robert O'Brien of Buffalo, president of the Retail Clerks' Protective association, who has been in Pittsburgh for the last two weeks organizing a branch of the association, left for his home last night. He will cast his vote today, after which he will go to Boston to attend the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor, which will commence next Monday.

John B. McDonough of Reading, Pa., secretary and organizer for the tube workers, returned home last night after spending several days in this territory. He will represent his organization at the American Federation of Labor convention.

M'KEESPORT BUSY.

Mills in McKeesport and vicinity are resuming after several weeks of idleness. The full complement, day and night, has been started again at the W. DeWees Wood plant, some of the departments having been operated for a month on part time. The Pittsburgh Steel Hoop Company at Glassport has resumed work in all departments, restoring employment to 600 men. The American Ax and Tool Company's plant, at Glassport, which has been idle for two weeks, has likewise resumed, as has the Demmler tin plate plant.

After an idleness of three days, to allow the steel mills to catch up with the orders for rails, the five foundries in connection with the Edgar Thomson plant at Braddock resumed yesterday morning.

BOOM FOR THE WORLD'S FAIR

LARGE SUMS APPROPRIATED

Sweeden Decides to Send an Elaborate Educational and Industrial Exhibit. That Nation Will Also Erect a Pavilion for the Americanized Scandinavians.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Charles W. Kohlsaat, special commissioner from the world's fair to Sweden, Norway and Denmark, has reached this city after an absence of a year and a half in the interest of the exposition. He is bearer of special messages of King Christian of Denmark to President Roosevelt and to David R. Francis, president of the St. Louis exposition.

The king sends his most cordial greetings to President Roosevelt and to President Francis a personal message of regret that upon his recent trip to Europe he did not visit Scandinavia.

Mr. Kohlsaat reports that in Sweden 120,000 crowns have been appropriated for an art and educational exhibit and that there will be a large important exhibition of industrials. The national enthusiasm is so great regarding the project that 100,000 crowns were appropriated last month to build a national pavilion, a copy of a famous palace in Stockholm, which is to be used as a clubhouse during the exposition.

The indications are most favorable regarding Norway and Denmark in their participation. One hundred thousand crowns has been appropriated by each nation, and it is promised that the porcelains of Copenhagen will form the finest exhibit of the kind ever made.

Mr. Kohlsaat met with the utmost cordiality in Scandinavia and it was to him that Gustaf, the crown prince of Sweden, recently expressed a desire to visit America and the world's fair next year.

PITTSBURGH COAL MEN PLACED ON RIVER BOARD

By the resignation of five directors of the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company and the choice of five Pittsburgh Coal Company directors to succeed them, the latter interest was yesterday morning given control of the river company. The river directors who resigned are Col. J. B. Finley (president); H. C. Fownes, George I. Whitney, R. H. Boggs and Hugh Moren. The Pittsburgh Coal Company directors elected are Francis L. Robbins (president); John A. Bell, W. R. Woodford, Henry W. Oliver and A. W. Mellon. Mr. Whitney will continue as treasurer of the company and George W. Theis as secretary. Mr. Robbins becomes at once president of the company.

The story of the consolidation of the two interests has already been told in full in The Gazette. The Pittsburgh Coal Company now has overwhelmingly the greatest interest in the bituminous coal industry, both the rail and the river trade being under its direction. The purchase of the control of the river company was made on the basis of $15 per share for the common and $45 for the preferred stock. The common is paid for at the rate of $5 yearly for three years, and the preferred by setting aside 6 cents a ton out of each ton of coal sold with semi-annual settlements with the persons from whom the stock was bought. George I. Whitney and Whitney & Stephenson, who financed the deal, agreed to take 75 per cent of the common stock and 25 per cent of the preferred of all other stockholders on the same terms. Yesterday was the last day for the deposit of the stock for this purpose. It is said that the greater part of the minority interest took advantage of the offer.

...SHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Sir Chentung ...h Cheng, the Chinese minister here, ...cting under instructions from his gov...rnment at Peking, has been particularly active recently in the effort to interest the United States government in China's behalf in her Manchurian troubles. He was at the state department today in pursuit of that object, the direct purpose to see if any way can be found by which the United States government may be able to serve China in this emergency.

"It appears, however, that Secretary Hay has not been enabled to hit upon any plan of action that would promise to serve China in this manner. There is no question that the events reported as having happened at Mukden regarding the reoccupation of that town are not looked upon by friendly eyes by the officials here, but so long as the United States government secures and retains trade in Machuria it will not be drawn into the political complications of the present situation.

BERLIN, Nov. 2.—The German government, which is supposed in its policy to lean toward Russia, is not making any political capital out of the approaching meeting of Emperor William and the czar at Wiesbaden Wednesday next. An intimation has been spread through the government newspapers that the meeting of the two monarchs will be of a purely social character and without political significance. The German emperor will arrive at Wiesbaden tomorrow from Saalburg, where he went to examine the latest excavations at the Roman camp, and the czar will reach Wiesbaden the day following. The two monarchs and their suites will be present at a gala performance at the opera, which, it appears, will be the only festivity.

Capt. Joseph N. Nelson, whom veteran yachtsmen remember as the pilot of the Genesta when she raced the Puritan in 1885 for America's cup, died at his home in Stapleton, N. Y., yesterday. Capt. Nelson was one of the oldest of the Sandy Hook pilots, and his service dated back to the time when the men who guided craft into New York harbor were renowned throughout the world for seamanship and daring. He was born in Nova Scotia 66 years ago. Born in Nova Scotia is born to the sea, and Nelson at an early age became captain of a Nova Scotia bark. Later he came to New York, served his three years apprenticeship, and on June 25, 1872, was made a pilot. In those day, however, the number of licensed pilots was limited, and a young man had to wait until one of the veterans died or retired. Nelson waited over 15 years, and among his employments during that time he sailed the English cup challenger.

INJURIES TO WORKMAN RESULTED IN HIS DEATH

While working on the new Tenth street bridge William Myers, aged 30 years, of No. 3329 Carson street, South Side, a structural iron worker, fell and fractured his skull yesterday morning. He was taken to the South Side hospital, where he died yesterday afternoon. His body was removed to his home.

Albert Stevens, aged 23 years, a toby roller, of No. 527 Evergreen avenue, Millvale, was found dead in his bed by his wife at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. He had taken a quantity of carbolic acid. The poison, however, is not thought to have caused death. It is supposed smallpox was the real cause.

The body of James Boyd, a negro who was killed on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad near McKeesport last Wednesday, is still lying at the morgue. A sister of the dead man called at the morgue last week and claimed the body and prevented the burial at Highland cemetery on Friday afternoon. She said she would look after the remains; but she has not been heard from since.

John Dobson, an Italian, aged 38 years, of No. 17 River avenue, McKeesport, was killed at Demmler station yesterday morning by an extra freight train. Dobson stepped from one track to allow a passenger train to pass, but failed to notice the freight that was approaching from the opposite direction on the other track.

William L. O'Donnell, who was found dead in a cell at Central station Sunday afternoon, was identified at the morgue yesterday by his brother, Francis J. O'Donnell, of No. 476 Ellis avenue, Wilkinsburg. O'Donnell said his brother was a barber and 25 years old. He said he had not seen him for two weeks and did not know where he lived, but thought it was somewhere in Allegheny.

Nicola Rossa, the Italian who was murdered at McKeesport on Friday night, on a charge of committing which Barcanus Carmine is now in the county jail, was buried yesterday in St. Joseph's cemetery, McKeesport. A large number of the dead man's countrymen and women attended.

SURVEY TO BE MADE OF BOUNDARY LINE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]
WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Gen. John W. Foster, agent of the United States before the Alaskan boundary commission, has arrived in this city with the official text of the findings of the commission. Gen. Foster had an interview with Secretary Hay today on the results obtained in London and later dined with the president.

When he completes his report Gen. Foster will deliver the findings to Secretary Hay, who will enter into negotiations with the British government for the appointment of expert surveyors to mark the lines of the boundary as they have been described by the commission.

Canadian charts will be used as a basis for the survey work. It seems that the Canadian as well as the American government expended a large sum of money in the preparation of their case. The work of the Canadian cartographers was much more extensive and elaborate than that presenting the American case, and it was accepted by the commission as a standard.

There are seven large charts, in pale buff color, of Canadian design, awaiting filing in the department of state, each bearing the signatures of the American commissioners and Lord Alverstone, and these will constitute the American record of the boundary between Alaska and British Columbia.

BANK WITH NEGRESS FOR ITS CHIEF OFFICER

RICHMOND, VA., Nov. 2.—A savings bank for negroes with a colored woman for its president, began here today. It is under the auspices of the Colored Order of St. Luke, and members of that order from New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland and other states were on hand to make deposits. The aggregate of the deposits today was $75,000.

Escaped from Monongahela Lockup.

MONONGAHELA, PA., Nov. 2.—(Special.)—Shouts from the city lockup this morning brought city officials running down the stairway. The prisoners excitedly announced that James Wallace, a negro awaiting a hearing on a charge of carrying concealed weapons, had escaped. The lock on the cell in which Wallace had been confined is defective. Once in the corridor he quickly leaped through the rear window and disappeared over the hill.

Happenings of a Day.

ORDNANCE CHIEF SUBMITS REPORT

WORKS SHOULD BE ENLARGED

Suggests That Army Factory Be Given Work on 10 and 12-inch Guns for New Vessels and That Washington Factory Be Enlarged.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]
WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—To aid the navy in manufacturing the 918 guns necessary for the 25 battleships, armored and protected cruisers and gunboats Rear Admiral Charles O'Neil, chief of ordnance, in his annual report, recommends that the navy call for assistance on the army gun factory at Watervliet and on private concerns and that congress appropriate $1,000,000 for the general increase of the navy gun factory at Washington. He believes this to be the most judicious solution of a very serious situation.

This recommendation is not in accordance with the report of the board of officers appointed to pass on the needed additions to the gun factory, which recommended the enlargement of the factory at a cost of nearly $4,000,000 and the practical monopoly by the government of gun manufacture. The army has offered to manufacture 24 8-inch and 24 7-inch guns within 30 months. Admiral O'Neil advises the manufacture by the gun factory of the 58 10 and 12-inch guns and of as many of the guns of smaller caliber as possible. The remainder, he thinks, could be contracted for "with private parties to such an extent as can be done with prudence, having due regard to the certainty of the completion of the work within the required time."

Establishment of an ordnance corps in the navy is another important recommendation of the chief of ordnance who says in his report that "it almost seems as if a permanent corps of specially trained officers to perform ordnance duty is necessary if we expect to do justice to this important branch of the service. It is no exaggeration to say that should one or two officers now on duty in the bureau be detached without proper relief—and proper reliefs are very hard to find—the most important duties of the bureau would practically come to a standstill and serious embarrassment will follow."

Attention is called to the danger to the inhabitants of Cavite because of the proximity of the old Spanish fort now used for the storage of powder. A petition signed by a large number of Filipinos for the construction of a naval gun factory at a safe distance from the town has been received at the navy department and the chief of ordnance urges a sufficient appropriation for this purpose.

Of the explosion on board the Iowa last winter of one of the 12-inch guns resulting in the death of three men, Admiral O'Neil says: "The true cause will always be a mystery."

As Admiral O'Neil retires next year he concludes his report with a brief resume of the work of the bureau of ordnance since he assumed charge in 1897.

ONE KILLED IN WRECK IN ALLEGHENY YARDS

One man was killed, four were injured, none fatally, and a number of persons were considerably bruised and shaken up by a wreck in the yards of the Pittsburg & Western branch of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad yesterday morning. During the heavy fog that prevailed a passenger train ran into an open switch and collided with a freight engine. The dead and injured are:

THE DEAD:

WILLIAM I. CUNNINGHAM, aged 45, of Ohio street, Millvale; engineer of Butler accommodation train No. 58, thrown under engine and scalded to death.

THE INJURED:

CHARLES STILLWAGON, fireman of freight engine, scalded and crushed; is at Allegheny general hospital.

J. C. CORNELIUS, engineer of freight engine, thrown against roof of cab, crushed and injured about head and body; taken home.

J. B. GRIENELL, baggagemaster of passenger train, bruised about head and body.

The Butler accommodation left the Allegheny station at 6:10 and proceeded slowly owing to the fog. When the Armstrong & McKelvey siding, at Chestnut street and River avenue was reached, the passenger train took a sudden swerve and ran into the switch. Engineer Cunningham applied the brakes and tried to stop his train, but the distance was too short and the passenger train crashed into the engine on the siding. Both engines were overturned and badly damaged, and when the crews and frightened passengers went to make an investigation it was found that Engineer Cunningham was pinned under the passenger engine, crushed and scalded to death. Both of the firemen were also caught, and besides being considerably crushed, were scalded by escaping steam. Engineer Cornelius of the freight engine had a miraculous escape, he being saved by being shoved against the top of his cab, where he was protected from being crushed and from the escaping steam.

E. B. Emery, conductor of the passenger train, said his train was proceeding cautiously owing to the fog, and he declared that no flagman was out, as should have been the case when the switch was left open. Flagman Harry Wood of the freight has denied that statement, declaring that he flagged the approaching train 40 car lengths from the switch entrance. He said that owing to the slow rate of speed at which the train was going he thought the flag had been seen and had been heeded.

The railroad company will look into the matter and place the blame for the wreck, which no doubt was caused by someone's carelessness. All of the passengers escaped injury, but were considerably shaken up and frightened.

DOWIE SOLDIERS IN FULL RETREAT

THEIR MISSION A FAILURE

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]
NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Dowie's "restoration host" has shaken the dust of New York off its feet. It was a sadder but wiser lot of Zionites that pulled out of the city this morning on their way back to Dowie's own little town in Illinois.

Special trains were run over the various roads to take the followers of Dowie back to Zion. When they came here the party was 4,000 strong. There had been so many who had become disgusted with their experiences and had gone home early that only 2,000 had to be taken back today.

Dowie's managers generously distributed four sandwiches, some crackers, apples and grapes to each member of the host and told them that they would have to live on this supply until they reached Zion, about noon tomorrow.

There was probably never a sicker looking lot of people left this city on special trains. If the patients in all the hospitals were turned loose at once and escorted to the railroad stations they would not have looked more forlorn and ill.

It has cost each one of the 4,000 who came here an average of $50 each for railroad fare, two weeks' board, lodging and street car fare, as well as incidentals, in addition to this personal expense, it is estimated that Dowie himself spent about $125,000 out of the church funds. The net result of the two weeks' crusade that was to reform New York has been the baptism of 57 persons.

As a matter of fact only 12 of these came from New York. When Dowie saw that his mission was to be a disastrous failure he hurriedly drafted into service all the children of Zion that had not yet been baptized and added them to the list of those to be immersed in his Madison Square garden pool.

Dowie, a number of his church officers and a few members of his choir, will remain here this week to conduct a few meetings in Carnegie hall with the hope of bracing up the few followers who live in this city.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 2.—(Special.)—Because she had the wrong ticket a deaconess of Elijah III. today delayed a special train of 200 Dowieites an hour on their way home from New York to Chicago and disarranged all through traffic on the Pennsylvania road. The deaconess lost her bearings in New York and was rounded up with the wrong bunch of elect. She only found this out when the conductor of the special came to examine the tickets of the outfit midway between New York and Philadelphia. The conductor could not put her off, and as the train was not supposed to stop, he wired to Philadelphia for instructions. Word reached him at Germantown Junction to run into Broad street station. He did and Matilda got her transporation straightened out in the terminal.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—President Roosevelt received the indorsement of Alexander J. Dowie, the Zion prophet, today in an interview granted at the executive offices to the members of the Dowie business cabinet who are on their way from New York to Zion City. Judge Barnes, the spokesman for the cabinet, delivered the indorsement of the prophet. The president indorsed his appreciation of the sentiment. After the interview with the president the Zionists were joined by the women of the party and inspected the White House.

LIVERPOOL, Nov. 2.—Mrs. Dowie, wife of John Alexander Dowie, the Zionist leader, their son, Gladstone Dowie, a lady's maid and a colored valet, arrived here today from Boston on the steamer Saxonia, and were besieged by reporters. Mrs. Dowie emphatically denied that she had Dowie's treasure chest with her or that she intended to start a mission in London, and confirmed the reports that she will ultimately proceed to Australia, where Dowie will join and conduct a great mission. Gladstone Dowie was very bitter in his denunciation of the American newspapers.

GROVER IMPOSSIBLE SAYS SENATOR STONE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]
WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Senator William Stone of Missouri and member of the national Democratic committee said tonight: "Cleveland is impossible and out of the question as Democratic candidate next year. Gorman good and strong; Judge Parker would be an ideal and powerful candidate in every way; I am not sure about Hill."

The senator was in England this summer, and in speaking of Canadian affairs said:

"If Canada ever severs with Great Britain and becomes independent, it will be her first step toward annexation with the United States. Annexation would then be almost inevitable, and it might bring about strained relations between this country and England. I never pass through the beautiful St. Lawrence river and view the thousands of vessels flying the British flag there unless I feel that the great river and the country it belongs to should be a part of this republic.

"The friendly feeling in England for this country, that I saw in evidence on every hand made me feel at times like cheering for the British flag and I am frank to say that I have never felt quite that way before."

COURT-MARTIAL HITS STONE WALL

CANNOT GET AT THE FACTS

ANNAPOLIS, MD., Nov. 2.—The proceedings in the naval court martial, called for trial of the three midshipmen of the first class, charged with hazing members of the fourth class, began today in the office of the commandant of midshipmen.

The first midshipman to be arraigned was John H. Lofland of Oskaloosa, Ia., and his plea was not guilty. All of today's session was occupied with the hearing of witnesses for the prosecution. As soon as the trial of Lofland is completed the court will take up the cases of Joseph D. Little, of Springfield, O., and Earle W. Charles, of Rhineland, Wis.

The men are charged with having subjected midshipmen W. W. Lawrence, of Colorado, and Churchill Humphreys, of Kentucky, of the fourth class, with physical indignities. The former, it is alleged was compelled to stand on his head and the latter forced to undergo protracted physical exercises.

The members of the court martial are Lieutenant-Commanders W. C. P. Muir; W. R. Shoemaker and W. H. G. Bullard. Lieut.-Commander B. W. Wells, Jr., is judge advocate. Daniel R. Randall, state's attorney for Anne Arundel county was appointed to act for the accused midshipmen. The witnesses examined today were Midshipmen Lawrence and Humphreys, whom it is charged were hazed, and a number of other fourth class midshipmen.

All of them, as is usual in cases of the kind, showed the greatest reluctance to say anything that might tend to injure the accused midshipmen or even to admit the existence of hazing.

CUBANS GRATEFUL TO PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

HAVANA, Nov. 2.—The regular session of congress opened this afternoon. The recommendations in the message of President Palma are chiefly of a general character. The much discussed loan taxes are not gone into at length and no amendment to the loan law is suggested. The president promises a special message with reference to the negotiations of the loan commissioners who went to New York, who, the message says, are certain that the loan can be obtained in the United States.

Continuing the message assures congress of the president's zeal in carrying out the payment of the revolutionary army and Senor Palma denies all assertions to the contrary made by persons whom he terms "certain turbulent spirits."

Referring to the relations between Cuba and the United States, the message says:

"Our political relations with the United States have been definitely settled by treaties founded on the terms of the constitutional appendix and the latter could not be eliminated from the constitution by the mere reading of these treaties. Congress can appreciate that within the precise terms of the Platt amendment Cuba has obtained no few advantages. Of the two forms of cession of naval coaling stations, by sale or by lease, the one least baneful to cuban sentiment was adopted and the smallest limit as to the number of stations granted was made; the regulations in the leases contain other limitations favorable to Cuba. The government is acquiring territory within the stations and will soon formally deliver the areas marked out.

"The Hon. President Roosevelt to whom the people of Cuba feel such profound gratitude, has been faithful to his word and has convened the American congress in special session for the purpose of taking action on the pending reciprocity treaty, from which we hope to receive such great benefits; trustworthy information has been received by the executive which warrants the belief that this treaty will be ratified."

DESERTERS HAVE NO PLACE THERE

Secretary Moody Answers the Charge That Our Navy Has Foreign Gunners.

GIVES STATISTICS AS PROOF

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., Nov. 2.—William H. Moody, secretary of the navy, delivered an address this evening before the Harvard Political club on "The Administration of a Navy."

The course of his remarks, which outlined in a general way the functions of the navy and the methods of maintenance and administration, Mr. Moody referred to the statement that had been published to the effect that the marksmen of the navy of the United States were deserters from the British navy, tempted to the American service by the high pay offered. After stating that this allegation was entirely without foundation, Mr. Moody said:

"I personally have not much faith in the accuracy of computations based upon the number of hits discoverable by an inspection of ships sunk or burned in the battles of Manila bay or Santiago. It is enough to say that the enemy's seamen were driven from their guns, their ships were set on fire, were sunk or beached and that not one escaped."

Speaking of the high scores made by the gunners in recent practice tests, Secretary Moody said:

"These results have been accomplished by American citizens. All of our officers are of course Americans, and of the 29,806 enlisted men, 76.8 per cent are native born; 10.9 per cent are naturalized citizens and 9.3 per cent are aliens in substantially that of several years past. We may have deserters from other navies in our ranks. I know of none, however, and if I learned of one I would instantly discharge him."

LAWYER MAKES CHARGES AGAINST FEDERAL JUDGE

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 2.—James W. Newlin of Philadelphia, counsel for certain asphalt bondholders, in a letter sent to President Roosevelt, declares that Andrew Kirkpatrick, United States district judge at Newark, should be impeached and removed from office. The primary reason, Mr. Newlin says, is because the judge "has brought the administration of justice into contempt through his being the active president of a trading corporation known as the Federal Trust Company."

Mr. Newlin then relates Judge Kirkpatrick's connection with the reorganization of the Asphalt Company of America and declares that he was astute enough to use the forms of law in order to carry out the designs of the Biddle organization committee which included depriving the minority certificate holders of their just rights by making the court the means of transferring the assets of the insolvent corporation to the nominee of the Biddle committee at the committee's own price."

To cap the climax of these alleged travesties on justice, Mr. Newlin says, the judge went so far as to name the receivers for the company that had been agreed upon in advance, thus depriving his clients of any voice in their selection.

Pleasant, is dying from a bullet wound accidentally inflicted by his wife, who had been firing at boys in the street on Hallowe'en eve. Long says that after she had fired all the cartridges, and to prove it she leveled the gun, it is said, at her husband and pulled the trigger. The bullet which followed penetrated Long's breast. The wife is prostrated.

How Strong Are You?

The dial of the punching machine won't answer that question. Strength depends on nutrition. When the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition are diseased, the body fails to receive its full supply of nourishment and hence grows weak. That is why no man is stronger than his stomach.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and the allied organs of digestion and nutrition. The food eaten is then perfectly digested and assimilated and the body is made strong in the only possible way—by nutrition.

"I was troubled with indigestion for about two years," writes Wm. Bowker, Esq., of Juliaetta, Latah Co., Idaho. "I tried different doctors and remedies but to no avail, until I wrote to you and you told me what to do. I suffered with a pain in my stomach and left side and thought that it would kill me. Now I am glad to write this and let you know that I am all right. I can do my work now without pain and I don't have that tired feeling that I used to have. Five bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and two vials of his 'Pleasant Pellets' cured me."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets stimulate the liver.

SOCIETY.

FORMAL announcement of the engagement of Miss Sallie Speer Dunbar and Alexander M. Speer, Jr., was made yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Plumer sent out 400 invitations for the reception, which was from 3 until 6 o'clock. Her assistants were Mrs. Thomas H. Hays, Mrs. William N. Frew, Mrs. James B. McFadden, Mrs. Christopher L. Magee, Mrs. Albert J. Barr, Mrs. James H. Reed, Mrs. John Watson, Mrs. Herbert Spencer, Mrs. Louis K. Schmertz, Mrs. Samuel Plumer, Miss Elizabeth Sellers and from this year's group of debutantes, Miss Emily Lyon, Miss Sara McKnight, Miss Anita Hamilton, Miss Georgia Heard, Miss Alice Guthrie, Miss Helen Macbeth, Miss Jeannette Abbott, Miss Mary Robinson, Miss Janette Brown, Miss Mary Rolf, Miss Marion Starks, Miss Margaretta Bruce, Miss Eleanor McCook, Miss Edith McClung, Miss Narcisse Kennedy, Miss Gladys Painter, Miss Helen Thompson, Miss Martha Herron, Miss Mary Mellon, Miss Jean McGinley and Miss Helen Ferguson.

The two dark green parlors on the second floor of the Schenley were effectively decorated in yellow chrysanthemums. Smilax draped the large doorways and windows in one room, where a large vase of white chrysanthemums was placed on the table. The large double windows with red hangings were outlined with smilax, while the chandeliers were covered with dainty yellow shades and chrysanthemums of the same hue. The white pillars also bore garlands of smilax. The serving table stood before a background of palms and ferns.

The smaller side-lights had shades of yellow and on two tall lamps were dainty floral shades, corresponding in color with the other decorations. Streamers of white tulle, terminating in large yellow chrysanthemums, surrounded the central chandelier, while a little bower for the punch bowl was formed of smilax and palms. The two tea tables were placed in the smaller rooms. The table covers were of lace and embroidery and exquisite centerpieces were formed of Japanese yellow chrysanthemums and asparagus sprigs. The blooms of beautiful bouquets presented to Miss Schmertz occupied prominent places on chairs and cabinets in all the rooms. These were chiefly of long stemmed yellow bild ofhe blossoms. All were tied with wide satin and tulle ribbons.

Mrs. Plumer wore a handsome imported gown of white chiffon, with bolero of heavy lace and trimmings of Persian velvet. Miss Schmertz was gowned in white voile with a deep bertha of lace and chiffon. Her flowers were bonsilene roses and valley lilies, tied with pink ribbon and white chiffon. The ushers, who received with the hostess and the debutante, wore a costume of black chiffon and lace over white silk.

Miss Schmertz is a daughter of Mrs. Clarence E. Schmertz of Center avenue, who will give a dance for the debutante on December 28. Miss Schmertz attended school at Eden hall.

Tourists' Club Musicale.

A musicale of unusual interest followed the regular meeting of the Tourists' club yesterday afternoon in the assembly room of the Business Women's club, in Arch street, Allegheny. The musical program was presented by Miss Julia Doran, a new member of the club, who has recently come to Pittsburgh from Berlin and Leipsic. She studied under Klindworth and Ansorge, in Berlin, and was a member of the Philharmonic choir in that city. The ensemble was assisted by a large number of club women not members of the Tourists' club. The program, which was well rendered and delighted the audience, consisted of the "Magic Fire" music from Wagner's "Valkyrie," followed by a minuet by Schubert, a rhapsodia by Liszt and "Hark, Hark, the Lark," by Schubert-Liszt.

The subject of the literary program at the meeting was Byzantium. Mrs. A. A. McLachlan read a paper on "The Byzantine Empire, the Founding of the New Rome." Miss Stoner gave a reading, "Binding of the True Cross," and a sketch of "Byzantine Art" was prepared by Mrs. Emma Miller and read by Miss Stoner. A conversazione on "Constantine" was lead by Miss McDermott. The papers and discussions were interspersed with duets, Miss Dix playing a "Bervarole" by Godard and Miss Ella Day and Miss Evelyn Day singing a duet, "The Fishers," by Gebhard, and by request a favorite song with the same theme, "I Do Not Know a Bank Whereon the Wild Thyme Grows."

EFINES OLICE POWER

BLE IS CONVICTED

Sub-District School Directors led and New Board Appointed. oman Found Guilty of Fortune Telling—Mandamus Against Water Co.

An opinion that will be of interest to police, sheriffs and constables has been received by Prothonotary George Pearson. It was handed down by Justice Orlady of the superior court in the appeal of Philip Rhoads from the court of quarter sessions of Somerset county. Rhoads was a deputy sheriff. He was given a warrant by a justice of the peace for the arrest of Robert Mauver for a misdemeanor on July 16, and Rhoads attempted to arrest Mauver. The latter ran and Rhoads fired him across several fields, fired six shots at him, and hit him. Mauver died from the wound, Rhoads was arrested and convicted of voluntary manslaughter. An appeal was then taken to the superior court.

In the lower court put forward the plea of self-defense. To this Justice Orlady says Rhoads was never in danger. While Mauver was awaiting arrest, he was not physically resisting the officer. The court says that when an officer in making an arrest for misdemeanor is met with forcible resistance he is not obliged to retreat but may use such force as is reasonably necessary; but he is not justified in taking life except when the resistance is so forcible that the officer is in danger of death or great bodily harm. Justice Orlady also said: "To permit the life of one charged with a misdemeanor to be taken when fleeing from arrest would, aside from its inhumanity, be productive of more abuse than good. Security of person and property are not endangered by petty offenders being at large as in the case of a felon. The taking human life in the name of the law is the punishment inflicted after conviction of only the highest grade of felony and it would ill become the majesty of the law to justify such a sacrifice in not arresting one charged with a misdemeanor, when, if taken and convicted, a sentence of fine or imprisonment only would be imposed."

The lower court was affirmed and an order made that the sentence imposed upon Rhoad be executed.

The superior court also sustained the court of common pleas No. 1 of Allegheny county in the case of the Phoenix Brewing Company vs. C. Theodore Weise. The case turned on whether or not the defendant had received sufficient notice of the protest of certain papers which had been mailed in a letter box. The court of quarter sessions of Armstrong county was sustained in a case between the poor boards of East Franklin and Pine Township, a dispute over the support of a pauper.

The Ralston sub-district school board, Ninth and Tenth wards, was ousted by Judge John D. Shafer, sitting in quarter sessions court, and a new board appointed. The new members are William Zeuger, John Tintlenot, W. L. Knorr, John Coll, Joseph Duncan and Morris Coffey. They are ordered to meet and organize tomorrow evening and they will hold office until the annual organization of the board next June. The men ousted are Charles Shafer, John Windish, George Brehler, Jr., John Carr, John Regan and Charles Melby.

The old board was taken into court on petition of the Central Board of Education because the Ralston school house was in a bad sanitary condition and the local board could not agree on awarding a plumbing contract. In his opinion, Judge Shafer says that the law makes no provision for an investigation into the merits of a dispute between school directors and it may happen that directors who have acted wisely and honestly may be removed with those who are derelict. The court also suggests that if the number of directors was uneven these disputes would be avoided and adds that if the number of directors elected each year was increased to three, and the whole number to nine, this end would be attained.

Ninety citizens of the Ninth and Tenth wards signed a petition which was presented to the court a few hours after the board was ousted asking for the reinstatement of three of the directors, John Windish, George Brehler and Charles Shafer. The petition states that these men were not at fault in causing the deadlock and were acting for the interest of the school.

In criminal court, before Judges John D. Shafer and Elliott Rodgers, Mrs. Minnie Renker, No. 1948 Wylie avenue was found guilty of fortune telling on a charge made by Inspector of Police Bernard McStay. Special Officer Harry C. Muncey was the principal witness. He said that on June 16, he, in company with a friend, went to Mrs. Renker's house and had their fortunes told with cards, paying $1 for both fortunes.

C. Jutte & Co. have entered a $15,600 damage suit against F. M. Prell and others. It is alleged that prior to December 2, 1901, the defendants owned 1,457½ shares of the capital stock of the Marine Coal Company, which they proposed to sell to the plaintiff. They are also to be represented, or caused to be represented, that the company owned 2,000 acres, on December 1, 1902, aggregating only 871⅞, when in fact the company had accounts payable to that date amounting to $14,128 38. On account of the representations the plaintiffs say they purchased the stock for $200,000, which was payable in instalments.

In the matter of Morris Scott Verner against Priscilla H. Scaife and others, proceedings in partition of the estate of James Verner, deceased, orders have been issued in common pleas court No. 1 fixing the fees of the plaintiff's counsel, Schoyer and Hunter, at $6,000, and of the master, George D. Riddle, at $2,500, the fees to be taxed as costs.

The petition for the order stated 35 tracts of land had to be examined and that the persons interested in each owned $145,536.

A writ of alternative mandamus has been issued against the Valley Consolidated Water Company, commanding the company to comply with the terms of the ordinance granted by the council of the borough of Avalon, and lay certain pipes for water extension or show cause why it should not do so.

The petition was presented by the borough of Avalon and sets forth that the defendant company obtains its authority for operating a water plant in Avalon by virtue of an ordinance passed in 1896, giving the River View Water Company the right to lay pipes on the streets, etc., of Avalon as designated by council.

The latter company assigned its rights to the present company, and it is charged that the consolidated company has failed to lay extensions, as required, more particularly to North Avalon, and as a result the ordinance becomes null and void.

MURDER CASE ARGUED.

Method of Challenging Jurors in Armstrong County Attacked in Supreme Court.

The appeal of Harvey M. Zillafrow, who was found guilty of murder in the first degree in Armstrong county June 23 last, was argued in the supreme court. Zillafrow, who is about 21 years old, had been married a year and had one child when he killed his wife. He was a coal miner, when he met Bertha Rohrmoser of Bradys Bend and married her. Subsequently they lived with the wife's parents, Zillafrow working for his father-in-law, who was pastmaster at Bradys Bend. He left there, the prosecution claimed, because of a quarrel with his wife and went to work in a livery stable at Ford City. On February 14, 1903, he drove to Bradys Bend, and with a borrowed shotgun shot and killed his wife. The defense claimed that he was very fond of his wife and child and that he was insane when he killed Mrs. Zillafrow. His conduct at the trial and his refusal to believe his wife was dead are quoted to this effect. The commonwealth claimed that the insanity was feigned to a large extent that it became a farce. The appeal attacks the method of drawing jurors in Armstrong county, the manner of challenging and the conduct of the jurors in examining the defendant in the absence of the court.

The appeal of Charles E. Schmunk from the judgment of the superior court was argued. Schmunk, who was employed by the Miller Electrical Maintenance Company of Pittsburgh, was charged by the Western Electric Company of New York with obtaining goods under false pretenses. He was found guilty, but was granted a new trial on the grounds that the quarter sessions court of Allegheny county had no jurisdiction. On the retrial the court allowed the case to go to a jury. Schmunk was convicted again, a new trial refused and was sentenced. An appeal was taken to the superior court, which sustained the lower court, and the case was carried to the supreme court. The question at issue is the jurisdiction of the Allegheny county courts. The goods in the matter were delivered to a common carrier in New York, and the defense claims that the offense, if any, was committed in that state and is punishable there.

Other cases argued were: Linden Oil Company versus R. H. Jennings et al, appellants; a dispute over an oil lease in Harrison county, Ohio; August Held versus the American Window Glass Company, appellant, an action in which Held was awarded $1,750 damages for injuries received while employed as an engineer by the appellant company, and Jay versus Ott Bros., appellants, a dispute over a contract for building a sewer.

LEGAL BRIEFS.

The Independent Stone Cutters union of Pittsburgh and vicinity was granted a charter in common pleas court No. 2 yesterday. The Braddock board of commerce was also granted a charter in the same court.

Robert L. Hurst, late of Pittsburgh, leaves an estate valued at $26,744 to J. McF. Carpenter in trust, with provisions for the payment of $30 per month to John C. Blake during his life, and $30 per month to Helen G. and Jeanne Blake. William C. Kuhn and Miss M. E. Thomas are left $1,000 each. Sallie S. Hurst of California is given $1,000. Another provision gives $35 a month to Essie T. Blake in the event of her becoming the widow of John C. Blake.

The Three Rivers

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI, Nov. 2—River 5.3 feet and falling. Showers. The bulkheads around the Florence Marmet were finished today. The pumps were set to work at 7 o'clock in the morning and before noon the hull had been pumped dry. On account of the low water and the position of the hull she will have to lay where she is until a rise comes. As soon as the cradles at the Queen City marine ways are cleared the Marmet will be pulled out and repaired. Capt. Cramer is anxiously awaiting an opportunity to have the Avalon pulled out on the ways. He thinks that the repairs will not take longer than a week, as the boat is in good condition and only minor repairs are necessary. Capt. Parsons, commander of the Big Sandusky, was a guest on Change today. No towboat movements here today. Local packets in and out as usual.

HARRY NO. 2 REBUILT.

Bids for Dam. No. 2 in Upper Ohio River Will Be Advertised Today.

The Harry No. 2, owned by the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company, has been rebuilt at Rea's, though in Duquesne way and will be started out today. She was inspected yesterday. A new cabin and new boilers have been put on the boat, and several other parts which were damaged in the fire last spring were repaired. The Harry No. 2 burned at the company's wharf in Pittsburg early last spring.

Bids will be advertised by the local United States engineer today for the construction of 376 feet of chanoine dam and a bear trap dam 102 feet and 4 inches wide. The work is for the new dam No. 2, about nine miles below Pittsburgh in the upper Ohio river. The bids will be opened December 3.

Arrival.

I. C. Woodward, Williams, Morgantown.

Departure.

Columbia, Demain, Morgantown.

News of the Rivers.

At 9 o'clock last night the marks on the gauge at the Davis island dam indicated a stage of 2.9 feet, and the river was stationary.

Considerable coal is loaded in coal boats in the local harbor, more than has been seen in some time.

The fog which prevented the movement of boats in the local harbor yesterday, was one of the heaviest experienced in some time. It was impossible for boats to move in the forenoon and the fog lifted very little in the afternoon.

Capt. John F. Dravo is keeping supplied with flowers the desks in the office of the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal & Coke Company. Capt. Dravo has about 10,000 roses of the Clothilde Soupert type in full bloom in his gardens at Beaver Falls.

Major Alexander Henderson of the Pittsburgh & Cincinnati packet line is in receipt of a letter from Mrs. Sarah Romines of Knoxville, Tenn., in which inquiries are made for her son Robert. Mrs. Romines thinks her son is working on the Pittsburgh riverman. Efforts are being made to locate him.

The present condition of the river is favorable to the work of the local engineers. Good progress is being made in improvements. Col. Roberts of the engineer office is besieged by rivermen who ask that the river be raised a few inches in some spot or other, while Col. Roberts is pleased that the water is so low.

ASTROLOGERS PREDICT ANYTHING THAT'S NEEDED

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—(Special.)—Prof. Paul is not the only astronomer doing business in the political line. He figured out a planetary circle for Mayor Low, but here's where Professor MacGabe, who can juggle with Saturn and Mars with the best of them, throw in the dragon's tail as a side line, and he predicts that McClellan will do the honors at city hall after January 1. It is a curious coincidence that both seers should say that "Big Bill" Devery will be "exalted" without specifying just how it will be accomplished.

SUMMERFIELD TRIAL DUE NEXT WEDNESDAY

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—(Special.)—Justice Davis in the criminal branch of the supreme court announced today that he had set next Wednesday as the date of the beginning of the trial of "Larry" Summerfield, who was indicted for his connection with the Horseshoe Copper Mining swindle, in which George A. McLean of Pittsburgh is said to have lost $28,000.

REPORTED GOLD IMPORTS STRENGTHENED STOCKS

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

The week opened with one favorable development in financial circles which seemed to demonstrate that the stock market was only waiting for evidence that the turn had come to steadily improve. The development referred to was the engagement of gold for import. Early in the day it was learned that two large international banking houses were bidders for gold in the London market, and later it was reported that the National City bank of New York had secured $1,000,000 of the metal for shipment hither. The bank officials did not confirm this report, but it was generally accepted as true, and toward the close of the day the reported amount had doubled. The weakness in sterling exchange, which declined a half cent in the pound, and the free offering of commercial bills, was evidence that the market was shifting or had shifted to a point where gold importations would be profitable, and experts in exchange transactions figured that there was profit in imports at yesterday's rates of exchange. It is possible that the Bank of England may take the usual steps to obstruct the outflow, and should additional engagements be made this week it is not improbable that the Bank of England rate of discount will be raised to 5 per cent on Thursday. This is the usual course; but it is doubtful if the expedient will prove successful in the present instance.

The one thing which it is well to bear in mind is that there are no artificial means being adopted to attract gold hither. Importations would have occurred ere this but for the high price of cotton which checked exports of that staple and the smaller movement of breadstuffs. Despite this falling off in our merchandise trade balance, imports of gold would likely have occurred if rates of discount in the domestic market had ruled above the parity of foreign money market rates. The advance in call money rates, and the higher rates for time loans, are the usual incidents of the season. Just now rates have strengthened not on account of any extraordinary demand for the movement of crops, but on account of the demand at various interior cities by banks which feel the necessity for strengthening their position. It is undoubtedly true that a considerable portion of the recent shipments of currency to the interior has been for the purpose of strengthening the position of banks. This is true of St. Louis and it is known that some local banks have negotiated loans in New York and Philadelphia for the purpose of providing against any possible consequence of recent developments. There may be no call for the increased supply of funds—the strong probability is that there will not be—and when confidence is fully restored, there will be a plethora of loanable funds, which will not only depress rates, but which will be available for stock market operations.

The shipments of currency to interior points yesterday amounted to about $1,810,000, principally to New Orleans and Chicago. The weekly statement of the Philadelphia banks reflected conditions very similar to those disclosed by the New York statement on Saturday. But importations of gold will offset the drain of currency, will restore confidence to the Eastern money market, and will tend to remove apprehension of stringent rates. The latter yesterday were quoted at 4 to 4½ per cent on call loans, and 5½ to 6½ per cent on time loans. In times like those through which the stock and money markets have been passing there is a disposition to be over-cautious, the effect of which is to tie up funds in the shape of large reserves. It inevitably follows, however, that the reaction brings lower rates for money, higher prices for the best investment securities, and a recovery in the stock market generally.

Another favorable development yesterday was the declaration of the regular semi-annual dividend of 3 per cent on Pennsylvania railroad stock, which will be paid on November 30 to stock of record November 5. This dividend will be paid on the new issue of stock the subscriptions for which were paid in full at the time of allotment. It will require about $2,500,000 more to pay the November dividend than to pay the May dividend. The directors' action is a complete answer to the rumors which were current during August and September that the company would reduce the dividend.

The stock market, as stated, responded to the two leading news items of the day, and while there was no material increase in the volume of the transactions, prices advanced throughout the list. The dullness was intensified by the fact that foreign markets were closed yesterday by a bank holiday, and the markets on this side will be closed by the November election in a number of states. The early advance in stocks like Brooklyn Rapid Transit, American Ice and Consolidated Gas was credited to operations for effect upon the municipal election in New York city. The conspicuous buyers of these stocks were brokers who sometimes act for prominent Tammany speculators. The simultaneous advance in the Pennsylvania and Gould groups of stocks was responsible for a revival of the story that an agreement had been reached between these supposed opposing interests, but a more plausible view was that these stocks had been sold to a standstill, and the absence of offerings made the shorts nervous. Pennsylvania opened unchanged at 120¼, advanced to 121, and closed at 120¾ bid. Baltimore & Ohio was not affected by a rumor that improvements contemplated by the company would necessitate additional security issues as soon as the market would warrant. The stock advanced to 75½ and closed at the best. Reading opened higher at 45⅝, reacted to 45⅜, and rallied to 45⅝. Wabash preferred and Missouri Pacific were among the strongest of the Gould stocks, and both closed at or near the highest. St. Paul, which is still looked upon as a pivotal stock, was conspicuously strong, advancing to and closing at 139⅜. Atchison advanced to 67⅞ and closed at 67⅝ bid. Rock Island was favorably affected by the showing made in the annual report.

Industrial securities participated in the strength of the railroads. United States Steel new 5s were quoted ex-interest, the first coupon representing $29.17 each. The bonds opened at 69¼ and advanced to 69⅝. The common stock opened at 9⅞, advanced to 10¾ and closed at 10¼ bid. The preferred stock opened at 58½, advanced to 59¼ and closed at 59¼ bid. American Car & Foundry common and preferred both made a strong rally on the publication of a favorable quarterly report, but did not retain all the gain at the close. Amalgamated Copper rallied a dollar a share to 39¾, but lost all the gain on news from Butte that there was no change in the situation there.

The transactions on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday amounted to only 1,560 shares. The tone of the market was firmer, and closing prices show moderate gains. One of the strongest stocks was Pittsburgh Coal preferred, which advanced to and closed at 62½, a net gain of $1 a share. National Fire Proofing preferred made a similar gain by selling at 25, and Westinghouse Electric was a dollar higher at 68, the latter sympathizing with the strength displayed in the East, where the stock sold at the equivalent of 68⅜. There were no sales of United States Steel here and only 12 shares of Crucible Steel preferred. Crucible common stock sold at 46¾, and closed unchanged for the day. Pittsburgh Brewing common was the most active stock, selling 420 shares at 24¾ to 24⅝. Pittsburgh Coal common held steady at 20 all day. There were no quotations on bank stocks.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

The improvement in sentiment regarding the local stock market has reached the point where some of the more conservative brokers think it may be advisable to resume trading in bank and trust company stocks. It is current gossip that trading in this group will never have been stopped but for the substantial evidence that Wall street speculators were determined to create distrust here—no matter what the consequence to local financial interests—for the purpose of influencing the eastern stock market. Current gossip deals with questionable methods that have been attempted to destroy confidence, which are bound to react upon those back of the same.

There was absolutely no selling pressure in the local stock market yesterday, and there were fewer attempts to trade "on the quiet" than for some days past. Some of the best houses are beginning to consider whether or not it is not time to begin advising the judicious purchase of securities. One of the most prominent houses stated that there was unquestionably a short interest in some of the local specialties, and that the sale of the market would now be extremely dangerous. According to current report there has been considerable distributing by local capitalists from weak to strong hands, and the additional liquidation which the street has feared is therefore not likely to occur.

An official circular was received by stockholders of the Bank of Pittsburgh yesterday relating to the merger with the M. & M. National bank and the Iron City National bank. It is recommended that the capital stock of the Bank of Pittsburgh be increased from $1,200,000 to $2,400,000, and it is stated that these stock will be offered on the basis of not less than $165 a share in exchange for stock of the two other banks. The meeting to take action on the proposition will be held December 15. This meeting will also take action on proposed amendments to the by-laws of the bank, one of them providing for an increase in the number of directors and the power to empower the directors to elect one or more vice presidents.

"From this time forward I am going to insist upon the prompt delivery of stock on purchases," remarked a leader of a large Liberty avenue house. He continued: "It has been customary to give sellers their own time in which to make delivery, and where the buyer has been a cash customer, the broker making the purchase has either delivered stock on hand or borrowed it, in order to promptly close the transaction between broker and principal. These days would await the convenience of the seller. There are now comparatively few stocks in the hands of brokers available for the delivery to customers. Today I shall insist upon delivery on stocks bought early last week. The seller had not yet been able to make delivery, and I am confident that he is short of the stock. I intend that he make delivery, and therefore I am going to insist upon delivery in accordance with the rules of the exchange."

Local and eastern banks and stock exchanges will be closed today, on account of the elections. The only important market that will be in session will be the Chicago board of trade.

The latest bank deal will not require the raising of any additional cash capital. The assets of both the Masonic National bank and the Iron City National will be purchased on the basis of actual book values, and the new shares of the Bank of Pittsburgh will be issued in exchange for the shares of the other banks.

The sales on the New York exchange yesterday were both the largest and smallest since the first two hours and 85,000 shares during the remaining three hours.

Money continued to go to the interior, the New York sub-treasury yesterday transferring $650,000 to New Orleans and $200,000 to Chicago. This movement to St. Louis was discontinued with a beneficial effect upon sentiment. The rates for time money hardened decidedly and not much business was done under 6 per cent. Call loans on the contrary eased notably and fell to 2 per cent at the last.

The net earnings of Louisville & Nashville for September increased $63,250. Chicago Great Western reported an increase of $11,000 in net for the same month.

For the quarter ended August 31 the net earnings of American Car and Foundry decreased $226,000.

The directors of the First National bank of Washington, Pa., elected Colin M. Reed president, declared a semi-annual dividend of 5 per cent and added $100,000 to its surplus funds. Mr. Reed succeeds Alexander Murdock, who died several months ago.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

The late strike in the Isabel lode, Caribou mountain, made by the Donald brothers, is immense. Two and one-half feet of ore, showing gray copper, silver glance and native silver, and worth from 400 to 1,700 ounces silver per ton to the value of the strike.

Le Roi is drifting to cut 600 tons of ore body 100 feet wide on its 1,350 foot, or lowest level. It has been more or less generally known that diamond drill exploration in the Le Roi had disclosed ore bodies in the two top levels, but their magnitude and values were known only by the management.

The Kootenay mine is shipping again to the Northport smelter. The Kootenay belongs to the Rossland-Kootenay Company, which also owns the Nickel Plate and Great Western mines. Plans to place all three on an entirely new basis of production and treatment are under advisement.

A sample of ore now occurring in the new ledge on the property of the Utah Queen, Dry canyon, bulk of a most important discovery revealing as much as 50 ounces gold per ton, with 30 per cent copper. With the condition Manager Morris R. Hunt is very much pleased, and while the high grade streak is characteristic, similar make up in shoot property has been known to occur in very large chambers.

At the properties of the United Bingham Mining Company, Bingham, the crosscut of the main tunnel level has forged its way into another fissure, independent of that upon which the management has been drawing for ore with which to discharge the payrolls and while but 12 inches of ore has been exposed the distance between five and six feet between walls. The discovery was made at a point 200 feet below the surface.

WALL STREET MARKET IS NOMINAL AFFAIR

Absence of Selling Pressure and Importations of Gold Were Favorable Considerations.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, Nov. 3.

The Herald this (Tuesday) morning will say: The stock market of yesterday was a purely nominal affair, with business much curtailed, partly as a result of the London stock exchange holiday, partly in consequence of the proximity of today's suspension of business for the election, but chiefly because of the overshadowing uncertainty of the money market. The dealings of the day were entirely professional and the attendance of brokers on the floor and of bankers' clerks in the offices was exceedingly slim. No selling pressure developed, and this was considered highly favorable, in view of the unfavorable bank statement of Saturday. But the effect of the poor showing of bank reserves was neutralized in part by an early sharp decline in sterling exchange and the announcement of an engagement in London of $1,000,000 gold for import. As one result of this, no offering pressure developed, and in consequence the trading element worked for and influenced a higher price on the gold imports.

The London stock exchange was closed for a holiday and there came no stock quotations from abroad or foreign dealings. The market opened dull and with a somewhat heavy tendency, but the bank statement of Saturday brought no heavy selling orders. This, together with the sharp decline of sterling exchange, encouraged traders to work for higher prices on the theory that some outstanding shorts might be forced to cover. The demonstration was carried out under the leadership of the local traction shares, on the "election tip" which was in effect that the election of McClellan as mayor would be a victory for ...nth Ward Houses Bring $24,000, Progress at New Cape May—Ten ...uses for Neville Island—Sales Made ...y Brokers at Various Places.

The residence of Dr. A. G. Mueller, at No. 5700 Bartlett street, Squirrel Hill, has been sold for $25,000. It is reported that the deal was made by Adams, Hemphill & Co., and the buyer is said to be a prominent oil operator, who takes the property for a home. The residence is a 12-room, center hall, brick house and adds the name of D. Ledlie Gloninger. It is one of the eight properties that constitute what is known as "The Colony," the owners having bought two vacant lots and built the houses according to a prearranged plan. Dr. Mueller's lot is 100x200 feet, on the south side of the street, between Wightman street and Murray avenue. About a month ago another of the "Colony" houses belonging to Henry E. Askin, was sold to Alexis C. Phelan.

The sale was also reported yesterday of five more Squirrel Hill houses for a total of nearly $100,000, but the report lacked confirmation and it was learned late in the day that only two of the houses were included in the deal.

Spiritualists Buy a Home.

The First Church of Spiritualists has purchased from Z. Barach the brick church on the west side of Bouquet street, near Forbes street, for $15,000. The New York Realty Company negotiated the sale. The church stands on a lot 51x131 feet and was built four years ago to fit the use of the German Evangelical church which was formerly affiliated with the German church at Smithfield street and Sixth avenue. The former organization has now disbanded and sold its holdings to Mr. Barach about two months ago. The Spiritualists, who have been meeting in a hall down town will take possession at once.

Five houses in the Thirteenth ward changed hands yesterday for $24,000, or $4,800 each. They belonged to Harvey L. H. Francis and were sold to George Lindermann, who takes them for an investment. The houses are all frame dwellings of eight rooms each and occupy a lot 177x100 feet, on the south side of Adelaide street, extending through to Cypress street.

Local Interest in New Cape May.

Pittsburghers are taking an active interest in the immense project of the Cape May Real Estate Company to make ready an ocean re-sort for 7,500 visitors at New Cape May and to provide the only available harbor for yachts between New York and Philadelphia. Peter Shields, president of the company, who has been in charge of the work on the coast for several months, is in the city this week arranging for the finishing of the new Cape May hotel, which was designed by Architect F. J. Osterling of this city. The hotel will be a specimen example of colonial style to be located near Sewell's Point and adjoining the Japanese village, which will be installed on the grounds next summer. Of the 7,500 lots over 2,000 will be ready for building operations. Over 600 of these have been sold since the opening, when the enormous dredging boat, the Pittsburgh, was christened. This boat has a daily capacity of 20,000 cubic yards of earth. The soil which is being taken out and used to fill in the stretch of beach back from the water line is a mixture of muck, sand and gravel, which obviates putting on a top soil as is done in many coast resorts to prevent the dirt blowing away. The new beach will be 12,000 feet long and will offer the best bathing facilities for several miles along that part of the Atlantic coast. The harbor is a land-locked harbor, so that yachts can safely put in through the neck. The popularity of the resort is evidenced by the fact that the lots are owned by people from 12 different states. Doyle & Doak, Philadelphia contractors, are already arranging to build 50 cottages at the resort next spring, and many individuals are preparing to build tasty summer homes.

Improvements on the Island.

The west end of Neville island is looking up in a real estate way, and a number of building projects are contemplated. The largest of these is a bunch of 30 houses which E. C. Kleitman will build this winter at a cost of $30,000. The houses will be built on Grand avenue, 50 feet in front and 150 feet deep. Near this street it is proposed to build a foot bridge eight feet wide to the south side of the river, where the residents now have no way of reaching the city but by the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad. The Graham bolt works, which are being built at a cost of $50,000 and which will employ 100 men, will be finished by January. These, with the American Steel and Wire works, are making a steady demand for houses on the island, and there is not a vacant dwelling to be secured.

Work was started yesterday on drilling a number of test wells on the site of the new building which Henry Phipps will erect at Sixth street and Duquesne way. The foundations of the Bessemer building across the street were sunk to a depth of 35 feet to avoid the quicksand, the piers of the power house in the rear of the Home store building are down 40 feet and the foundation of the new Gayety theater in Duquesne way are down 20 feet. A thorough test of the soil will be made by the drilling to decide how deep the foundations of the new building, which will afford an entrance to the theater, must be.

Coffee and Sugar.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—The market for coffee futures opened steady, with November unchanged, but 5 to 10 points lower otherwise, under liquidation following disappointing early cables and slightly heavier receipts, while the expectation is that the world's visible supply statement due on Wednesday will show a fair increase. The market ruled about steady and fairly active at the initial level during a greater part of the morning, but in the afternoon was weakened by increased offerings and a rather less liberal demand as a result of private Brazilian cables. Steadier, more favorably of the crop. The close was steady, net 10 to 20 points lower. More or less inquiry has been noted from China, and while the majority of bids have been too low for acceptance, certain transactions have been consummated.

CHESTNUT PRICES SEEK LOWER LEVEL

Heavy Receipts of Hay—Butter Quotations Make Another Decline.

With the passing of Hallowe'en there was a weakening in the market for nuts, which resulted in lower prices for chestnuts, the range now being 8 to 10 cents. Apples were not advanced that week, dealers holding their own with out changes of quotations, the demand being steady. Grapes are firmer, although stock is not satisfactory. Bartlett and Duchess pears are about out of the market, and offerings are principally of Kiefers, which are quoted at $3 to $3 50 per barrel. Cranberries are receiving attention now, but prices are unchanged in price. Fancy tomatoes bring $1 to $1 25 per chip, and are steady at these figures. Barrel cabbage is a little higher. Other produce is unchanged, with trade quiet.

Heavy receipts of hay characterized the situation yesterday, but there was no real decline in quotations. No. 1 timothy is active, and the call for this grade is equal to the supply. No. 2 timothy is a good seller, but lower grades are having a hard row to hoe, and sell but slowly. Oats are barely steady as quoted, and ear corn is no more than holding its own. Bran and mill feed is fairly firm as quoted, with supply small.

There are few important changes in grocery prices this week, but the trade yesterday, nearly all staples remaining unchanged except such as were noted in this column yesterday. Navy beans are easy at lower prices. Cereals are lower. Flour is steady at prices of last week, and an active demand rules. Coffee is steadily hardening and there is not much doubt of the coming of a reign of higher prices which will be protected for some time. Refined sugar is steady at the decline of Saturday, with demand slow. Canned goods are unchanged. Corn is so scarce that it is impossible to make much change in quotations. Red raspberries are not to be had, and but little put on the market. Tomatoes continue easy as quoted. Baltimore packers are constantly talking of higher tomato prices, but they have not materialized. The new packing is in sight at present to cause a reaction from the basis now occupied.

Tropical fruits are fairly steady, with demand quiet. Florida grape fruit is commanding $5 a crate and is in good demand. Oranges and lemons remain at quotations of last week.

Poultry is unchanged, opening the week at figures which ruled at the close on Saturday. The belief is that there will not be many turkeys for Thanksgiving day, and that quotations will rule high.

Following the precedent of the last two weeks creamery butter made an advance of a half cent at Elgin yesterday, and local prices were changed accordingly. Chese remains unchanged, and eggs are steady as quoted yesterday morning.

ARMOUR SOLD WHEAT AND MADE PRICES DECLINE

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Both the cash and speculative business in wheat were of extremely dragging nature, and prices showed little inclination to move one way or the other. Continued selling of December by Armour was the only feature to enliven an otherwise dead market and this selling had a depressing influence throughout the day and finally succeeded in forcing prices a trifle lower. The early market was inclined to fluctuate within a very limited scope and steady cables and after opening unchanged to ½c higher at 97¼@98c, December sold up to 81⅝@81¾c, but soon eased off again to the opening price. Toward the noon hour there was another slight upward movement on a decrease of 208,000 bushels in the visible supply compared with an increase last year of over 2,000,000 bushels, but the persistent selling by Armour broke the market down and with a lot-of in the demand from commission houses no rally to new development. Primary receipts were 1,121,100 bushels, against 1,241,300 bushels last year. Minneapolis, Chicago and Duluth reported receipts of 1,115 cars, against 1,050 cars last week, and 1,028 cars a year ago. Corn had a firm undertone all the market was at a decline affair. Local traders were inclined to be bearish, but did not sell much owing to the weather conditions and to reports of small acceptances. The presence of a few buyers from the country had a stimulating effect as did the better tone in cables. Trading was dull and featureless. Local receipts were 500 cars, with 47 of contract grade.

Selling by local traders due to a liberal increase in stocks caused weakness in oats, but the volume of trading was small. Local receipts were 292 cars.

Provisions ruled firm with a fair trade. Decreased stocks at Liverpool and an improved cash demand for lard were built influences. Packers sold pork and ribs through commission houses and those products were called at times, but the strength of lard was a supporting feature. Closing prices were firm, with January pork 70c higher at $13 30; January lard was 7½c higher at $6 87½, and ribs 2½@3c higher at $6 62½.

INSANE EMPRESS ON HER DEATH BED

HER REASON IS DETHRONED

[Special Cable to The Gazette.]

PARIS, Nov. 2.—It is reported from Vienna that Empress Charlotte of Mexico, sister of King Leopold of Belgium and the widow of Maximilian, is dying.

The brief dispatch recalls a story which, though forgotten by most newspaper readers, is one of the saddest, as well as the most remarkable in history.

The happy marriage of Archduke Maximilian of Austria and Charlotte; their little court in Milan, the acceptance of the Mexican crown from Napoleon, the young empress pleading with the French emperor that the French troops be allowed to remain in Mexico, the shooting to death of Maximilian and the loss of Charlotte's mind, all these things are brought to mind by the report of the poor lady's illness.

The empress, born June 8, 1840, is the only daughter of King Leopold I. of the Belgians and his second wife, Princess Louise of Orleans. As a girl she was remarkably lively and high-spirited, and was credited by her father, than whom no one was a better judge, with sufficient brain power and talent for statesmanship to supply several ministers. Although her marriage with the Archduke Maximilian of Austria, second brother of Kaiser Franz Joseph, which took place in 1857, was entirely arranged in the first instance by the courts of Vienna and Brussels, the princess, who was but 17, was entirely satisfied with the choice made for her and she and her fiance soon became mutually attached.

Their Policy Not Approved.

As a wedding present Kaiser Franz Josef bestowed the governorship of Lombardy on his brother, and the young couple, who immediately took up their residence at Milan, were delighted with the almost royal state which surrounded them. Unfortunately, the political ideals of the new governor and his wife did not meet with the approval of the Austrian government. Therefore, Maximilian was removed from his post and retired with the archduchess in deep displeasure to the beautiful castle of Miramare, which had just been built for him.

In 1862 occurred the events which culminated in the tragic death of Maximilian. Under the pretext of Mexico's refusal to repay the loan obtained from France and to avenge the shooting of the French ambassador in the streets of the Mexican capital, Napoleon dispatched an expedition to that country with the result that the city of Mexico surrendered and 216 leading citizens, friendly to France, offered the crown to Napoleon's protege, the Archduke Maximilian. The latter hesitated and would have declined had it not been for Charlotte.

On reaching Mexico a disillusionment awaited Charlotte, for owing to the blockade the rich merchants of Vera Cruz would have nothing to say to any ruler selected by Napoleon. But the warmth of their reception at Puebla consoled them for the want of enthusiasm at Vera Cruz, and Charlotte was so delighted thereat that she wrote a long letter of acknowledgement to the prefect of the town, accompanied by a donation of 25,000 francs to the hospital.

Their Troubles Begin Anew.

What a high opinion Maximilian held of her abilities is shown by his appointing her regent during his tour of several months in the northern provinces. To give proof of their love for the country they adopted the son of the murdered Emperor Augustin Iturbide as their own, they having no children, and desiring that the old dynasty should survive.

Maximilian and the empress imagined Marshal Bazaine, who had recently married a Mexican lady, was plotting to be appointed governor of Mexico and successor to the emperor. It was therefore privately decided that the Empress Charlotte should proceed to Paris and personally request Napoleon to reconsider his decision and induce him to allow the troops to remain, but not under Bazaine's command. Accordingly in 1866 she started on her hopeless mission.

Her advent in the French capital was dispiriting, for at the railway station no court carriages awaited her. Only Mora, the ambassador, was present. Next day she drove to see their majesties at St. Cloud. On reaching the palace she was again wounded by the neglect of the emperor and empress to receive her on the staircase, but disguised her humiliation, and after the suites had been presented, her hosts and she withdrew for a private conference which lasted over an hour.

Humiliated by Napoleon.

What exactly occurred during this interview will probably never transpire, but Countess Del Barrio relates that after Napoleon had declined to accede to Charlotte's request, she heard her unhappy mistress exclaim loudly:

"I ought never to have forgotten what I am and what you are. I ought not to have forgotten that there is Bourbon blood in my veins, and I should not have disgraced my descent so far as to lower myself before a Bonaparte and to have been led away by an adventurer."

On this she fell in a dead faint to the ground and the emperor hastily summoned Countess Del Barrio, who, on entering the room found the Empress Eugenie on her knees beside the unconscious Charlotte, whose temples she was bathing with eau de cologne. The latter speedily recovered and the Empress Eugenie proffered her a glass of water, but Charlotte waived it off, crying excitedly:

"Away, away—poison—murder—you wish to kill me, Manuelita, save me—" With these words she struck the glass out of the hand of the empress and again relapsed into insensibility.

The Empress Eugenie then told the lady in waiting what had happened. Her poor friend had pleaded her case with the greatest eloquence, but owing to the position of affairs Napoleon had been compelled to turn a deaf ear to her prayers upon which Charlotte's indignation overcame her and she fainted.

Defies Vatican Rules.

Soon after Charlotte departed for Switzerland, where her physician had recommended her to stay. There quiet and rest apparently restored her to health, but the improvement was of short duration. The attacks becoming more frequent the idea of remaining in Switzerland was abandoned, particularly as she displayed an overpowering desire to remove to Rome in order to place herself under the protection of the pope. Once there, she refused total audiences concerning the rules of the papal court and insisted on appearing before the pope wearing a bonnet instead of the obligatory veil. Pius IX. was visibly astonished to behold Charlotte thus attired, but detecting at a glance the clouded state of her brain he bestowed the papal blessing upon her with marked fervor and tenderness.

The pope sent for Cardinal Antonelli and Dr. Seneleder and both tried in vain to induce the empress to leave the vatican, but she declined, persisting that assassins awaited her outside. She spent the entire day there examining the collection of miniatures and at nightfall still refused to depart, insisting that she and her suite must remain there until morning. In order not to excite her the pope yielded to this almost unheard-of demand and had two beds for Charlotte and Countess del Barrio placed in the library. The following day, by means of considerable diplomacy, the empress was induced to leave the vatican.

Placed in Straightjacket.

On arriving at her hotel she offered such determined opposition that it took six persons to lift her out and carry her to her apartments. At length it was found necessary to place her in a strait waistcoat. The Archduke Karl Ludwig of Austria caused her to be removed to Miramare and here again a fleeting improvement showed itself. The empress, who still clung to her imperial rank, sent for her 14-year-old adopted son, Prince Iturbide, who, by her wish, was being educated in Europe, and gave a gala banquet in his honor. That was poor Charlotte's last responsible act.

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT MINISTERS' MEETINGS

Variety of Subjects Discussed and Plans Laid Out for Future Work.

The attendance at the ministerial association weekly meetings yesterday was large, and many interesting papers were discussed. "A study of Hamlet," was the topic of the Rev. B. R. McHatton's paper before the Presbyterian ministers. On the 19th of this month the Presbyterian ministers will meet in the Concord church for a quiet session and retreat. The Rev. S. Edward Young will speak on November 19 in the Garrick theater, Philadelphia, at the services which are being held for men.

The Rev. S. F. Crowther discussed "The Pastor Then and Now" before the gathering of Methodist Protestant ministers. D. G. G. Shepherd of Washington, Pa., Dr. I. A. Barnes and the Rev. R. J. Young of Pittsburgh were appointed to make arrangements for the annual banquet of ministers and their wives, which will be held in the near future in Pittsburgh.

"Some Thoughts on the Miracles of Christ" was discussed by the Rev. Daniel Rochester, Jr., D. D., before the Methodist Episcopal ministers.

A general evangelistic campaign lasting two weeks and followed by the efforts of the individual churches was recommended at the meeting of Lutheran ministers. The Rev. W. I. Guff of Duquesne spoke on the "Reformation Principles Applied to the Present Time."

Representatives from the Lutheran churches of this county will meet in the First church in Grant street tonight and discuss the revision and regarding of the Sunday school lessons of the Lutheran Sunday schools.

The United Presbyterian ministers adjourned after a session of prayer. No paper was read as the Rev. J. B. McIsaac was absent.

The Rev. J. S. Blayney, pastor of the Glenfield Presbyterian church of the Allegheny Presbytery, has accepted a call to the church at Wilcox, Pa., in the Clarion Presbytery.

The annual meeting of the Shady avenue Baptist Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Society will be held tomorrow evening in the church parlors, Shady avenue near Penn.

SYMPATHY FOR FRAU MOMMSEN

TRIBUTE TO HIS ATTAINMENTS

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

BERLIN, Nov. 2.—The funeral of Prof. Mommsen, who died at Charlottenburg yesterday, probably will not be held before Thursday, as several of the cabinet ministers who will be present must attend the opening of the academy at Posen on Wednesday. Emperor William has sent Frau Mommsen the following letter:

NEW PALACE, POTSDAM, Nov. 1, 1903.

"To Frau Prof. Dr. Mommsen, Charlottenburg:

"I am painfully touched by the announcement of the decease of your husband. I express hearty sympathy with you and the other members of the family of the departed. May the Lord God comfort you in your sore affliction. The entire civilized world shares in your loss, since it loses in the deceased its greatest humanistic scholar, master of Roman historic research and the unexcelled organizer of scientific enterprises.

"What brought the departed particularly close to me was his investigation of the limes of the Roman camp. In grateful recognition of his work in this direction I had some time ago ordered that a marble bust of the historian be prepared by an artist and set up at Saalburg. I intended in this way to give him pleasure upon his approaching 60th anniversary of taking his doctor's degree. Through God's decree he did not survive to see that day, but his bust will transmit to posterity the features of this unusual man whose name will evermore fill a page of honor in the history of German science.

Chancellor Von Buelow telegraphed to Frau Mommsen the most sincere sympathies of himself and Countess von Buelow, adding:

"The university of his intellectual life, his participation in and his struggles with the thoughts of his time, and the preservation of his youthful, fiery courage in the struggle of his convictions place the noble dead in the circle of those we call great Europeans and rejoice to do reverence to, as the forerunners of a richer future."

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Nov. 2.—(Special.)—Frank P. Johnson, owner of the Tidewater Trap Rock Company of East Haven, died today from injuries and exposure, having fallen from his bicycle over East Rock, where he hung over a 200-foot precipice by one arm and a shred of his coat for 12 hours. When Johnson was discovered, policemen formed a human life line until they were able to reach the unconscious man and draw him up.

The man was muttering in delirium when rescued. He was taken to the station house, and when consciousness was restored said: "I started to ride down the rock on my bicycle. From that time until my arrival at the station house I cannot remember a thing."

He stoutly denied that he had any intention of committing suicide. The ledge over which Johnson went is the same which Edward Ford, the Yale junior, fell from and was killed last February.

Durand's Successor Appointed.

LONDON, Nov. 2.—Sir Edwin H. Egerton, British minister at Athens, has been appointed British ambassador at Madrid in succession to Sir Henry Mortimer Durand, recently appointed British ambassador at Washington.
